17TH JUNE 2022

Dear Everyone,

What beautiful weather to finish off a very productive week of learning. I look forward to my daily visits to each class room to hear about all the things that they are learning and remembering. This week saw 4 additional visitors come into school to look at our provision for those children who sometimes need a little bit extra support. They were blown away by what the children are learning and as ever the amazing Behaviours for Learning our children demonstrate.

This week is a Flexi Friday week so the walk around is always that little bit more exciting finding out what new skills are being learnt. This Friday has been no different. In EYFS I was able to book my tortoise in for an appointment at the vet and I must say the receptionist and vets looked very competent. The only problem is the appointment was for 5pm, I'll be here but will the vets?

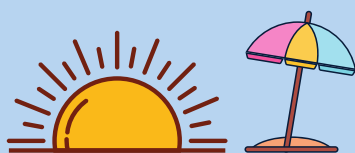

You must check out the website in few days to look at Year 2's amazing animation filming they have been busy creating, Steven Spielberg better watch out.

Art skills have been a definite theme of this week. In Year 3 they have been carefully evaluating Monet's paintings in readiness to create their own. Year 4 are recreating printing tiles based on the work The Great Wave by Hokusai, from the 1700s. Year 5 are testing out different media and getting to grips with abstract art after looking at the art work of Peter Thorpe, an artist who wanted to find a way to use up his left over paint!

Year 6 have been transported using our fabulous Now,Press,Play to a story where it is crucial that they find a way to make electricity.

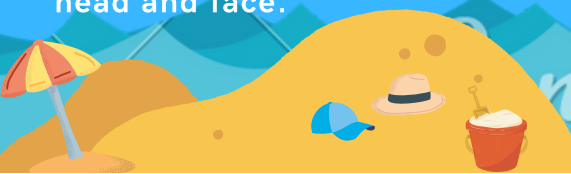

As you can see learning happens in many ways at Turves Green but it does always start at the same time. It is so important that your children are here preferably for 8:40am but definitely no later than 8:50am. It is so tricky for them to start a day when all their friends already know what to do.

Have a great weekend, I hope the rain holds off !!

Top Tips For Beating the Heat

1. Drink lots of water.
2. Avoid the sun between 11am and 2pm.
3. Take rest breaks if you're out and about.
4. Wear hats to protect your head and face.

Sun Protection Policy

(Please see the school website for the full policy)

Children can bring sun cream in to school as long as it is labelled clearly with their name and in a plastic zip lock bag. Children should come to school with sun cream applied if necessary and will be given the opportunity to top up their sun cream at lunch time if they have brought some in.
