Letter to Shareholders

Fellow Shareholders,

I am pleased to share the results of Objective's performance for the financial year 2025 (FY2025), demonstrating the continued strength of the business model that we have built. Equally, it has been very encouraging to witness all the foundations being laid to give our customers new opportunities for success.

August marked 25 years since Objective listed on the ASX. As I pause to reflect on all we've achieved, the moments that shine most brightly are those working with the amazingly talented people who've contributed to our success along the way – some of whom I am privileged to still work alongside today. Our people care deeply about delivering on our mission, to deliver outstanding GovTech that helps our public sector customers build stronger communities and nations. And their commitment to this north star ensures we fulfil this promise as we help our customers navigate the emerging opportunities presented by artificial intelligence (AI), balanced with the responsibilities and obligations of government and regulated organisations to respect and protect often highly confidential, sensitive or private information, and where human judgement matters.

Tony Walls
CEO, Objective
Corporation

In 2000 when we listed, we had just signed the Australian Department of Defence as a customer. Today, the number of Objective users at Defence exceeds 130,000 and the department continues to invest in our solutions to manage and protect their vast stores of information and to utilise it in their complex and highly secured environment in locations world-wide. As we enter FY2026, we now have over 2,000 customers globally across all levels of government and regulated industries, many of whom have been working in partnership with us for more than a decade and in many cases more than two decades.

Since the very first day of Objective, we have maintained discipline in the allocation of capital, but always with a view to creating customer experiences that will deliver enduring value. At the core of this, are the great software products we produce from the significant investment we make in research and development (R&D) each year. In FY2025, we again invested 30% of software revenue into R&D placing us proudly amongst global industry leaders in our commitment to innovation. Over the past four years alone we have invested $112m in R&D, representing 57% growth in our all-time investment since listing on the ASX. It enables us to attract the best and brightest talent to join us at Objective, who collaborate to deliver a regular cadence of new capabilities and innovations for customers.

In FY2025, this investment in R&D was accompanied by increased investment in sales and marketing and a continuation of our M&A program which together, drove annualised recurring revenue (ARR) growth to 15.1%. As I've highlighted in previous letters, we are focused not just on growth alone, but profitable growth, and I am pleased that the FY2025 adjusted EBITDA margin was 39%. We also increased the proportion of subscription revenue to 84% of total revenue.

AI IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR; TRUST MATTERS

Our customers include councils and planning authorities setting the standards for our built environments; the public sector that delivers the services our communities and nations rely upon; they are the institutions that uphold peace, justice and the law; the companies that manage our wealth ethically and responsibly; they are the agencies that protect our national security, our safety, and our livelihoods.

One of the favourite parts of my role is talking to the people in these organisations who share a common desire to embrace the opportunities new technology, particularly AI, presents. The potential for automating monotonous administrative work, enhancing research with curated data sets, or accelerating report and content generation is just the beginning of where they see AI helping them to deliver better outcomes for their communities. But the nature of the regulatory environment in which they operate, together with the trust placed in them by society, means these organisations need to be supremely careful with sensitive information.

In FY2025, we invested a further $31m into our R&D program and, in addition to incorporating new AI functionality, we released innovations across the full product portfolio.”

Tony Walls

CEO, Objective Corporation

Governance, auditability, security and trust are the pillars of our promise to customers. They are the guiding principles for our product design, and this does not change as we expand the use of AI through our solutions.

Our framework for embedding AI in our products, together with the specific capabilities we've developed (and the many more on our roadmaps) enables the public sector and regulated industries to embrace AI while applying the transparency, security, and human judgment we expect from them.

We are beyond the conversations of the potential of AI, and actively working with customers to bring their ambitions to life – where AI is used to support their work and elevate their expertise, not replace it. And best of all, we're invigorated as a team to meet our customers' enthusiasm for innovation across so many areas.

A centralised framework: Objective Intelligence

At the heart of our innovation strategy is Objective Intelligence (OI), a capability to leverage AI technologies across the full portfolio of Objective solutions.

For our customers, OI is a flexible, secure, and customisable environment that provides choice and control. Customers can choose from multiple AI models – commercial, open-source, or custom-built – but importantly, it can be deployed on-premise or in private clouds; customers retain control over their infrastructure and the data sources input to the models ensuring accurate, high-quality outputs.

For our ongoing development program, it's all about a reusable, repeatable and scalable framework. OI spans our complete product portfolio, enabling any product to rapidly incorporate developments in another product.

Providing customers with solutions, not just agents

While some customers are seeking the tools to trial AI for themselves, at Objective we hit our sweet spot when we play to our differentiator, leveraging our unparalleled domain expertise to deliver products that solve real, daily challenges our customers face. For example:

- Local government – within Objective Build, AI is assisting overworked planning departments assess development, without sacrificing safety, transparency or public trust. Capabilities designed to work with planners, not around them, include instantly surfacing relevant planning precedents, automatically summarising submissions, and generating first-draft reports on-demand. It helps planners assess applications more consistently, with accuracy; ultimately resulting in faster approvals. Councils face enormous public scrutiny in the role they play in the housing supply issues; faster approvals allow them to address this challenge head on.

- State and federal government departments – these customers have massive volumes of unstructured information, in many different formats, siloed across multiple systems. In conjunction with Microsoft Copilot we're helping these organisations reach the information that lies beyond the Microsoft ecosystem, to know what exists, to enhance and augment the information before it's consumed by the large language models (LLMs). It provides a level of reassurance that quality information is going in, resulting in quality outputs they can rely on. For some customers, stringent security requirements mean Copilot is not an option, OI can be provided in a completely private environment, delivering them the benefits of AI in a safe space.
- Regulators – often face overwhelming surges in enquiry volumes when regulatory change is implemented. Using the retrieval augmented generation (RAG) capability from OI, Objective RegWorks' chat bot conducts intelligent conversations with the members of the public, drawing on the specific applications of the regulation or legislation and the context of their questions.

DELIVERING ON OUR ORGANIC OPPORTUNITIES

Objective's flywheel of innovation is driven by a disciplined focus on balancing revenue growth and profit margin to deliver strong profitability and free cashflow, providing us with the means to re-invest. We have an expanding portfolio of organic growth drivers that will deliver a high return on the investment we make in them. Over FY2025, we have taken the opportunity to hire high-calibre executives in sales, marketing, services and technical roles, bolstering our capacity and skillset to execute on these opportunities.

Innovation at our core

In FY2025, we invested a further $31m into our R&D program and, in addition to incorporating new AI functionality, we released innovations across the full product portfolio.

- Content Solutions – We deepened the integration between the products in this portfolio to meet our customers' evolving data management requirements and to unify their engagement with our products to govern information wherever it resides and leverage information more intelligently; readying them to embrace the next wave of AI.
- Regulatory Solutions – The new version of Objective RegWorks released this year, incorporates significant advancements in functionality for the delivery of data-driven regulation in the community. We also evolved the Accelerator delivery model, that embeds best-practice workflows for common regulatory functions, and improves time-to-value for customers.
- Planning & Building Solutions – In Planning & Building we continued to expand the capability of the platform, investing in functionality to meet the complex requirements of larger metro councils and the new challenges presented by markets outside of New Zealand.

Innovation across our product suite is enhanced by advancements we continue to make in how the Objective Design Language (ODL) is applied across the user experience of all products, creating a platform for users to address different use cases across their organisation. As we harmonise the user experience, we also leverage common components and methodologies across products, accelerating the time to develop and release new functionality to our customers.

- Objective's Global VP for Planning & Building Solutions, Andrea Breen (left) launched Objective Build in Australia at the Planning Institute of Australia's annual conference.

We also increased our presence in North America during FY2025, adding additional marketing and sales capacity to drive direct sales opportunities and to further leverage existing partner relationships. Our operations in North America now have a sufficient scale to support the immediate opportunities and we will look for further demonstration of the market potential before materially increasing this investment.

Implement faster; deliver value sooner

Reducing time-to-value for our customers remains a permanent focus. The long-term return of subscription revenue together with customer goodwill far outweighs the contribution of any one-off services projects. As our investments in innovation and go-to-market capacity create more customer opportunities, we are getting our customers to go-live status sooner, with a fixed level of implementation resources.

Demonstrating the progress on this initiative, we released and utilised the Accelerator offering for RegWorks across multiple customers through FY2025. Accelerator solutions are pre-configured and optimised workflows for regulatory applications such as registration and compliance that leverage our domain expertise and motivation to see best-practice regulation implemented across all customers.

We have also been able to identify opportunities where we can automate parts of the implementation process by utilising tools within our own product portfolio, such as Objective 3Sixty. As NZ council customers continue to migrate from GoGet to Objective Build, we have reduced migration times materially by using the capabilities in Objective 3Sixty to migrate building consent data and supporting documents.

