What our customers say ...

“With Statista, I immediately get to analysing data, as opposed to searching for it for hours on end. The search function and the user-friendly interface make it particularly appealing - I’m thankful I had Statista to complement my university studies.

Jay Pinho, Student at Columbia University

“This is the best product and presentation I have ever seen in this context.

Anselm Nye, Collections Manager at Queen Mary University London

“Statista’s interface is elegant and incredibly user-friendly... Institutions that purchase this product will quickly find it becoming the number one source for reference questions beginning ‘I need statistics on ...

Priscilla Choi, Student at Stanford University

“Offering a mind-bending array of statistics that are international in scope, ... there really is nothing else out there like Statista. It is intuitive and straightforward and many of the statistics are easily downloadable. The database makes statistics fun, and how often do we get a chance to say that?
