

The big kind wolf and the little sneaky puppy

One day a wolf was walking to his house and he heard a bark nearby. He saw a little puppy following him. The wolf looked around but there was no one looking for a puppy. The wolf had an idea - he will bring him home and take care of him.

The wolf carried the puppy home and he opened the door and made a bed for the dog to sleep in. The puppy did not like it and when the wolf was asleep he would try to go in the wolf's bed. Instead of going in that proper place he will go in the very nice bed and the puppy went to the wolf's bedroom and got in his bed. The puppy got in the bed and in the morning he would make the bed to make the wolf think he was not in his bed and he would never know he was in the bed. The next day the wolf found the puppy was lying in the bed. The wolf knew the secret of the puppy. The wolf let the puppy stay in there until he was old enough to sleep in this own bed