WELCOME TO ISOVIST

We are excited to welcome the Isovist team to Objective. Isovist is a specialist provider of e-planning software for local government that transforms planning from a static document-based process to a dynamic digital solution. The Isovist team further enhances the domain expertise that Objective has already built in planning and building. The acquisition provides us with an exciting opportunity to not only expand the market for the Isovist platform throughout the Objective local council customer base in Australia and New Zealand, but also to accelerate the delivery of artificial intelligence (AI) capabilities to further transform the planning and development process.

New markets, more opportunities

In May, we proudly launched Objective Build to the Australian market at the Planning Institute of Australia's (PIA) annual convention in Darwin. Leveraging the platform which has seen strong take up by councils in NZ, we are enhancing the Objective Build solution to specifically meet Australian planning regulations. We've worked hand in hand with six Australian councils as foundation customers, shaping and iterating Objective Build to be fit for purpose and ready for this market, including integration into the NSW Planning Portal. Delegates at the PIA conference echoed the enthusiasm our foundation customers have shown for a planning approvals platform designed specifically for councils to support faster and fairer planning decisions.

We continue to expand our presence in the UK market as we introduce new capabilities that can leverage the deep trust we have built amongst public sector customers. During FY2025, the Scottish Government (SG) committed to transition to our Objective Nexus cloud platform. SG delivers services to more than 5 million people and is our second largest customer with 18,000 users. The trust shown in Objective by this high-profile, long-term customer complements and extends on the go-to-market activity we've undertaken to build a strong position in the UK market for Objective RegWorks.

Our global platform provides us with multiple paths to grow business, particularly in a world with an increasing focus on sovereign data governance. The deep domain expertise of the people within each line of business is enhanced by the trust built in the Objective brand for over 25 years and this allows us to continue to focus on our organic growth.”

OUTLOOK

We head into FY2026 with a strong tailwind behind us. After delivering 15.1% ARR growth in FY2025, we continue to target ARR growth of 15% in FY2026 and profit growth above that level.

The permanent demand drivers that are propelling the GovTech market are still in their early stages, and we have a portfolio of products that deliver exceptional value to customers by solving some of their most complex problems, including the future with AI. We have a strong and resilient business model and a balance sheet that offers us the flexibility to invest wherever we see the best opportunities for returns.

Our global platform provides us with multiple paths to grow business, particularly in a world with an increasing focus on sovereign data governance. The deep domain expertise of the people within each line of business is enhanced by the trust built in the Objective brand for over 25 years and this allows us to continue to focus on our organic growth. As always, we are looking to augment the organic growth opportunities by identifying companies, like Isovist, that align to our strategic plan and see their future with Objective. M&A is a permanent strategic pillar of our business plans, but the opportunities do not arise neatly within each reporting period. Our commitment to shareholders is to stay disciplined until the right opportunities arise and acquire those businesses at a price that allows them to offer similar returns to organic options.

Having just brought the entire company together for Activate, our annual kick-off event, we're united and highly engaged in what we need to achieve in the year ahead. Being named as one of Australia's Best Workplaces in Technology™ 2025, I feel the huge amount of energy and enthusiasm in our team to deliver on our goals for FY2026.

It's a privilege to collaborate with so many incredible people on projects that deliver meaningful outcomes. I see us living and celebrating our values constantly and I am extremely proud of the culture that defines our company.

In FY2025, revenue in our Content Solutions business increased by 4% to $83.4 million (FY2024: $80.3 million). Closing ARR at 30 June 2025 increased by 12% to $85.1 million over the balance at 30 June 2024 ($76.1 million).

A key milestone was achieved with Scottish Government committing to migrate from on-premise to the cloud with Objective Nexus. Scottish Government is our second-largest Content Solutions customer, serving over 18,500 users. The overall Nexus customer base extended to 20, with a high representation of our largest customers, providing powerful reference points for the remaining on-premise customers to transition to Objective Nexus – our next generation cloud-based SaaS platform that provides records compliance, enterprise scale information management and process automation.

Our innovation program has transitioned to a cloud-first focus when enhancing the capabilities of the Nexus platform, with some replication into the on-premise versions. Key advancements during FY2025 included highly developed integration capabilities that enable seamless data lookup and enhanced user experience in embedded document co-authoring, extending our frictionless governance frameworks. We have also leveraged the advanced migration capabilities of Objective 3Sixty to accelerate customers' transitions from on-premise to cloud, reducing the timelines to go-live for Nexus customers.

In FY2025, Objective 3Sixty further evolved as a federated governance solution providing a single control pane for disparate data sources, delivering new capabilities for customers to transform, protect, curate and federate data across the organisation. The platform is deployed within customer sites globally and during FY2025, we welcomed new customers such as Goulburn Murray Water, UK Research and Innovation, Leonardo (a European defence contractor) and the County of San Diego.

Objective 3Sixty deepened AI capabilities through integration into Objective Intelligence (OI) and Microsoft Copilot, providing curated datasets for users that enhanced search relevance and retrieval augmented generation (RAG) results whilst meeting rigorous privacy standards. 3Sixty's ability to automate and vastly accelerate information management tasks was demonstrated by the release of an Objective Redact solution within 3Sixty to deliver the ability for customers to locate and remove Personally Identifiable Information (PII) across their datasets.

During FY2025, Objective Connect secured new clients such as Office of Advocate General for Scotland; Australian Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water; Queensland Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services. Our investment in innovation delivered enhanced security functionality, bilingual workspaces to support customers in Wales and New Zealand, tools to assist customers managing large workspaces and integration with a broader portfolio of business systems to expand use cases for Objective Connect.

Objective Keystone extended its position within the financial services sector, adding Hostplus, Macquarie Investments and Mercer Investments to its portfolio of Australian Superannuation funds. We further enhanced Objective Keystone to extend the use cases for these customers to include ESG Disclosure and Fund Reporting. With use cases demonstrating a 30% timesaving in disclosure reporting tasks, Product Disclosure specialists increasingly require specific Objective Keystone expertise to find roles with the industry. To support these professionals, during FY2025, we launched the Keystone Mastery program to build and demonstrate proficiency in the use of the product.

For our local government customers, Objective Keyplan released new AI capabilities for public consultation management and, in collaboration with customers such as Cheshire West and Chester in the UK, Geographical Information System (GIS) features that support central government initiatives to solve housing shortages through identification of sites for development.

In FY2025, revenue in our Planning & Building business increased by 6% to $13.1 million (FY2024: $12.3 million). Closing ARR at 30 June 2025 increased by 31% to $18.2 million over the balance at 30 June 2024 ($14.0 million).

Objective Build launched in Australia to more than 380 planning professionals at the Planners Institute of Australia's annual convention. Developed in close consultation with six NSW metro councils, the Objective Build platform has been integrated into the NSW planning portal and will be available to deploy in 2HY2026. Operating under a different regulatory system to New Zealand, R&D investment in Objective Build for Australia has been channelled into meeting these market-specific challenges, and the associated state variations. As a modern alternative to lightweight, outdated systems and fragmented processes, Objective Build is uniquely positioned as the only purpose-built solution for assessing and approving development applications.

In New Zealand, building consent volumes in FY2025 moderated marginally over FY2024 volumes and are approximately 20% below FY2023 levels. Building Consent Authorities that represent more than 50% of the country's consent applications already use Objective's products to process building consents and Objective is focused on developing a whole of New Zealand capable platform that will accelerate the approval of building applications as the housing crisis is addressed through higher building volumes. As a national platform, Objective Build will also facilitate the collation of consolidated data that can be used to improve building efficiency and quality.

R&D investment focused on requirements of the large New Zealand metro councils such as AI powered checks to reduce vetting time for planners and new capability for inspections to be conducted remotely, reducing the time inspectors spend on the road. The Build Inspection app is now adopted by more than 80% of Objective customers in New Zealand, greatly improving the productivity of individual inspectors and accelerating building completion times for owners and developers.

29 New Zealand councils are live on Objective Build. From 30 June 2025, all customers in New Zealand have moved to an aligned pricing model for building consents processed through Objective solutions. During FY2025, we communicated a sunset date of 30 June 2026 for the GoGet product and all customers will have moved onto an alternative solution by this date. Objective has invested in processes and tooling to accelerate the migration project for GoGet customers, including the utilisation of Objective 3Sixty to reduce migration times by up to 70%.

Objective Trapeze again demonstrated its enduring value to more than 280 local government customers across Australia and New Zealand, with 50 expansion and new customer wins during FY2025. Aligned to customers' demands for faster assessments, use of the platform outside of planning departments and better collaboration across council teams, we released new functionality that included advanced PDF editing features, real time collaborative review functionality for teams across council and AI-generated plan comparison summaries that extends existing computer vision capability.

