BREDA. Merry Christmas

the bulletin

Dear Parents/Carers and Students,

Christmas is nearly here! An exciting time, a time for celebration and a time to take a well-earned rest! However, do you ever really stop, take a breath, and think about what Christmas really means to you and what you really want for Christmas?

Christmas means different things to different people and the modern Christmas is often driven by the pressures of consumerism and thinking that a good Christmas involves giving and receiving lots of gifts and the more fashionable and expensive they are, the better! It is understandable to get drawn into this mindset and as such, lose sight of what we really love about Christmas and what is important to us at this time of the year.

Christmas is the perfect time to reflect on what is precious to us, and to be grateful for what we have. When the presents have been given out and even though they are much appreciated, they can be forgotten quite quickly, not because they are not welcome, but because we know that what we really value and remember most vividly are our experiences, feelings and the emotions which form our most cherished memories. For example, the happy and enjoyable times that we share together, when we give each other a hug, when we laugh with one another, and when we give each other time, attention, and love.

You could argue school life is a bit like Christmas! It is such an important time for students because this is where they forge some of their most memorable and enduring memories. They find and develop their friendships, have fun, engage in activities and clubs, develop new skills, and experience many new challenges. At Breda Academy the staff work tirelessly to create a culture of building strong relationships with our students and to give them the time, care, and attention they require to keep them safe, meet their needs, enjoy school, make progress in their learning, and achieve.

I am very pleased and proud that in the past six years, due to our school culture and the combined hard work and resilience of our students and staff, our examination results have continued to significantly increase year on year. This summer we achieved the best ever GCSE/L2 and A-Level/L3 results in the history of Breda Academy with 98% (62% including Maths & English) of our Year 12 students achieving 5 or more A* - C GCSEs or L2 equivalent grades and 70% of our Year 14 students achieving 3 A* - C A Levels or L3 equivalent grades.

It was also clearly noticeable in our recent winter examinations week that our current students also display a real desire to perform well in their subject exams and were so motivated to make progress in their learning and achieve good grades.

It is also an exciting time at Breda Academy as we continue to expand as a community and in September, we welcomed 132 new Year 8 students who are now flourishing and enjoying school life. We are very proud that the Academy offers all students a 7-year learning journey and our 6th Form also continues to grow and thrive with just over 150 Year 13 and 14 students studying A-Level and Level 3 qualifications. The school is strong and getting stronger!

I hope you will enjoy reading our Breda Bulletin to see what our students have been up to since September and join me in feeling very proud of their recent achievements and successes. You can also keep up to date with what our students and staff have been involved in and which students have made our prestigious 'Hall of Fame' by visiting our school website at <https://www.breda.academy/> and by also viewing the school's Facebook page.

Just like at Christmas, our school community looks forward with optimism to an exciting and bright future. I do hope you will get to spend some quality time with your loved ones this Christmas and share gifts with your family and friends, eat heartily at your Christmas dinner, play board games without falling out, maybe watch a few classic Christmas movies together, and dance and sing to some traditional Christmas songs!

On behalf of the staff at Breda Academy I wish you and your family a very healthy, happy, and enjoyable Christmas time and a New Year full of fortune; as the ancient Latin proverb states, 'Fortune favours the bold, fortune favours the brave and fortune favours the strong.'

My very best wishes and kind regards,

Mr P. Perry – Acting Principal

School Carol Service

We were delighted to once again be able to hold our Carol Service on Thursday, 15th December. It was a real pleasure to listen to the music, singing and readings to celebrate the festive season in a traditional manner. Thank you to our Music Department, Mr Fisher, Mr McMaster, Newtownbreda Baptist, the choir and musicians, the RE department, the EAL department and the HE department for their involvement in organising and hosting this special evening.

The first pupil who goes to see Mrs McWilliams (Head of Maths) with the correct answer will win a prize.

(Taughmonagh Primary)

Since first year, I always looked up to the head students and saw how respected they were, by not only members of staff, but by their classmates and younger students. It was something I aspired to be and it's an honour to be head student. I have made many great memories throughout my years at Breda, but the one that would top everything else would be the ski trip to Bulgaria back in 2018. In particular a close friend of mine being Eddie the Eagle.

My advice to younger pupils would be to listen to their teachers, because believe it or not they actually do know what they're talking about!

