A newspaper report which presents all key features of this non-fiction genre, while also adding lots of humour.

A play script which translates directly from the original retelling so children can see exactly how to create a script.

A hilarious persuasive letter from the wolf to the local council, with features of the genre and persuasive writing.

Presenting religious stories in an engaging and sensitive way

The team of Key Stage 2 teachers behind Twinkl Originals know all too well the struggle that is finding an age-appropriate, high-quality text to read when religious festivals come around.

Enter KS2 Originals' first ever picture book: The Story of Easter. This lively and stunning retelling of the Bible story is available to download as part of a Core subscription in eBook, PDF and PowerPoint presentation form.

The well-known story is told from the viewpoint of a first-century woman and is a refreshingly useful version of the story to be used with children of all backgrounds and beliefs due to its neutral standpoint.

Alongside the story, which is filled with powerful imagery and suitably challenging vocabulary, additional resources are available to help you to get the most out of the content; an assembly pack for Key Stage 2, discussion cards, guided reading prompts, story sequencing activities, reading comprehensions and even drama activities make this collection one not to miss.