In FY2025, revenue in our Regulatory Solutions business increased by 6% to $23.6 million (FY2024: $22.2 million). Closing ARR at 30 June 2025 increased by 17% to $16.9 million over the balance at 30 June 2024 ($14.4 million).

Objective RegWorks was selected as the SaaS platform by the Department of Local Government, Industry Regulation and Safety (LGIRS), the largest regulator in Western Australia and an existing Objective Content Solutions customer. Objective RegWorks will be the platform to deliver its new Compliance and Regulation System (CARS) as part of a digital transformation to improve the regulation of workplace health and safety across WA. Objective RegWorks extended its market presence in New Zealand; with the Ministry for Primary Industries going live with its Fisheries Observer platform for monitoring fishing vessels' compliance at sea, and an expansion in the NZ Police Firearm Registry to include the regulation of ammunition sales.

We expanded go-to-market capacity for Objective RegWorks through additional sales and marketing resources globally. We continued to invest in growth throughout the year, hosting 270 regulators, policymakers, and regulatory practitioners at the UK Institute of Regulators conference further reinforcing Objective's deep domain expertise and building upon the foothold from our first UK customer, the Gambling Commission. We also launched The Modern Regulator – a digital publication dedicated to examining the changing nature of regulation and the people, processes and technologies shaping it.

Investment in Objective RegWorks was targeted towards RegWorks v7, a significant advancement in the market-leading platform built specifically for regulators. RegWorks v7 delivered in-app scripting for user driven automation of business logic and complex calculations in the platform, major dashboard enhancements to support data-driven decision-making and GIS tools to support location based regulatory analysis, assessments and planning. During FY2025, we also delivered enhancements to the NSW Transport Safety platform to facilitate the rollout of new safety enforcement initiatives for light vehicles.

Two customers went live in FY2025 with a RegWorks Accelerator package, the Victorian Social Services Regulator and NZ Physiotherapy Board. Further enhancements to the RegWorks Accelerator offering were released, improving time-to-value for customers and reducing life-time cost of ownership. Our pre-built Accelerator packages are a strong differentiator against competitor platforms which require bespoke implementations at every site. The development of Accelerator packages, leveraging our deep domain expertise and feedback received during customer implementations, allows us to deliver projects more rapidly and implement best-practice regulation across different jurisdictions.

Continued technical investment in Objective RegWorks increased the scalability and ease of implementation of the platform, allowing us to focus on increasingly larger enterprise opportunities, including those that will be delivered by partners. These innovations have also facilitated the transition of existing customers to more efficient delivery models, improving the cloud hosting requirements, delivering more effective support and seamless upgrades throughout the customer lifecycle.

Sustainability Report

Objective is committed to operating with integrity and making a positive impact for our people, customers, community and planet.

Personal use only

Environment

Objective is passionate about the role we play in addressing climate change and protecting natural resources. As a software company, our direct environmental footprint is small when compared with other industries, but our responsibility is no less important. Our ambition is for our global operations to become Net Zero or Carbon Neutral.

Embedding sustainability into operations

Sustainability is not just an isolated program at Objective; it is integrated into how we operate. From procurement policies that prioritise sustainable suppliers, to the design of our offices and the partners we choose; our decisions reflect our environmental commitments. Employees across all business units are engaged in this mission and to harness this energy, in FY2025 we established an Employee Resource Group to focus on environmental actions that Objective can take to make a difference.

Emissions and energy

Our largest source of emissions is the energy consumed in our offices and through the data centres that power our SaaS solutions. In FY2024 we baselined our Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions, allowing us to direct our efforts to where they have the most impact. Over the past year, we prioritised energy efficiency in our operations and selected office spaces with strong sustainability credentials. The majority of our Australian offices are NABERS-rated at 5 stars or higher, with our Sydney headquarters maintaining a 6-star NABERS rating. In the UK, our Reading office holds a high-grade Energy Performance Certificate, reflecting our long-term commitment to efficient spaces.

We have selected cloud providers with strong credentials; both Microsoft Azure and Amazon Web Services, who host our SaaS solutions, have made commitments to reach a net zero carbon emission well ahead of the United Nations Paris Agreement timelines, amplifying the impact of our own sustainability efforts.

Travel and commuting

Our people and customers are geographically dispersed, which makes travel a necessary part of our business. However, we remain committed to managing it responsibly. In FY2025, we refined our travel approval process, ensuring trips are only undertaken where in-person collaboration is critical. Our increased adoption of innovations in digital collaboration platforms has reduced the need for travel while maintaining strong customer and employee engagement.

Market-leading hybrid working arrangements also continue to reduce emissions from commuting. Employees across all regions have the flexibility to work from home, decreasing reliance on private transport. In addition, we promote sustainable commuting options such as cycling, walking and public transport.

Waste and circular economy

Minimising e-waste remains a priority for Objective. Technology equipment has a finite lifecycle, but we are determined to extend its useful life and ensure responsible disposal. Our approach includes:

- Direct acquisition: purchasing high-quality equipment from suppliers with strong environmental commitments.
- Repurposing: running internal auctions where employees can purchase end-of-life equipment, with proceeds donated to charity.
- Recycling: working with certified e-waste recycling partners to ensure hardware unsuitable for repurposing is safely processed.

In FY2025, we expanded these initiatives across all regions, diverting a total of approximately 1,000 kg of e-waste from landfill in FY2025. This not only reduces our environmental footprint but also supports a more circular economy.

Social

Our mission and values guide us to create a workplace where individuals are valued and growth is encouraged. We foster inclusion, support development and wellbeing, celebrate diversity and encourage community involvement. A thriving workforce is how we inspire innovation and drive success for our customers.

Diversity, equity and inclusion

Through Objective Belong, our DEI Strategy, we formalised our commitment to creating and nurturing a diverse and inclusive workplace culture. A number of our initial initiatives have now become a core part of our everyday practices.

Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA) reporting – Objective’s Gender Pay Gap is 15.3% for total remuneration which is below the industry comparison group of 16.3% and the national average of 21.1%. We remain focused on reducing the pay gap, and know that having more women in senior roles will address this.

Recruitment – All participants in the recruitment process are trained on understanding unconscious bias. We present diverse candidates during the interview process and ensure diversity is represented on interview panels.

Programs and learning – To reinforce and sustain our commitment, in 2025 we introduced the Male Allies Program to equip male managers and leaders with strategies to be an effective ally in supporting gender equity in the workplace. Meanwhile, OWN, the Objective Women’s Network continues to advocate for women and advance the personal and professional development of its members. We also conducted mandatory formal training to raise awareness of what behaviours contribute to an effective working environment.

Employee experience: belonging and celebration – Each year, we celebrate cultural diversity by hosting events and celebrations including: Mānawatia a Matariki (Māori New Year), Diwali, Lunar New Year and Harmony Day where we share national dishes from the nations represented at Objective.

Professional development

We actively support our people to reach their potential at Objective and offer a range of learning and development programs to achieve this.

Over the past year, we continued to invest in programs such as Women Rising, Male Allies, and an internal Mentorship Program. These provide our people with opportunities to expand their skills, take on new challenges, and shape their career paths. We balance structured training with self-directed learning, giving all employees access to LinkedIn Learning so they can learn anytime, anywhere.

From leadership programs and technical upskilling to employee knowledge sharing, professional development remains central to our culture and to the success of our people.

A highlight of the year is our global annual employee conference, Activate. We bring the whole company together in Sydney and Reading, to share the strategic plans for the year ahead and celebrate the achievements of our people. The three-day program of presentations and hands-on workshops are an important spark for collaboration and innovation across the year.

Wellbeing

Supporting both the mental and physical wellbeing of our employees is essential to building a thriving, high-performing organisation. Over the past year, we continued to invest in initiatives that strengthen mental, physical, and social health across our workforce:

- We actively promote positive mental health through meaningful conversations and by providing ongoing training around R U OK? Day, Mental Health Awareness Month, Mens' Health Month, and Movember. Through Objective Assist (our Employee Assistance Program) we provide confidential counselling and resources for both personal and professional challenges.
- Flu Vaccinations are made available to all employees to lessen the impact of seasonal influenza.
- We sponsor teams to participate in community fitness events including City to Surf, the Gong Ride, September, the Wollongong Running Festival, and the Push-Up Challenge, raising funds for important causes while fostering team connection and physical wellbeing.

Governance

Integrity is one of Objective’s core values and underpins how we conduct our business every day. We are committed to operating at the highest ethical standards, guided by strong governance practices that align with our purpose, values and mission. Governance is not just about compliance; it is about creating accountability, building trust with stakeholders, and ensuring that Objective remains resilient and future-focused.

Governance framework

Our corporate governance framework is designed to ensure transparency, accountability, and alignment with our strategic priorities. The framework includes Board oversight, management accountability, risk management structures, company policies, and external audits. Each year, we review and update our governance policies to reflect evolving best practice, regulatory changes and stakeholder expectations. These policies are accessible to employees through internal systems, with a sub-set published on our website for customers, partners, and the wider community.

