

Privacy Policy

Welcome to Seaside's website! At Seaside, we are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. This policy explains when and why we collect personal information, how we use it, the conditions under which we disclose it to third parties, and how we secure it.

Collection of Personal Information

We may collect personal information when you use our website, such as when you fill out forms, create an account, or communicate with us. The information we collect may include your name, email address, phone number, postal address, and other personal data necessary for providing our services.

Use of Personal Information

We use your personal information to provide real estate services, process your requests, personalize your experience, and improve our site. We may also use this information to send you marketing communications if you have consented to receive them.

Disclosure to Third Parties

We only disclose your personal information to third parties in the provision of real estate services or as required by law. We ensure that your information is treated with confidentiality and security.

Security of Personal Information

We implement security measures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or unauthorized destruction.

Your Rights

You have the right to access, correct, delete, or limit the use of your personal information. You can also object to the processing of your data for marketing purposes.