Whenever I leave Breda Academy I want to go to University and study English, then do my PCGE and hopefully become an English teacher.

Heads of School

Jake Best
(Taughmonagh Primary)

I wanted to be Head Boy as I wanted to have experience in leadership and organisation, also I will more than likely be asked to be at events outside of school which will give me an idea as to what it is like to have a position of leadership in the future.

My best memory of Breda would be playing for the Breda football team every other week, which I enjoyed as I got to have a laugh with my mates.

My advice for younger pupils would be just to keep your head down and stay focused on work as your time in Breda will fly by.

After school I would like to enlist in the army as it opens so many opportunities to learn and get out of my comfort zone.

PRIZE DISTRIBUTION EVENING 2022

We were delighted to once again be able to hold our 'Prize Distribution Evening' on Wednesday, 27th October 2022. The assembly hall was packed with over 300 guests, and over 80 pupils received prizes in recognition of their academic achievements.

We were treated to musical performances by our school choir and Year 11 Ensemble. A particular highlight of the evening was listening to our guest speaker, Koulla Yiasouma, the Northern Ireland Commissioner for Children and Young People, who was both engaging and inspirational. This was Koulla's third visit to our school and we thank her for her continuing support of our pupils. Everyone also appreciated the delicious refreshments which were all prepared in school by our Home Economics Department.

The school community is very proud of the students who received prizes and thanks to everyone who helped with music, floral arrangements, catering, lighting and speeches.

WHO KNOWS? AFRICAN MUSIC

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Jambo! Year 9 pupils have been learning about African Music this term. Pupils have enjoyed finding out about traditional African instruments, playing the djembe and while learning about The Lion King production, they played well known melodies from the show and got behind the scenes access information. Did you know that in the musical The Lion King, the cast have their footwear dyed to match their exact skin colour and it is updated if they come back from holiday with a suntan? We even had a go at learning a little Swahili too. Hakuna Matata!

YEAR 9

HEALTH & SOCIAL CARE DEPARTMENT

Health & Social Care students have been encouraged to take on a monthly challenge and step outside their comfort zone. Students have really enjoyed the challenges thus far and have valued the learning opportunities promoted beyond the classroom to challenge their body or mind. Below is the challenge schedule until the end of December, with further challenges posted in the New Year. Are you brave enough to take part?

- September: British Sign language course - Learn basic of sign language online. Visit the British Sign Language website for more information.
- October: Walk 30 minutes each day.
- November: Unplug and reduce screen time - do not look at your phone for the entire school day. Do this at least once a week.
- December: Drink more water - aim to drink 2 litres each day (British Nutrition Foundation)

PE DEPARTMENT

A round up of the first term's sport.

- Our year 10/11 girls' team made it to the semi finals of the regional futsal competition at the Shankill Leisure Centre. They were very unlucky to lose 1-0 to the eventual winners.
- Our year 11 boys beat Forthill College 2-0 in their first league match. Our year 9 team beat Laurelhill 5-0 on our most recent match and are now looking very strong after an early season blip.
- Our year 8 inter class Rugby competition was a roaring success with over 40 participants.
- Our year 8/9 team played their first rugby match v Glasstry and although the result was negative, the performance and heart were encouraging.
- After school dance club has started with a glowing report from our professional dance instructor, and we are now targeting the NIC MAC schools dance competition in March 2023.

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Psychology at Level 3 continues to be a popular subject at Breda, with our students learning about psychological explanations for aggression, gender, consumer behaviour and criminality. A group of Year 13 students (Emily, Shakira, Holly and Kinga) have signed up to do the online Criminology and Criminal Justice course with the Ulster University's Outreach Academy's online course in criminal psychology to prepare them for their criminal profiling report next year!

There is a wide range of FREE courses available for students through all key stages, so we would encourage everyone to have a look and sign up for free.

GEOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT

The Geography Department has had a busy, fun-filled and learning-rich first term!

Year 8 - They have settled in well and have learnt lots of maps and all about how settlements change over time. Year 9 - They are learning all about Weather – we have some budding weather forecasters in our midst!

Year 10 - This group has been learning about Tourism and how the COVID-19 pandemic has changed our tourist activities.

Year 11 - During the start of their GCSE course, they have been enjoying learning about Populations, Urban Areas and OS Maps.