In FY2025, we continued to uphold external standards, maintaining our certifications under ISO 9001 for Quality Management and ISO 27001 for Information Security. These accreditations provide independent assurance that our systems meet internationally recognised benchmarks, and they underpin our reputation as a trusted partner for governments and regulated industries.

Risk management

In FY2025, we further embedded our enhanced governance framework for strategic planning into everyday operations, building on our actions in FY2024 when we evolved our approach to strategic planning, driving greater accountability across all business lines and providing the Board with improved oversight of risks and opportunities.

Risk management is integrated into decision-making at every level; from product development and customer engagement to procurement and operational planning. Leaders and teams across Objective are empowered to identify, assess and mitigate risks as part of their normal business activities. This shift has strengthened organisational resilience and ensures that risks are managed proactively rather than reactively.

Activate plays a critical role in ensuring every employee is aligned to our strategic mission and understands how their work contributes to long-term outcomes. Activate is also a platform for embedding operating procedures and ensuring that our playbooks are consistently adopted by all staff. This is particularly important as we continue to expand our workforce, both organically and through acquisition, where maintaining a unified approach to governance and risk management is essential.

Beyond Activate, our ongoing communication processes, mean every member of Objective is clear on the strategic vision, their role in executing it, and the operational disciplines that underpin our success.

Board and oversight

Our Board of Directors provides independent oversight of corporate governance, strategy, and risk. The Board is supported by its committees, including the Audit & Risk Committee and the People & Remuneration Committee, which monitor compliance with financial, ethical and regulatory obligations. The Board regularly reviews Objective’s governance framework to ensure it remains fit-for-purpose and aligned with stakeholder expectations.

Ethical conduct and compliance

At Objective, integrity is embedded in the way we operate. We maintain policies covering anti-bribery and corruption, whistleblowing, professional conduct, diversity and inclusion, and modern slavery. Each year, employees complete mandatory training to reinforce their understanding of these obligations and to build a culture where ethical behaviour is the norm. In FY2025, refresher modules were rolled out across the business, with strong participation rates.

We also advanced our approach to responsible procurement, ensuring that our suppliers meet high ethical standards and are aligned with our values. This includes due diligence on modern slavery risks and ongoing engagement with suppliers to ensure compliance.

Security and privacy

Cybersecurity and data privacy remain critical areas of governance, particularly given the sensitive information managed by our customers in government and regulated industries. At Objective, we see security not as a compliance requirement but as a cultural cornerstone. We have invested heavily in cybersecurity systems, policies and staff training, ensuring our people are vigilant and capable of protecting customer data.

Our security framework is supported by multiple international and government-specific certifications, including:

- ISO 27001 – Information Security Management System.
- ISO 9001 – Quality Management System.
- IRAP Assessment – for Objective Connect and Objective Nexus, up to PROTECTED level under the Australian Signals Directorate framework.
- Cyber Essentials Plus – covering UK operations.
- Defence Industry Security Program (DISP) – ensuring we meet obligations when working on Defence projects.

OVERVIEW OF REMUNERATION APPROACH AND FRAMEWORK

The Board from time to time reviews the remuneration packages of all Directors and Executive Officers with due regard to performance and other relevant factors. The remuneration policy generally is to ensure the remuneration package properly reflects the person's duties and responsibilities and that the remuneration is competitive to attract, retain and motivate employees of the highest calibre.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVES (EXECUTIVE KMP)

The Group aims to reward executives with a level and mix of remuneration based on their position and responsibility. All Executive KMP remuneration is comprised of the following:

- Fixed remuneration made up of contractual base salary, leave entitlements and legislated superannuation guarantee
- Variable remuneration in the form of short-term cash incentive and a long-term incentive through the issue of share options and/or rights at the Board's discretion.

The variable component, such as bonuses, are structured to reward outstanding performance against agreed Key Performance Indicators ("KPIs") including financial and non-financial metrics aligned with the Group's business strategy. Ultimately, bonuses and discretionary payments to Executive KMP are at the discretion of the Board.

Remuneration and other terms of employment of the Executive KMP are formalised in employment agreements and contain the following key terms:

	Chief Executive Officer	Chief Financial Officer
Annual Salary	Total fixed remuneration of $303,262 inclusive of superannuation	Total fixed remuneration of $380,695 inclusive of superannuation
Performance Bonus	No STI potential	Total potential STI of up to 41% of Annual Salary, based on performance measured against a range of performance indicators
Long-term Incentive	No LTI potential	Long-term incentives include long service leave and share-based payments.
Notice Period	Six months	One month

There are no retirement and termination benefits for Executive Directors or Executives apart from those that accrue from the relevant laws such as unpaid annual leave, superannuation, long service leave and notice of termination. The Group may consider payments on termination even though legally not required, to protect its rights if it is commercially beneficial to its interests.

NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

Fees and payments to Non-Executive Directors reflect the demands that are made on, and the responsibilities of, the Directors. The Board decides the total amount paid to each non-executive Director as remuneration for their services as a Director. Non-Executive Directors receive an annual fee, paid monthly. The fees are not linked to performance of the Company. However, to align Non-Executive Directors' interest with shareholder interests, the Non-Executive Directors are encouraged to hold shares in the Company and are able to participate in the employee share option plan.

The bonuses in the above tables are short-term incentives fully vested to the Executive for that year. The cash bonuses are determined by the Board based on overall company performance and achievement of financial and operational targets within individual areas of control.

The fair value of options and rights have been determined using either Black-Scholes or Monte-Carlo Simulation option pricing models, taking into account the exercise price, the term of the option, the vesting criteria, the impact of dilution, the non-tradeable nature of the option, the price at grant date of the underlying share and the expected price volatility of that share, the expected dividend yield and the risk free interest rate for the term of the option and rights. The value of the option or right at grant date is then amortised over the relevant vesting period. The value included in remuneration of key management personnel above relates to the amortised value of options and rights granted and vested. Refer to Note 27 for further details.

This financial report includes the consolidated financial statements of Objective Corporation Limited and its controlled entities ('the Group'). Information about subsidiaries at 30 June 2025 is set out under Note 24.

The Group is a 'for profit' entity and the principal activities for the Group's various business areas are described in more detail in Note 3 Segment Information.

BASIS OF PREPARATION

This financial report is a general purpose financial report which:

- has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth);
- complies with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and Interpretations as issued by the IFRS Interpretations Committee ("IFRIC");

Where necessary, comparative information has been restated to conform to the current year's disclosures (Refer Note 2).

Note 2 – Material accounting policy information

Material accounting policies applied by the Group in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are incorporated into the individual notes, and supplemented by the disclosures hereunder.

The accounting policies applied are consistent with those of the previous financial year except for the adoption of new accounting standards, interpretations, or amendments.

PRESENTATION OF CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF PROFIT OR LOSS (INCLUDING COMPARATIVES)

In the current year the presentation of certain line items in the consolidated statement of profit or loss has been changed to separately disclose depreciation and amortisation expense, consistent with industry practice and how information is presented internally. The directors have determined that this reclassification enhances the understanding of the financial statements. The following comparative figures have been reclassified so as to be comparable with the figures presented for the current financial year:

	CONSOLIDATED

NEW OR REVISED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

In the current year, the Group has adopted all of the new and revised Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board that are relevant to its operations and effective for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2025.

None of these standards have had a material impact on the disclosures or on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

New standards and interpretations and amendments to existing standards and interpretations issued by the IASB, but not yet endorsed by the AASB, and which are effective for financial years beginning after January 1, 2025, have not been applied in preparing these consolidated financial statements and have not been disclosed as they are not expected to have a material impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared by aggregating the financial statements of all the entities that comprise the Group, being Objective Corporation Limited and its controlled entities. In these consolidated financial statements:

- results of each controlled entity are included from the date Objective Corporation Limited obtains control and until such time as it ceases to control an entity; and
- all inter-entity balances and transactions are eliminated.

Control is achieved when Objective Corporation Limited is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with an entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the activities of the entity.

Assets and liabilities in foreign subsidiaries, whose functional currency differ from the presentation currency, are converted to AUD using the exchange rate in effect at the reporting date. Income and expenses from foreign companies are converted to AUD using the monthly average rate of exchange. All translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve.

FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSACTIONS AND BALANCES

Transactions in foreign currency are converted at the exchange rate applicable on the transaction date. Monetary items in a foreign currency are converted to AUD using the exchange rate applicable on the balance sheet date. Changes to exchange rates are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss as they occur during the accounting period.

