GOOD.™

The Wildlife Center of Silicon Valley (WCSV) is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization serving all Santa Clara County and surrounding communities since 1993, providing free, high-quality care, rehabilitation, and opportunity for release to sick, injured and orphaned wildlife. Through community outreach, we foster a positive co-existence between the general public and wildlife, and encourage an interest in, and concern for wildlife conservation issues. Through the dedication of over 200 volunteers and a small staff of 8, we care for over 5,500 birds, mammals, and reptiles from over 150 species each year.