Finally, our Year 12 students have been learning about Rivers and Coasts – two even took part in a COP27 simulation event in the City Hall with students from schools all across Northern Ireland.

Phew...! Plenty more to come in Term 2!

Here are a few Geography jokes...

Q: What never leaves the corner and yet travels all over the world?

A: A stamp

Q: What is the capital of Alaska?

A: I'm not sure, Juneau this one?

Q: Teacher – What can you tell me about the Dead Sea?

A: Student – I didn't even know it was sick!

ICT Department

The pupils in the ICT department continue to benefit from a range of opportunities hosted by outside agencies. One such event was when the Year 11 ICT class had the most interesting and interactive workshop from Sentinus about Cybersecurity.

Cybersecurity is increasingly important for both companies and the public with regular reports of security breaches and fraud in the media. Students were using MicroPython with the BBC Micro:bit and they learned about sniffing attacks and defences, brute force attacks and defences, creating and strengthening cyphers and other important aspects of security in the cyber world.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The STEM Before Christmas - 5 Festive Science Facts

Hating sprouts is in your genes - Sprouts are the marmite of a good Christmas dinner- you love them or hate them. Have you noticed the divide between those who scream “yuck!” when a sprout goes near their fork versus the people who eat them like sweets? Liking sprouts and other bitter, green vegetables is down to genetics and bacteria living in your mouth. Our genes, the sequences of DNA which dictates the way we are, vary from person to person. We all have a gene which let us taste bitter foods, but some of us have a version of that gene which makes sprouts taste much, much worse. That’s why you get differences around the dinner table.

Then there’s the microbiome living in your mouth. A microbiome is the name given to a group of microorganisms which live in an environment, in this case your mouth. They’re not dangerous and actually help start the digestion process when you eat food. But some people, children in particular, have microbiomes that make bitter foods taste much worse, which is probably why lots of us spat out the sprouts and broccoli when we were little.

Rudolph doesn’t have a shiny nose - “Rudolph the red nosed reindeer, had a very shiny nose,”, but did you know, thanks to evolution, they don’t actually have shiny noses?

Reindeers are found in the coldest parts of the world where they live with the help of numerous adaptations thanks to evolution. Evolution is where animals change over thousands of years to better suit their habitat and increase their chances of survival. Reindeer have evolved wide hooves to make walking on the snow easier and a special circulatory system to make sure their blood stays warm at temperatures as low as -21°C . Most importantly, reindeers have two layers of fur which cover their entire bodies to stay warm- including their noses. In fact, they are the only deer species with hairy noses. This means Rudolph couldn’t have a shiny nose!

I’m dreaming of a white Christmas - Compared to all the snow we see in Christmas movies, cards and decorations, the odds of real snow on Christmas Day aren’t that high. According to the Met Office, the UK’s leading meteorologists/weather predicting wizards, snow fall is more likely after Christmas. On average, December sees 3.9 days where snow falls anywhere in the UK, whilst we get 5.3 days in January, 5.6 days in February and 4.2 days in March.

Every snowflake is (most probably) unique - No two snow flakes are the same, everyone knows that... or do they? What are the chances of two different flakes actually being the same? Let’s have a look at what makes a snowflake. Snowflakes are ice crystals made in very specific air temperatures, pressures and humidity. Any changes in those can influence the way water molecules bond together before they eventually rest on the ground. On top of all of that, your average snowflake is made of 10,000,000,000,000,000,000 (ten quintillion) different molecules of water. These can arrange themselves in a near-infinite number of ways! That makes the odds of two exact replicas very, very low - as low as you can get.

Why Christmas pudding burns blue -If your family lights their pudding this Christmas you might notice it glows with a blue flame. Here’s why. There’s a bit of simple chemistry behind the Christmas pudding’s blue flame. Brandy is an alcoholic liquor with a high concentration of ethanol which, among other things, is a fuel. Ethanol is very flammable and when someone takes a flame to it, it quickly reacts with the oxygen in the air and ignites. Ethanol reacts very well with oxygen with very few waste products, this is called complete combustion. It gives the Christmas pudding its clean, blue flame.