SIGNIFICANT JUDGMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

Significant judgments and key assumptions that management has made in applying the Group's material accounting policies and that have a significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are:

Note	Judgement/Estimation
3, 5	Revenue from contracts with customers
11	Expected credit loss allowance
16	Capitalised development costs
14, 15, 16	Useful life for depreciable assets
15, 18	Lease terms and incremental borrowing rates
19, 27	Employee benefits assumptions and share based remuneration
8	Income taxes
16	Impairment assessment

The estimates and assumptions are based on the information available at the date of issuance of the consolidated financial statement, historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events which are believed to be reasonable at that time. The actual results might differ from the estimates.

Note 3 – Segment information

OPERATING AND REPORTABLE SEGMENTS

The Group applies a 'management approach' to identify its segments, based on the information provided to the Group's chief operating decision-makers ("CODM"). Accordingly, segment information is prepared on the basis of internal management reporting that is regularly reviewed by the CODM to assess the performance of the segment and make decisions regarding the allocation of resources. Within the Group, the function of the CODM is exercised by the CEO.

The CODM assesses the financial performance of the Group on an integrated basis only, and accordingly the Group is managed on the basis of a single segment.

RECOGNITION AND MEASUREMENT – REVENUE FROM CONTRACTS WITH CUSTOMERS

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised upon transfer of control of the promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Group expects to receive in exchange for those goods or services.

The Group designs, develops and delivers specialised software solutions to assist predominantly public sector bodies to operate with increased effectiveness, transparency and efficiency through uptake of the Group's content, collaboration and process management solutions.

From these activities, the Group generates the following streams of revenue:

- Software licence or subscription revenue
- Implementation and consulting revenue
- Other ancillary fees such as hosting and support service fees

Each of the above services delivered to customers are considered separate performance obligations, even though for practical expedience they may be governed by a single legal contract with the customer.

Revenue recognition for each of the above revenue streams are as follows:

Revenue stream	Performance obligation	Timing of recognition
Software license revenue	Access to software	Software license revenue offered on a subscription basis is recognised over time based on an equal daily rate over the term of the contract as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefit of accessing the software. Subscription customers are typically invoiced annually in advance and prior to revenue recognition, which results in contract liabilities. The consideration is payable when invoiced.
Implementation and consulting revenue	As defined in the contract	Professional service revenue billed on a time and materials basis is recognised over time as services are delivered. Revenue from providing services is recognised in the accounting period in which the services are rendered. Revenue is calculated based on time and materials. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised over time based on the extent of progress towards completion of the performance obligation, on a project-by-project basis. The method used to measure progress depends on the nature of the services. Revenue is recognised on the basis of time and materials incurred to date relative to the total budgeted inputs. The output method on the basis of milestones is used when the contractual terms align the Group's performance with measurements of value to the customer. Revenue is recognised for services performed to date based on contracted rates and/or milestones that correspond to the amount the Group is entitled to invoice.
Other ancillary fees	Provision of hosting services, cloud services, support and maintenance services	Over time, depending on circumstances.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS – REVENUE FROM CONTRACTS WITH CUSTOMERS

Performance obligations

The Group's contracts with customers may include multiple performance obligations. For contracts with multiple components to be delivered, such as, software installation, software licence and upgrade support services, management applies judgement to consider whether those promised goods and services are (i) distinct – to be accounted for as separate performance obligations; (ii) not distinct – to be combined with other promised goods or services until a bundle is identified as distinct or (iii) part of a series of distinct goods and services that are substantially the same and have the same pattern of transfer to the customer.

Transaction price

At contract inception the total transaction price is estimated, being the amount to which the Group expects to be entitled and has rights to under the present contract. This includes an assessment of any variable consideration where the Group's performance may result in additional revenues based on the achievement of agreed key performance indicators. Such amounts are only included based on the expected value method and only to the extent that it is highly probable that significant reversals in the cumulative amount of revenue recognised will not occur in subsequent periods. The expected value method for estimating variable consideration is generally used where the Group has a large number of contracts with similar characteristics.

The Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation based on the relative stand-alone selling prices of each distinct product or service. Stand-alone selling prices are determined based on prices charged to customers for individual products and services taking into consideration the size and length of contracts and the Group's overall go to market strategy.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Contract modifications

The Group's contracts may occasionally be amended for changes in contract specifications and requirements. Contract modifications exist when the amendment either creates new or changes the existing enforceable rights and obligations. The effect of a contract modification on the transaction price and the Group's measure of progress for the performance obligation to which it relates, is recognised as an adjustment to revenue in one of the following ways:

- prospectively as an additional separate contract;
- prospectively as a termination of the existing contract and creation of a new contract;
- as part of the original contract using a cumulative catch up; or
- as a combination of (b) and (c).

For contracts for which the Group has decided there is a series of distinct goods and services that are substantially the same and have the same pattern of transfer where revenue is recognised over time, the modification will always be treated under either (a) or (b). (d) may arise when a contract has a part termination and a modification of the remaining performance obligations.

Judgement is applied in relation to the accounting for such modifications where the final terms or legal contracts have not been agreed prior to the period end as management need to determine if a modification has been approved and if it either creates new or changes existing enforceable rights and obligations of the parties. Depending upon the outcome of such negotiations, the timing and amount of revenue recognised may be different in the relevant accounting periods. Modification and amendments to contracts are undertaken via an agreed formal process. For example, if a change in scope has been approved but the corresponding change in price is still being negotiated, management use their judgement to estimate the change to the total transaction price. Importantly any variable consideration is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that no revenue reversal will occur.

Recognition and measurement

Income tax expense or credit is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Current tax payable is recognised as a liability (or asset) to the extent that it is unpaid (or refundable) and expected to be settled (or refunded) within twelve months of the year-end date.

Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends to either settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. Current and deferred tax is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss.

Deferred tax is determined using the balance sheet liability method for temporary differences at the reporting date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised. Deferred taxes are not recognised for the initial recognition of goodwill; the initial recognition of assets or liabilities, outside of a business combination, that affect neither accounting nor taxable profit, and do not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be used.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset in the consolidated financial statements when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

Tax consolidation

Objective Corporation Limited (the parent entity) and its wholly owned Australian resident subsidiaries formed a tax-consolidated group pursuant to Australian taxation law with effect from 1 July 2002 and are therefore taxed as a single entity from that date. Objective Corporation Limited is the head entity in the tax-consolidated group.

Tax expense/credit, deferred tax liabilities and deferred tax assets arising from temporary differences of the members of the tax consolidated group are recognised in the separate financial statements of the members of the tax-consolidated group using the 'standalone taxpayer' approach by reference to the carrying amounts in the separate financial statements of each entity and the tax values applying under tax consolidation.

Current tax liabilities and assets and deferred tax assets arising from unused tax losses and tax credits of the tax-consolidated group are recognised by the head entity in the tax consolidated group.

Uncertain tax positions

The Group's income tax assets and liabilities are based on interpretations of income tax legislation across various jurisdictions, primarily in Australia, New Zealand, United Kingdom and United States. The Group's effective tax rate can change from year to year based on the mix of income among jurisdictions, changes in tax laws in these jurisdictions, and changes in the estimated value of deferred tax assets and liabilities.

The Group's income tax expense reflects an estimate of the taxes it expects to pay for the current year, as well as a provision for changes arising in the values of deferred tax assets and liabilities during the year. The tax value of these assets and liabilities is impacted by factors such as accounting estimates inherent in these balances, management's expectations about future operating results, and differing interpretations of tax regulations by the taxable entity and the responsible tax authorities.

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations and the amount and timing of deferred taxable income. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the estimated amounts, such differences will impact the current and, where recognised, deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

The Group exercises judgement in determining whether deferred tax assets, particularly in relation to tax losses, are probable of recovery. Factors considered include the ability to offset tax losses within the groups of entities in different tax jurisdictions, the nature of the tax loss, the length of time that tax losses are eligible for carry forward to offset against future taxable profits and whether future taxable profits are expected to be sufficient to allow recovery of deferred tax assets.

Recognition and measurement

Trade and other receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost, less any expected credit loss allowance.

The Group applies the simplified approach to measuring expected credit losses which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance for all trade receivables.

Expected credit losses are measured by grouping trade receivables and contract assets based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due.

A provision matrix is then determined based on the Group's historical collection and loss experience and incorporates forward-looking factors, where appropriate.

Classification as trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are generally due for settlement within 30 days and therefore are all classified as current.

The ageing of the Group's trade and other receivables at reporting date together with impairment and other accounting policies for trade and other receivables are outlined in Note 23.

1. In fixed-price contracts, the customer pays the fixed amount based on an agreed payment schedule. If the services rendered by the Group exceed the payment received, a contract asset is recognised. If the payments received exceed the services rendered, a contract liability is recognised.

