

Happy Friday!

I just wanted to say a massive well done to everyone in our school community. We now have 75% of children accessing their learning online. For those not online, they are collecting work packs from school, or using the website to access the videos. We fully understand the challenges that learning at home entails but I'm sure you'd join me in a massive thank you to all the school staff for all the super quality learning they are providing. We would definitely like to thank the children for sharing all their super quality learning. It is important with home learning that you set your own schedules and routines and have definite cut offs. Try not to let it take up the whole day, make sure you take the scheduled breaks and fit in time for all those other important family activities, especially some fun exercise, keep trying our daily PE challenges and let us know how you're getting on.

We have some really exciting news about how we will support you with reading. We have subscribed to MyOn, an online reading platform which has thousands and thousands of books for your children to enjoy. We will let you know when and how to log on very soon.
