Quoting Head Coach Amy Bond

"While it was disappointing for our team to fall short of realizing our ultimate goal of playing in the national championship finals, this year was a success for our program. We improved our team average by five strokes and each of our veteran players improved their individual scoring average. We had nine different players earn their way into the starting line-up and we achieved numerous individual accomplishments.

"We finished the year (2014-15) ranked 29th nationally and return four of our five starters for next year's team. We have a lot of optimism as we begin to focus on the upcoming season.

"Lydia Gumm was named to the All-ACC team for the first time in her career, we led the ACC with six players named to the ACC All-Academic Team and we had three players named to the WGCA All-American Scholar Athlete team.

"We have a relatively young but experienced group of players returning for the 2015-16 season. This group of girls has a tremendous opportunity ahead of them during the upcoming season and for years to come. This group has a real opportunity to become a special team. I am really looking forward to a quick summer and the arrival of our girls back to campus so we can continue our preparations for the upcoming season."
