St. Flannan's National School is a Catholic co-educational primary school with a Catholic ethos under the patronage of the Killaloe Diocese of Bishop Fintan Monahan.

"Catholic Ethos" in the context of a Catholic primary school means the ethos and characteristic spirit of the Roman Catholic Church, which aims at promoting:

- (a) the full and harmonious development of all aspects of the person of the pupil, a living relationship with God and with other people; and
- (b) including the intellectual, physical, cultural, moral and spiritual aspects; and
- (c) a philosophy of life inspired by belief in God and in the life, death and resurrection of Jesus; and
- (d) the formation of the pupils in the Catholic faith;

and which school provides religious education for the pupils in accordance with the doctrines, practices and traditions of the Roman Catholic Church, and/or such ethos and/or characteristic spirit as may be determined or interpreted from time to time by the Irish Episcopal Conference.

In accordance with S.15 (2) (b) of the Education Act, 1998 the Board of Management of St. Flannan's National School shall uphold, and be accountable to the patron for so upholding, the characteristic spirit of the school as determined by the cultural, educational, moral, religious, social, linguistic and spiritual values and traditions which inform and are characteristic of the objectives and conduct of the school.

Our school provides an education founded on an appreciation of childhood and family. It fosters an environment that values the physical, emotional, social, spiritual and intellectual growth of children. This requires the creation of a school community where the human differences present in our school and in our society are acknowledged, respected, esteemed and viewed as essential, and where ideas and behaviours that oppress others are challenged and addressed through an educational process.

Our school supports the principles of; inclusiveness, equality of access and participation in school, parental choice in relation to enrolment and respect for diversity of values, beliefs, traditions, languages and ways of life in society.

Our vision for the pupils who attend our school is that by the time they leave our school;

Academically they will be literate, numerate, have acquired the skills for life long learning and will be open to using new skills as they are being developed.

Physically they will have developed an appreciation of physical well-being, having due regard for a healthy lifestyle, both of body and mind.

Morally they will be guided by Christian values and thus incorporating respect for themselves, for others and for their environment while having developed a social conscience.

Emotionally they will have developed a strong sense of self, being able to understand and express their feelings and be able to accept and listen to others.

Spiritually they will have developed a strong sense of ease and comfort within themselves.

Aesthetically they will have developed individuality, clarity, objectivity and openness in visual appreciation.

Culturally they will have developed national and international perspective.

Socially they will have an awareness and respect for diversity and be conscientious towards their contemporaries and peers.

Personally they will have an acceptance of their personal self worth and realise their potential value and contribution to society.

They will be ready to face the next stage of their lives, happy in the knowledge that their presence in the world matters and that it makes their community a better place for having them as part of it.
