Hollard Life Assurance Company Limited
(Reg No. 1993/001405/06), a Licensed Life Insurer
and an authorised Financial Services Provider

Benefits

Simply's Flexi Domestic Cover offers three different types of insurance benefits – life, disability and funeral. You can choose any combination of these benefits for your domestic employee. Please refer to your Policy Schedule to see the type and level of cover you have selected.

The underwriter of this policy is The Hollard Life Assurance Company Ltd (Hollard), a Licensed Life insurer and authorised Financial Services Provider. Hollard is responsible for providing these benefits.

The cover will start as soon as your application has been completed, unless you have selected a start date in the future. Your policy will continue as long as you continue to pay premiums, or until the death of your employee.

ACCIDENTAL LIFE COVER

Payout

If the insured person dies due to an accident that occurs after the policy inception date a lump sum will be paid to their nominated beneficiaries.

The insured person must have been receiving an income when the application was completed to qualify for this benefit.

Grocery benefit

An additional once-off benefit of R3,000 will be split between all nominated beneficiaries. The same limitations which apply to the life benefit also apply to the grocery benefit.

ACCIDENTAL DISABILITY COVER

Payout

A lump sum is paid if the insured person has suffered total, permanent and irreversible disability due to an accident. This can mean the loss of a body part, or the loss of the use of a body part. The incident which causes the disability must have occurred after the policy's inception date.

There is a 6-month deferred period (time from when the disability started) before they are eligible for this benefit. This benefit only covers very specific injuries or illnesses. It doesn't cover everything that could affect the insured person's ability to work. The lump sum amount is calculated as follows:

- Both hands or both feet (at or above the ankle joint/at or above the wrist): 100% of cover
- One hand or one foot (at or above the ankle joint/at or above the wrist): 50% of cover
- One hand and one foot (at or above the ankle joint/at or above the wrist): 100% of cover

- Both eyes (permanent and irreversible loss of all vision with no light perception in both eyes): 100% of cover
- Speech (permanent and irreversible loss of ability to speak as a result of injury or disease to vocal cords or brain): 100% of cover
- 3rd degree burns >40% of body surface: 100% of cover
- 3rd degree burns 20-40% of body surface: 50% of cover

The insured person must have been receiving an income when the application was completed to qualify for this benefit.

ACCIDENTAL FAMILY FUNERAL COVER

Payout

If the main insured person, their spouse or any of their biological or legally adopted children under the age of 21 die due to an accident that occurs before their policy inception date, a lump sum will be paid. Children are only covered until they turn 21.

On the main insured person's accidental death, the payment will be made to the first beneficiary listed on the policy. On the accidental death of any covered family members, the payment will be made to the main insured person.

The lump sum amount is calculated as follows:

Person:	Payout:
Main member or spouse	100% of cover
Child aged 14-21	100% of cover
Child aged 6-14	50% of cover
Child aged 0-6	50% of cover (maximum R10,000)

Adding children

Additional children can be added to the funeral policy after the policy has been purchased (e.g. when a baby is born).

Premium waiver

If the main insured life dies due to an accident, their spouse and children continue to receive accidental funeral cover for a further 6 months without having to pay any premiums.

Body repatriation

This benefit is offered as part of the Funeral benefit, and covers the main insured person, their spouse, and children under 21. The benefit is not exchangeable for cash. The same limitations and exclusions that apply to claims on the main benefit also apply to the repatriation benefit.

cover amounts above across all Simply policies. This includes where the same person is covered as a main insured person, and as a family member on somebody else's policy.

Tax

The main insured person or their beneficiaries will not need to pay tax on the benefits paid on this policy. However, the premiums you pay are also not tax deductible.

Waiting period

There is no waiting period applicable to this product as all benefits are limited to accidental causes only for the duration of the policy.

Beneficiaries

The beneficiary is the person who receives the lump sum if the insured person dies. Your employees are automatically the beneficiaries on their disability and family funeral benefits (on the death of any family members covered).