For personal use only

Recognition and measurement

Contract assets relate to unbilled receivable balances which have not yet been invoiced and arises when the revenue has been recognised as a result of the fulfilment of a contractual obligation and before the customer has made a payment or before the conditions for invoicing and thus for recognising a receivable are present. These are generally related to consultancy or services projects.

Contract liabilities consist of billings or payments received in advance of revenue recognition from subscription services, including non-cancellable and non-refundable committed funds and deposits. Customers are typically invoiced for these agreements in regular instalments and revenue is recognised on a straight-line basis over the contractual subscription period or as the performance obligations under contracts with customers are satisfied. Contract liability does not represent the total contract value of annual or multi-year non-cancellable subscription agreements.

Unsatisfied performance obligations

The Group applies the practical expedient in the revenue standard and does not disclose information about the remaining performance obligation on contracts that have an original expected duration of one year or less or where the Group has the right to consideration from a customer in an amount that corresponds directly to the value transferred to customer, typically involving time and material based contracts.

The aggregate amount of contract liabilities of the performance obligations that are unsatisfied at 30 June 2025 was $52,916,000 (2024: $48,502,000) and is expected to be recognised as revenue within the next twelve months.

Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. All repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss as incurred.

Significant accounting estimates and judgements – depreciation methods and useful lives

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives.

Estimates of remaining useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods require significant management judgement, are reviewed annually, and where changes are made, their effects are accounted for on a prospective basis.

1. Lease incentives received are deducted from this initial value in the measurement of the right-of-use asset.

The Group leases office premises in the ordinary course of its business. The Group's office premise leases comprise office building leases in eleven cities across Australia, New Zealand, United Kingdom and United States of America. The non-cancellable period of the leases ranges from 5 to 10 years with variable options to extend the lease terms. The lease payments are adjusted every year, based on contractual fixed percentage increases and in one instance additionally increased by the prevailing consumer price index ("CPI") at the lease review date.

Recognition and measurement

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset equal to the measurement of the lease liability less any lease incentives received, and a lease liability measured at the present value of future lease payments. As the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate to measure the lease liability.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically assessed for impairment losses, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability resulting from lease modifications.

Where the lease is subject to periodic adjustments based on consumer price indexes, the Group remeasures the lease liability with an unchanged discount rate and recognises the adjustment against the right-of-use asset. The adjustment is recognised when the change in payments is in effect.

The Group has elected to exempt leases that have a shorter duration than one year and leases where the value of the underlying asset is considered insignificant. Costs in leasing contracts for offices that relate to the provision of services such as outgoings, maintenance and utilities are identified and treated separately as non-lease components. These costs are expensed as incurred.

Significant accounting estimates and judgements – incremental borrowing rates and lease terms

The incremental borrowing rate is determined for each lease using interest rates acquired from external financing sources and adjusted by management, as appropriate, to provide a borrowing rate that is representative of a collateralised amortising loan.

Notes to the Financial Statements

At year end, there are four leases with options to renew for a further term ranging from five to seven years. The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with periods covered by an option to extend or an option to terminate if it is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option or to not exercise a termination option. Management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option or to not exercise a termination option. This judgment is based on factors such as contract rates compared to market rates, economic reasons, significance of leasehold improvements, termination and relocation costs.

Recognition and measurement

Research costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Capitalised development costs represent the up-front costs of developing new products or enhancing existing products to meet customer needs.

Development costs are capitalised when it is probable that the project will be a success considering its commercial and technical feasibility; the Group is able to use or sell the asset; the Group has sufficient resources and intent to complete the development; and its costs can be measured reliably.

The costs remain in work in progress during the development phase and are transferred to capitalised development costs when products are considered ready for their intended use. A portion of software development within the Group occurs contemporaneously with the research phase and ongoing operating and maintenance activities in supporting core customer systems. Where the expenditure related to the development activity cannot be reliably measured, these are expensed in the period they are incurred.

Development costs are capitalised when it is probable that the project will be a success considering its commercial and technical feasibility, and the costs can be measured reliably. The key judgements relate to:

- determining the portion of the internal salary and on-costs that are directly attributable to development of the Group's product suite and software; and
- identifying and assessing the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset and generating future economic benefits.

Critical accounting estimates and judgements – asset impairment

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. Useful lives are reassessed each period.

Assessments of useful lives and estimates of remaining useful lives require significant management judgement. The useful lives could change significantly as a result of technical innovations or some other event. The amortisation charge will increase where the useful lives are less than previously estimated lives, or technically obsolete or items no longer in use will be written off or written down.

The Group tests intangible assets for impairment to ensure they are not carried at above their recoverable amounts:

- at least annually for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives; and
- where there is an indication that the assets may be impaired (which is assessed at least each reporting date or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable).

These tests for impairment are performed by assessing the recoverable amount of each individual asset or, if this is not possible, then the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit ("CGU") to which the asset belongs. CGUs are the lowest levels at which assets are grouped and generate separately identifiable cash inflows. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset or a CGU's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. The value in use calculations are based on discounted cash flows expected to arise from the asset. Management judgment is required in these valuations to forecast future cash flows and a suitable discount rate to calculate the present value of these future cash flows.

The carrying value of goodwill is allocated to the Group's cash generating units ("CGU") identified as follows:

	CONSOLIDATED
	2025 $'000	2024 $'000
Objective Keystone	6,785	6,144
Objective Build (2024: Planning Solutions) ¹	9,970	9,817
Objective Regulatory Solutions	16,720	16,720
Objective Content Solutions	6,607	6,489
Total goodwill	40,082	39,170

1. CGU in New Zealand.

The recoverable amount of each CGU is determined based on a value-in-use calculation, which applies a two-year cash flow projection model with a terminal value. The model uses cash flow projections based on a one-year financial budget approved by management, with a subsequent year of forecast growth applied. Year-two growth assumptions of 20% have been applied to Objective Regulatory Solutions and Objective Build CGUs whilst 5% has been applied for Objective Keystone and Objective Content Solutions. Beyond this period, a long-term growth rate of 5% and a uniform discount rate of 15.5% has been adopted for all CGUs. In assessing the value of the CGU, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a post-tax discount rate of 15.5% (2024: 15.5%). Sensitivity analysis performed indicates that if the expected cash flows were to decrease by up to 10% for each CGU, there would be no impairment.

Previously, a value-in-use model with a five year forecast was applied. In FY2025, this was simplified to a two-year value in use model across all CGUs to streamline recoverable value calculations.

The current financial forecasts used in the calculation is determined by management based on past performance and its expectations for market development and includes a number of initiatives designed to drive incremental sales and increased margins as well as reduce the costs of doing business. Management have assessed that the CGUs are sensitive to reasonably possible changes in the cash flow forecasts covering a period of one year and believe that any reasonably foreseeable changes in any of the above key assumptions would not cause the carrying amount of goodwill to exceed the recoverable amount.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability are made up of fixed payments (including in-substance fixed), variable payments based on an index or rate and payments arising from options reasonably certain to be exercised. Subsequent to initial measurement, the liability will be reduced for payments made and increased for interest. It is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or modification, or if there are changes in in-substance fixed payments. When the lease liability is remeasured, the corresponding adjustment is reflected in the right-of-use asset, or consolidated statement of profit or loss if the right-of-use asset is already reduced to zero.

Recognition and measurement

A provision is recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made as to the amount of the obligation. The amount recognised is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

A provision is made for benefits accruing to employees in respect of annual leave and long service leave. Liabilities expected to be settled within 12 months are measured at their nominal values using the remuneration rate expected to apply at the time of settlement.

Liabilities which are not expected to be settled within 12 months are measured as the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made by the Group in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

Significant accounting estimates and judgements – employee benefits assumptions

In estimating the value of employee benefits, consideration is given to expected future salary and wage levels (including on-cost rates), experience of employee departures and periods of service. The assumptions are reviewed periodically and given the nature of the estimate, reasonably possible changes in assumptions are not considered likely to have a material impact.

Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the obligation, the cash flows are discounted using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. Discount rates are reviewed periodically and given the nature of the estimate, reasonably possible changes are not considered likely to have a material impact.

SHARE CAPITAL

Holders of ordinary shares are entitled to receive dividends as declared and are entitled to one vote per share at shareholders' meetings. In the event of winding up of the Company, ordinary shareholders rank after all other creditors and are fully entitled to any proceeds on liquidation. The ordinary shares have no par value and the Company does not have a limited amount of authorised capital. Capital raising costs are deducted from contributed equity.

