In ancient mass graves, archaeologists find child slaves of biblical Egypt

New findings at Amarna, the capital of an eccentric 'monotheistic' king, indicate a disposable juvenile labor force. Could there be a connection to the Hebrews?

In Ancient Mass Grave, archaeologist find slaves of biblical Egypt

(June 9, 2017)

Almost all the skeletons we exhumed were immature; children, teenagers and young adults,...

Initial analysis concluded that the remains were of youths aged 7-25, the bulk of whom are thought to have been under 15 when they died. Additionally, wrote Shepperson, the majority of 15- to 25-year-olds had suffered some kind of traumatic injury, and 16 percent of the under-15-year-olds were found to have spinal fractures and other injuries usually associated with heavy workloads.

“Essentially, this is a burial place for adolescents,”