Your employee can change or add a beneficiary at any time, but neither you nor any member of your family may be added as a beneficiary to this policy (except where you are the insured person). Your employee can have up to four beneficiaries on one policy.

If your employee has not chosen a beneficiary, the payout goes into their estate. If the beneficiary is a minor (younger than 18), the payout goes to their guardian for the minor's benefit. If the claim is a result of your employee's death, and their nominated beneficiary is deceased, their share of the benefit will be paid into their estate.

Benefits can only be paid into a South African bank account.

Premiums

Your monthly premium

Your premiums are payable monthly in advance. Your premiums increase by 5% every year on the policy anniversary. For an understanding of how your premiums will increase over time, see your Policy Schedule.

You agree that you will pay the premium on the specified date(s) and authorise Hollard to debit your bank account using the bank account information provided in your application. Premiums will be payable monthly in advance from the start date of your policy, and your obligation to pay a monthly premium will continue as long as your policy is in effect. We will attempt to deduct your premium on the debit order date you've selected, but we may track your bank account and deduct on another day. The Debit Order transaction will include the short code "SIMPLYSURE", which will reflect on your bank statement.

Is my premium guaranteed?

Your premium is guaranteed not to change for the first year of your policy. In addition to the 5% premium increase that automatically applies every year, we will assess the reality against the assumptions we have made when we priced the product (for instance relating to claims experience and the cost of providing cover) every year. We will change the premium when the reality differs from the assumptions we have made. We may review and change the premium at any time (even before the end of the year) where there are changes in law. We will give you at least 31 days' notice before the premium change is implemented.

What if you miss a payment?

There is a 30 day grace period if you fail to pay a premium. This means the insured persons will still be covered until the following premium is due. If that payment also fails, the cover will become inactive, and any claims received after this point would not be paid. See below for rules on reactivation.

If the cover is active but you are behind in your premium payments at the time of a claim, we will recover any arrears from the benefit payable. If there is a valid claim before any premium has been paid, a month's premium will be recovered from the benefit payable.

What if your cover has stopped, but you want to reactivate it?

If your policy is cancelled because you haven't paid the last premium, but you don't want to lose the policy, you can restart it. This is called a reinstatement. Simply will continue to try to contact you, and to deduct the premium due for a period after your cover has become inactive. However, after a few attempts, we will give up and the policy will be cancelled. You will receive a notification of this cancellation.

You will still be able to contact us, pay a premium and restart the cover, as long as it has not been more than 4 months since you last paid a premium. You can reinstate your policy in this way a maximum of 5 times. If you do not use this option you will need to take out a brand new policy, potentially at a different premium. New medical questions will also be asked, and a new waiting period will apply.

Claims

The claims process

We need to be informed within 180 days of the insured person's death, or the event which lead to the insured person's disability claim. We will also help them or their beneficiaries through the process when the time comes. It is mandatory that the insured person is aware that you have taken out this policy. Tell them how to contact us if they ever need to claim.

The information provided at the time of application is critical in assessing the risk associated with your policy. The insurer relies on the information provided by the policyholder and/or insured lives to determine whether the insured lives were eligible for cover, the premium that should be charged, and terms of the cover provided.

If any of the information provided is inaccurate, this will impact the validity of the policy and future claims.

In the event of a claim, we will review the information provided during the application process to ensure that it was accurate. If any non-disclosure or misrepresentation is found that would have impacted the initial decision to offer cover, the claim may be declined, or benefits reduced. If, after Hollard pays any claim, Hollard finds that it was based on false or incomplete information, all claim payments must be refunded to them.

If the claim is declined by Hollard, the claimant has 90 days from when they are notified of this to make representation to Hollard so that they may review this decision. If the dispute is not resolved, then the claimant has 3 years from the original letter of rejection to institute legal action against Hollard by serving summons on it, failing which Hollard is no longer liable for the claim.

