

SEPTEMBER 2025 QUARTERLY REPORT

NGX Limited (ASX: NGX) (“NGX” or “Company”) is pleased to present its Quarterly Report for the period ending 30 September 2025. The Company is developing a portfolio of minerals critical to the clean energy transition.

HIGHLIGHTS

Natural Graphite – Mine Pre-Development

- NGX continued to assess Malingunde’s development pathway and technical studies, targeting a scalable operation leveraging the project’s significant advantages, being saprolite-hosted graphite. Studies and work programs include upstream optimisation work intended to support precursor Active Anode Material (AAM) production
- The Company is investigating the known high-grade titanium mineralisation across Malingunde and its other regional projects, Msinja and Lifidzi. During the quarter, NGX commenced the planning of an exploration program to test the extent of high-grade titanium across all three licences in the December quarter
- NGX acknowledges the recent Executive Order by President Peter Mutharika prohibiting the export of unprocessed raw minerals. This ban does not apply to the Malingunde Graphite Project, as all planned production will be processed in Malawi. The Company intends to produce a run-of-mine graphite concentrate that will be refined in-country to +96% Total Graphitic Carbon (TGC), targeting key markets including batteries and refractories. NGX continues to work closely with the Government of Malawi and the Mines Department on the project’s development

Natural Graphite – Product Qualification & Downstream

- Ongoing engagement with multiple customers to explore opportunities for strategic partnerships, future sales and offtake agreements
- During the quarter, United States Commerce Department imposed preliminary anti-dumping duties of 93.5% on anode-grade graphite imported from China (the dominant producer)

Uranium Exploration Projects in Namibia

- The permitting progress continued for both the EPL9629 application (Tubusis) and EPL9921 (Rossingburg).
- Additional consents requested by the Ministry of Environment, Forestry and Tourism (MEFT) were received and submitted for Tubusis’ Environmental Clearance Certificate (ECC) which is pending final approval

Corporate & Business Development

- NGX is in a strong financial position with cash at bank of approximately $3.3 million and no debt as at 30 September 2025
- During the quarter, the Company assessed and is developing further opportunities in the clean energy space and other critical minerals to expand and complement its current portfolio

NATURAL GRAPHITE

NGX continued technical studies aimed at defining the most effective development pathway for the Malingunde Project. The revised development pathway is designed to leverage Malingunde’s saprolite-advantage, which offers significant benefits such as easier extraction, processing, higher purity, low sulphur content and reduced environmental footprint of the integrated production of AAM. The work includes a revised mining plan, updated processing plan, dry stacked tailings strategy, as well as an updated Environmental & Social Impact Assessment (ESIA) plan.

The Company is investigating the known high-grade titanium mineralisation across Malingunde and its other regional projects, Msinja and Lifidzi. Initial work was completed by the previous owners Sovereign Metals Limited, where Sovereign confirmed the presence of high-grade titanium and its potential to be a by-product in the operation. During the quarter, NGX commenced the planning of an exploration program across all three licences in the December quarter.

Malingunde is considered to be one of the best undeveloped sources of natural graphite in south-eastern Africa, an emerging region for an alternative supply away from the market-dominant China.

The Project displays competitive advantages compared to other undeveloped peers, with highlights presented below:

For personal use only

 FLEXIBILITY No front-end crushing or grinding, providing flexible development opportunity and lower capital	 SCALABILITY Fully modular to grow at pace of the market and qualification process	 RESOURCE BASE Significant resource base allowing for substantial upside and continuous growth
 LOW WASTE Ore easily accessible with mineralisation from surface with a low waste profile	 HIGH-PURITY High-purity, low sulphur concentrate with high recoveries	 MARKETABLE PRODUCT Excellent CPSG characteristics resulting in an attractively marketable product

The Company is focused on leveraging off Malingunde’s known superior graphite concentrate characteristics (high-grade and low impurities) and its low-cost profile to maximise value. A qualification program is underway to produce Active Anode Material (AAM) for distribution to major end-users including OEMs and battery manufacturers.

During the quarter, NGX continued advancements of AAM production as part of the Company’s qualification program to qualify concentrate from Malingunde for use in lithium-ion batteries. The pre-qualification program focuses on developing and assessing AAM production technologies across the three principal processes for producing Coated Purified Spheronised Graphite (CPSG): shaping, purification, and coating.

NGX has been working closely with leading Anode companies to understand the market and product quality requirements of end users. NGX has distributed large samples of Malingunde's product for product assessment and qualification by these industry leaders. This dialogue is continuing and during the quarter, NGX conducted site visits in Malawi with potential partners, showcasing the projects and superior supporting infrastructure.

The qualification program and customer engagement are part of the pre-qualification process and support discussions with end-users, including OEMs and major battery manufacturers. It also helps the Company identify and collaborate with technology partners to accelerate development and shape future downstream strategy, while creating opportunities for strategic partnerships, future sales and potential offtake agreements.

Effective 8 November 2025, China will impose further export restrictions on export restrictions on lithium batteries, cathode materials and graphite anode materials. The Chinese Ministry of Commerce (MOFCOM) announced on 9 October 2025, tightened controls on exports of high-performance lithium-ion batteries, specialised manufacturing equipment and critical battery materials. The controls extend to artificial graphite anode materials and mixtures of artificial and natural graphite, along with equipment for producing these materials. These imposed export restrictions are in addition to the measures previously imposed in December 2023.

These controls are expected to tighten the global supply of processed graphite and related battery materials, particularly for overseas consumers reliant on the Chinese supply.

In July 2025, the US Commerce Department imposed substantial preliminary anti-dumping (AD) tariffs of 93.5% on imports of Chinese graphite-based active anode material (AAM), which includes AAM within finished lithium-ion batteries. The effective tariff rate is 160% when combined with previously announced tariffs. China dominates global graphite production and processing (accounting for roughly 95% of global anode production and two-thirds of US graphite imports in 2023) and has also implemented its own export controls on graphite. This developing situation creates significant opportunities for graphite producers outside of China, like NGX.

NGX notes recent reports from Malawi's leadership regarding restrictions on the export of raw minerals. The Company operates in full compliance with local laws, including Executive Order No. 2 of 2025, Section 3, which exempts minerals processed, refined, or value-added in Malawi. NGX has already outlined its beneficiation plans for the Malingunde Graphite Project, where graphite ore will be processed into concentrate before export — the highest level of beneficiation currently feasible in-country. The Company is also exploring the option of shaping the material prior to export, but is in the initial stages of assessing this option.

NGX views the Government's policy as a positive step for Malawi's mining sector and continues to engage constructively with authorities. Importantly, these developments have no impact on current activities at Malingunde, with NGX remaining fully compliant with its exploration, environmental, and community obligations.

NGX holds two earn-in joint venture agreements to acquire the Tubusis and Rossingburg uranium exploration project applications in Namibia. Both EPLs are located in the Erongo Region of Namibia, one of the world's best-known uranium districts with multiple operating mines in the area.

During the quarter, NGX continued to monitor the permitting process for both applications. For the Tubusis project, additional consents were requested by the Ministry of Environment, Forestry and Tourism (MEFT), which were received and submitted to complete the Environmental Clearance Certificate (ECC), which is pending final approval.

CORPORATE

NGX is in a strong financial position with cash at bank of approximately $3.3 million and no debt as at 30 September 2025.

During the quarter, the Company assessed and is developing further opportunities in the clean energy space and other critical minerals to expand and complement its current portfolio.