OPTIONS ISSUED DURING THE YEAR UNDER THE EMPLOYEE INCENTIVE PLAN

The Group issues employee share options pursuant to the Employee Incentive Plan. Under the terms and conditions of the current Employee Incentive Plan, selected employees are granted the right to acquire shares at a nominated exercise price subject to agreed service and performance criteria (i.e. vesting conditions) being satisfied. On satisfaction of the vesting conditions the shares are issued to the employee with the exercise price being financed by a limited recourse loan. No amount is paid or payable by the employee on receipt of these shares. Dividends declared and paid on the issued shares are for the benefit of the employee. The employee is not permitted to deal in the shares until the limited recourse loan has been repaid. The value of the limited recourse loans and issue price of the shares are not recorded as loans receivable or share capital of the Company until repayment or part repayment of the loans occur. The Employee Incentive Plan shares are entitled to dividends. The dividends are applied to reduce the loans and increase share capital in accordance with both the current terms of the Employee Incentive Plan and AASB 2: Share-based Payment.

Each option entitles the holder to the right to acquire one ordinary share at the nominated exercise price during the period commencing on the available for exercise date of the options.

THE OCL TRUST EMPLOYEE EQUITY PLAN

On 22 December 2021, the Group established The Objective Corporation Limited Employee Share Trust ("OCL Trust") and appointed Certane CT Pty Ltd to administer the Group's employee share schemes as the Trustee of the Trust for the purposes of holding certain shares in the Company on trust for the benefit of the participants in the Objective Employee Incentive Plan and Objective Employee Equity Plan.

The OCL Trust is consolidated, as the substance of the relationship is that the trust is controlled by the Group. Through contributions to the OCL Trust, the Group purchases shares in the Company. Shares acquired are held by the OCL Trust, are disclosed as Treasury shares and are deducted from total equity.

Further information about share-based payments to employees is made in Note 27.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 June 2025

Note 23 – Financial risk management and fair values

Exposure to credit, liquidity, interest rate and currency risks arises in the normal course of the Group's business. The Group's exposure to these risks and the financial risk management policies and practices used by the Group to manage these risks are described below.

(A) CREDIT RISK

Financial assets which potentially subject the Group to credit risk consist principally of cash, short-term deposits, trade debtors and contract assets. The Group's deposits and cash are placed with major financial institutions with sound credit ratings. Trade debtors and contract assets are presented net of the allowance for expected credit losses.

Credit risk with respect to trade debtors is limited due to the large number of customers comprising the Group's customer base are government organisations or their diverse dispersion across different industries and geographical areas. Accordingly, the Group has no significant concentration of credit risk. The Group manages credit risks by monitoring credit ratings and limiting the aggregate risk to any individual counterparty.

The recoverability of trade debtors and contract assets at 30 June 2025 have been assessed and an amount of $41,000 has been estimated as expected credit loss allowance in accordance with AASB 9 (Refer Note 11(a)).

The below table summarises the Group's exposure to credit risk at the end of the reporting period:

	CONSOLIDATED
	2025 $'000	2024 $'000
Cash and cash equivalents ¹	99,157	95,979
Trade and other receivables, at gross	9,921	4,710
Contract assets, at gross	2,093	3,027
Ageing analysis of trade and other receivables and contract assets is as follows:
Fully performing debts	8,201	6,500
Past due more than 30 days	3,183	270
Past due more than 60 days	209	97
Past due more than 90 days	421	870
Total	12,014	7,737

1. The Group held cash and cash equivalents with banks and financial institution counterparties, the majority of which are rated AA- (long term) to F1+ (short term), based on Fitch ratings. AA ratings denote expectations of very low default risk and F1 indicates the strongest capacity for timely payment of financial commitments relative to other issuers or obligations in the same country. Where the liquidity profile is particularly strong, a "+" is added to the assigned rating.

(B) CURRENCY RISK

The Group is exposed to foreign currency risk primarily as a result of operations in the Asia Pacific region, the United Kingdom, Singapore and the United States of America. The Group also has transactional currency exposures arising from sales and purchases that are denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of the operations to which they relate. The currencies giving rise to foreign currency risk are primarily denominated in Pounds Sterling ("GBP"), United States dollars ("USD"), New Zealand dollars ("NZD"), Singapore dollars ("SGD") and Euro ("EUR").

The Group's exposure to the movement in foreign exchange rates is partly mitigated by a natural hedge arising from operations in these countries. The Group regularly monitors its foreign currency exposure which includes considering the level of cash in foreign currency and cash flow forecasting.

The summary quantitative data about the Group's exposure to foreign currency risk is as follows:

30 June 2025	GBP'000	NZD'000	SGD'000	USD'000	EUR'000
Cash and cash equivalents	34	2,486	3	446	28

Trade and other payables	–	–	–	151	–
Impact on group's profit or loss after tax if exchange rate had moved by 10%, with all other variables unchanged	86	133	1	36	2

(C) INTEREST RATE RISK

The Group's cash and cash equivalents are subject to interest rate fluctuations. At reporting date if interest rates had been 1% higher or lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's profit or loss after tax would increase or decrease by $694,000 (2024: $672,000).

(D) LIQUIDITY

The tables below present the Group's financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on their contractual maturities for all non-derivative financial liabilities. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

Note 27 – Share based payments

Objective Corporation Limited operates two share-based payment plans:

- Objective Employee Incentive Plan
- Objective Employee Equity Plan

EMPLOYEE INCENTIVE PLAN

The Objective Employee Incentive Plan (“EIP”) was approved at the 2003 Annual General Meeting of the Company. The EIP is described as follows:

Offers

Under the EIP, the Board may offer to any employee either options to acquire shares or loans to acquire shares in the Company. Tony Walls, Chief Executive Officer will not be participating in the EIP.

The options expire ten years after the date of grant and are subject to service and performance conditions; however, they are not exercisable until one year after grant and released in four equal tranches on each anniversary of grant date. If a participant under the EIP ceases to be employed by the Company, any unexercised option will be forfeited.

Price

The Board has discretion to grant options for a fee and set the exercise price and term of the options.

Quotation

Options issued under the EIP will not be quoted on the ASX. Where the Company issues options and the options are exercised, the Company will apply to have the issued shares quoted on the ASX.

Maximum number of shares or options

The Company must not issue shares or options to any employee if to do so would contravene applicable laws or result in any employee holding an interest in more than 5% of the shares in the Company.

Sales restrictions

Options issued under the EIP are not transferable. Shares acquired under the EIP are not transferable unless any loan to acquire the shares has been repaid in full.

New shares

All shares issued on the exercise of options will rank equally with all existing shares from the date of issue.

Dividends

All shares acquired pursuant to the EIP rank equal in all respects and will be entitled to any dividends declared by the Company. Any dividends paid on shares acquired under the EIP will be offset against the loan balance outstanding to acquire shares under the EIP.

Restrictions

The Board may impose vesting and performance conditions before which options cannot be exercised or the shares sold. The options issued pursuant to the EIP will usually lapse and the loans to acquire shares will usually become repayable if the holder ceases to be an employee.

Participation in future issues

Under the Employee Incentive Plan’s rules, the number of shares over which an option is granted and or the exercise price of the options may be altered in the event of a reconstruction of the Company’s share capital or a bonus or rights issue of shares to shareholders. Shares acquired under the EIP will rank equal in all respects with existing shares.

Loans

The Board has discretion to provide a loan for the acquisition of shares in the Company under terms and conditions as set out in the loan agreement.

Fair value of share options granted under the EIP in the year

No share options were granted under the EIP during the year ended 30 June 2025 (2024: Nil).

EMPLOYEE EQUITY PLAN

The Objective Employee Equity Plan ("EEP") was approved at the 2021 Annual General Meeting of the Company and is governed by the EEP Rules.

Under the EEP, the Company may grant Rights, Options and restricted shares (i.e., shares subject to disposal restrictions until service-based vesting conditions are met) (collectively, Awards). Rights and Options granted under the EEP are indeterminate rights for tax purposes as the Board has the discretion to settle Rights and Options granted under the Plan in cash.

Under the EEP, there are 57,600 Rights (granted for no consideration to Participants with vesting subject to a service-based vesting condition) that remain outstanding at balance date. Subject to vesting condition being met, the Rights become exercisable to acquire Company shares (or a cash payment of equivalent value, at the Board's discretion). As at the date of this annual report, the exercise price of Rights granted under the EEP is nil.

Awards granted during the current year under the EEP has been classified as an equity-settled share-based payment arrangement. The fair value at grant date of equity-settled share-based payment transactions is expensed over the vesting period with a corresponding increase shared based payment reserve in equity, taking into account the best available estimate of the number of shares expected to vest under the service and performance conditions.

For awards that contain graded service condition periods, the Company recognises the estimated share based payment expense on a graded-vesting basis over a requisite service period of one to five years. The Company estimates the expected service condition fulfilment and recognises the share based payment expense only for those awards expected to meet the service condition. This estimate is reassessed by management each reporting period and may change based upon new facts and circumstances. Changes in assumptions impact the total amount of expense and are recognised over the service condition period.