Reasons a claim can't be paid

Unfortunately, no benefit can be paid if the death or injury is caused by one of the following:

- Participation in any terrorist activity, riot, civil commotion, rebellion or war.
- Radioactivity or nuclear explosion.
- Wilful and material violation of any criminal law.
- Driving while the concentration of alcohol in your blood exceeds the legal limit.
- Intentional intake of drugs, narcotics or medication, unless prescribed by a registered medical practitioner and used as prescribed.
- For life or funeral cover: suicide or deliberate self-injury within 2 years of starting the policy.
- For disability cover: attempted suicide or deliberate self-injury at any time.
- Refusal of treatment recommended by a registered medical practitioner.
- Hazardous pursuits. These are unusually dangerous activities that the insured person engages in regularly, not occasionally. Examples include, but aren't limited to: big game hunting, boxing, mixed martial arts, outdoor rock climbing, skydiving, motor and boat racing, as well as white water rafting.

Changing your policy

Cooling-off

If you change your mind within 31 days of taking out your policy, you can cancel your policy with a full return of any paid premium.

Adjusting benefits

You can request that cover is increased at any time. However, if increased:

- within 6 months of taking out the policy, the main insured person will need to complete a simple declaration of good health.
- more than 6 months after taking out the policy, the main insured person will need to re-answer all the relevant underwriting questions.
- A new waiting period will apply for the additional cover.

You can also add new benefits and new family members to the Funeral benefit.

Any increases to the cover are subject to the cover limits described in this document.

Your existing cover can be decreased at any time, for example if you can no longer afford the premium. It cannot be decreased below our minimum cover amounts. These are:

- Life: R50,000

GLOSSARY

Life insurance is full of strange language. Hopefully these definitions will help :)

Accidental death or disability

Death or disability caused by a sudden and unexpected event that happens at a clear time and place. An accident is usually something violent, external and outside your control that happens to the insured person.

Beneficiary

If the insured person dies or is disabled, the beneficiary is the person who receives the lump sum payment.

Cooling-off period

A 31-day window after the policyholder takes out the policy, during which the policy can be cancelled with a full refund of premiums.

Simply Financial Services (Pty) Ltd is a registered financial services provider (FSP 47146). T&Cs online.

Hollard Life Assurance Company Limited
(Reg No. 1993/001405/06), a Licensed Life Insurer
and an authorised Financial Services Provider

Deferred period

This is the period between when an event happens and when benefits start being paid. So, for example, if you are disabled, there will be a short period between when the insured person becomes disabled, and when the payout takes place. This is to confirm that they will not recover before paying.

Exclusions

These are situations or causes of claims where the cover cannot be paid out. They are explained in a section above called "REASONS A CLAIM CAN'T BE PAID".

Grace period

If you fail to pay a premium on the due date, the insured lives will remain covered for another 60 days ("the Grace Period"). If your next payment also fails, the cover will lapse (end) after those 60 days. We may continue to attempt to collect a premium for a further month, and if successful the cover will automatically be reactivated.

Hazardous pursuits

These are unusually dangerous activities that the insured person engages in regularly, not occasionally. Examples include, but aren't limited to: big game hunting, boxing, mixed martial arts, outdoor rock climbing, skydiving, motor and boat racing, as well as white water rafting.

Insured person

The person whose life is covered by the policy. When the insured person dies or is disabled, a lump sum is paid out. There can be multiple insured persons covered under a Simply Funeral benefit.

Lump sum

A lump sum is the total amount of cover paid out in one payment, rather than the cover being paid out over time in smaller regular payments.

Natural causes

Causes of death or disability like disease and old age, rather than those related to violence or an accident.

Policyholder

The person who takes out the policy and who is responsible for paying the monthly premium.

Waiting period

This is the period directly after you've taken out the policy - you need to pay premiums, but the cover is limited until the waiting period is over. For more details of the cover during the waiting period, please see earlier in this document.

Underwriter

This is the company who will be responsible for paying any claims that are made. They are also referred to as the insurer in this document.
