Acknowledgement of ACCC interim report

Woolworths Group acknowledges the release of the ACCC's interim report on Australia's supermarket sector.

This is a preliminary report, taking in a range of views from consumers, suppliers and other stakeholders including Woolworths Group's submission provided to the ACCC in April.

The Group will review the report in detail and provide submissions over the coming months.

Throughout the year, Woolworths Group has engaged in a number of inquiries and reviews in good faith and will continue this approach including appearing at public hearings and providing any further information as required by the ACCC.

Woolworths Group CEO, Amanda Bardwell, said: "We believe that the Australian grocery sector is competitive and customers have more choice than ever about where and how they shop. However, we know that our customers are continuing to face cost-of-living pressures and we remain focused on providing value and doing the right thing by our customers, our team and our suppliers."