Fair value of share options granted in the year

No new share options were granted under the EEP during the year ended 30 June 2025.

Fair value of share options granted during the year ended 30 June 2024 are provided in the table below:

Number of options granted	Grant date	Expiry date	Fair value at grant date ($)	Exercise price ($)	Risk free interest rate (%)	Expected volatility (%)	Dividend yield (%)

100,000	22/02/2024	01/01/2028	$2.08	$12.00	3.86%	30.0%	1.16%

1. These options have an exercise restriction that is dependent upon the Company's closing share price reaching $20/share prior to 15 December 2027.

The fair values of awards are determined using Black-Scholes or Monte-Carlo Simulation option pricing models where market conditions exist, taking into consideration the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. Assumptions for expected volatility and dividend yield were based on daily observations for historic data. Inputs for risk free rate and grant date share price was determined by the prevailing prices on the date of issue.

Recognition and measurement

The Group provides benefits to employees (including Directors) in the form of share-based payment transactions, whereby employees render services in exchange for shares or rights over shares (equity-settled transactions). The Group has two plans in place that provides these benefits. It is the Employee Incentive Plan and the Employee Equity Plan.

The cost of these equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined by using a Black & Scholes or Monte-Carlo Simulation option pricing models. The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled (the vesting period), ending on the date on which the relevant employees become fully entitled to the award.

At each subsequent reporting date until the end of the service condition period, the cumulative charge to the consolidated statement profit or loss is the product of (i) the grant date fair value of the award; (ii) the current best estimate of the number of awards that will vest, taking into account such factors as the likelihood of employee turnover during the service condition period; and (iii) the expired portion of the service condition period.

The charge to the consolidated statement of profit or loss for the period is the cumulative amount as calculated above, less the amounts already charged in previous periods. There is a corresponding credit to equity.

Note 28 – Contingent liabilities

	CONSOLIDATED
	2025 $'000	2024 $'000
Contingent liabilities, capable of estimation, arise in respect of the following categories:
Bank guarantees	1,760	1,488
Total contingent liabilities	1,760	1,488

Bank guarantees are issued to contract counterparties in the normal course of business as security for the performance by Group entities of various contractual obligations.

Additionally, a performance guarantee has been provided by the Company to Objective Corporation UK Limited (subsidiary) with regards to the provision of software support services for customers.

Note 29 – Subsequent events

On 30 June 2025, the Company entered into a Share Purchase Agreement to acquire 100% of the issued capital of Isovist Holdings Limited, a specialist provider of e-planning software for local government that transforms planning from a static document-based process to a dynamic digital solution. The transaction was completed on 1 July 2025, following the satisfaction of conditions precedent. Total consideration for the transaction was NZ$5,463,000, inclusive of cash balances of NZ$1,463,000 at the date of acquisition.

For dividends resolved to be paid after 30 June 2025, refer to Note 21.

There has not arisen in the interval between 30 June 2025 and the date of this report, any other matter or circumstance that has significantly affected or may significantly affect the operations of the Group, the results of those operations or the state of affairs of the Group in subsequent financial years.

Note 30 – Approval of financial statements

The financial statements were approved by the board of directors and authorised for issue on 21 August 2025.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF OBJECTIVE CORPORATION LIMITED ABN 16 050 539 350

Report on the Audit of the Financial Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of Objective Corporation Limited ("the Company") and its controlled entities ("the Group"), which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2025, the consolidated statement of profit or loss, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements including material accounting policy information, the consolidated entity disclosure statement and the directors' declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of the Group is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- (a) giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 30 June 2025 and of its financial performance for the year then ended; and
- (b) complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) ("the Code") that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001, which has been given to the directors of the Company, would be in the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Independent Auditor's Report

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF OBJECTIVE CORPORATION LIMITED ABN 16 050 539 350

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
Revenue from Contracts with Customers
The Group applies AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers to account for the following key revenue streams: - Software license revenue; - Implementation and consulting revenue; and - Other ancillary revenue such as hosting and support services fees. The recognition of revenue and associated contract assets and contract liabilities is a key audit matter due to the significant judgements surrounding the timing of revenue recognition. Note 5 to the financial statements sets out the Group's revenue streams and the associated accounting policies. Note 12 to the financial statements sets out the associated contract assets and contract liabilities.	Our procedures included: - Obtained an understanding of the Group's revenue recognition policies and assessed the policies applied for compliance with the relevant accounting standards. - Documented and evaluated the design and, implementation, of relevant controls over the measurement and timing of revenue recognition. - On a sample basis, selected revenue contracts and reviewed the contract to identify the key terms and conditions that indicated that performance obligations have been satisfied for revenue recognised under AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers. - On a sample basis, tested revenue transactions during the reporting period and at period-end to agree the total transaction price to customer contracts, work in progress records, milestone acknowledgements and receipts from customers, where applicable; and - For customer contracts tested close to year-end, evaluated the significant judgements applied by Management in supporting the timing of revenue recognition. We also assessed the adequacy of the disclosures in Notes 5 and 12 to the financial statements.
Accounting for software development costs
As set out in Note 16 to the financial statements, the Group capitalises costs related to the development of software products in accordance with AASB 138 Intangible Assets. The accounting for capitalised software development costs is a key audit matter due to: - Specific judgement applied in assessing whether the capitalised costs are directly attributable to the relevant product developed and eligible for capitalisation under the criteria prescribed by Australian Accounting Standards; - The assessment of the useful life of the asset and timing of amortisation; and - The assessment of future economic benefits and any indicators of impairment of capitalised software development costs.	Our procedures included: - Evaluated whether capitalised costs met the eligibility criteria for capitalisation under AASB 138 Intangible Assets. - Held inquiries with management and R&D team members, to understand the development activities undertaken. - Documented and evaluated the design and implementation of the relevant controls in place over the process for recording and identifying qualifying costs to be capitalised. - On a sample basis, tested the appropriateness and eligibility of costs capitalised with reference to internal documentation and the criteria in the relevant accounting standard, which included: - Agreeing payroll costs capitalised to supporting payroll and time records, and cost allocation calculations; and

TO THE MEMBERS OF OBJECTIVE CORPORATION LIMITED
ABN 16 050 539 350

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
	- Agreeing other capitalised costs to invoices or other supporting documentation and assessed the Group's determination that the service or goods received is directly attributable to development activities. - Challenged the appropriateness of the amortisation period including the commencement date of amortisation for the capitalised software development costs and the timing of amortisation; and - Evaluated the Group's indicators of impairment and the recoverability of the carrying value of the capitalised software development asset, with reference to historical and expected future cash inflows. We also assessed the adequacy of the disclosures in Note 16 to the financial statements.
Impairment of Intangible Assets
At 30 June 2025 the consolidated statement of financial position of the Group includes goodwill and other intangible assets amounting to $66.85 million. The Group performs an annual impairment test of goodwill and other intangible assets across its Cash Generating Units (CGU's) and has determined recoverable amounts based on value-in-use calculations. The carrying value of goodwill and other intangible assets is a key audit matter because of the significant judgements applied in the value-in-use models, including estimates of cash flow forecasts, growth rates, discount rates and terminal value calculations. Note 16 to the financial statements sets out the Group's accounting policies, allocation of goodwill to CGU's and key estimates adopted in determining the recoverable amount.	Our procedures included: - Assessed management's determination of CGU's and allocation of goodwill to the carrying value of CGU's based on our understanding of the nature of the Group's business. - Understood and evaluated the design and implementation of relevant controls over information used as part of assessing impairment of intangible assets. - Tested the mathematical accuracy of the value in use models. - Compared cash flow forecasts to the Board approved budgets and assessed the historical accuracy of forecasting. - In conjunction with our valuation specialists, we assessed and challenged significant estimates and judgements used by management in the value-in-use models, including cash flow forecasts, growth rates, discount rates and terminal value calculations; and - Performed sensitivity analysis on the growth rates and discount rates used in the value-in-use models. We also assessed the adequacy of the disclosures in Note 16 to the financial statements.

Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report Thereon

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Group's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2025 but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of:

- a) the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001; and
- b) the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is true and correct in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001; and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of:

- (i) the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; and
- (ii) the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is true and correct and is free of misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the directors are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT
TO THE MEMBERS OF OBJECTIVE CORPORATION LIMITED
ABN 16 050 539 350

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the financial report. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the Group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the directors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the directors, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial report of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Remuneration Report

Opinion on the Remuneration Report

We have audited the Remuneration Report included in pages 24 to 26 of the directors' report for the year ended 30 June 2025. In our opinion, the Remuneration Report of Objective Corporation Limited, for the year ended 30 June 2025, complies with section 300A of the Corporations Act 2001.

Responsibilities

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Remuneration Report in accordance with section 300A of the Corporations Act 2001. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Remuneration Report, based on our audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards.