WAR POETRY YEAR 9

'What happened in Auschwitz?', I hear you ask
Let's see when the Nazis started to unmask.
You'll find a little fascist man, drinking his gin
Plotting world domination - he believes he can win!
The fences are high
The outlook is bleak
The Jews are inside, with little to eat.
With nothing on their bare feet.
Their hope of survival will soon disappear,
As the tiny tyrant, terror of a man made the Nazis salute and cheer.
The little kids crying out for their mamas,
Their eyes were sunken,
The sky was grey,
Their bones protrude in an unhealthy way.
Now the world can see what happened, with dismay
At the hand of an unsympathetic, impulsive man-child
Whom the Nazis portrayed in a different way.

By Jack Giles.

I'm one of the Jews
One of the accused,
Since Hitler came to power
He swore to help Germany
He promised; he swore.
But now all we have is a horrific war.

Our country we have lost,
And into camps, we were tossed.
Life has been so tough,
I'm starting to fear death...

In starting to fear death
I'm starting to fear my final breath
When will enough be enough?

By Callum Macdonald

9CH pupils have been reading 'The Boy in the Striped Pyjamas' by John Boyne and were inspired to write these moving poems.

They were taken on a train to a gloomy place.
With a confused and pitiful look on each face.
The ones on the left were told to shower
By a poisonous gas they were then devoured.
The Jews on the right remained confused
Unknown to them, their families abused.
You could hear their screams all around,
This heart-breaking cry, the only sound ...

Christmas messages

Mr Galbraith (Head of Year 8)

This Christmas, put the phone away and spend time enjoying the company with the people around you.

Mrs McWilliams (Head of Year 9)

I would like to wish all my wonderful Year 9 pupils a very Merry Christmas. It has been a busy term so I hope you get to relax over the holidays and spend time with your family and friends. I am looking forward to getting out for some nice winter walks with my family and enjoying all the lovely Christmas treats (chocolate orange is my favourite!) over the festive period. Whatever you get up to over the next couple of weeks, please stay safe and remember to always be kind. See you in 2023!

P.S I really hope it snows!

I hope each of you has a fantastic Christmas break and really make the most of your time off to unwind, relax, celebrate, and spend some quality time with those closest to you. You all deserve a great Christmas and I look forward to hearing about it when I see you again in January.

Merry Christmas everyone and a Happy New Year.

Mr Henry (Head of Sixth Form)

This Christmas my aim is to enjoy the run up to Christmas Day and to have all my shopping complete well in advance. The turkey is ordered and the brussel sprouts are already bought and in the fridge. The X-Box is wrapped and hidden in then attic for my soon to be 12 year old son. From me to you have a great Christmas holiday and I hope you all have been good and that Santa comes to the big Sixth Formers!

Happy Christmas!

Mr Henry

PS How much did Santa pay for his sleigh?

Nothing! It was on the house.

South Eastern Health Trust hosted a virtual nursing event to provide an opportunity for students to inform their career decisions and explore opportunities. During the zoom call, students heard from many staff who are employed within the trust including clinical and support staff, and are based in different settings. Individual staff members provided a synopsis of the different roles of nursing and outlined a typical day including details of shift patterns. The various pathways to nursing was also discussed including the qualifications needed and some shared their personal experiences.

WORK

WORK EXPERIENCE WEEK

The CEIAG team has been busy this term. There have been numerous year groups involved in work experience, we have had Young Enterprise into school delivering tailored workshops for year 8 and year 13 and The Royal Navy visited us to explain the different job roles within the Navy and inspiring students to think about their future careers. The Gatsby Benchmarks are a framework of 8 guidelines that define the best careers provision in schools and colleges.

Here is how we meet the Gatsby Bench marks in Breda Academy ...

1 A STABLE CAREERS PROGRAMME

This is delivered in KS3 through LLW classes, KS4 classes have an essential skills lesson each week.

2 LEARNING FROM CAREER AND LABOUR MARKET INFORMATION

Students are kept up to date via LLW lessons and guest speakers and workshops.

3 ADDRESSING THE NEEDS OF EACH PUPIL

This is ongoing by teachers and in year 12 an individual phone call with a career's advisor takes place.

4 LINKING CURRICULUM LEARNING TO CAREERS

Each subject has mapped this into their schemes of work to ensure students are aware of subject specific careers.

5 ENCOUNTERS WITH EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES

This is provided via guest speakers and during work placement.

6 EXPERIENCES OF WORKPLACES

All year 11 (June) and year 13(October) complete one week of work experience
