Areas for improvement identified through inspection/self-evaluation:

Last year was a difficult school year with a school move and teaching staff involved in Action Short of Strike. This resulted in reduced time available to fulfil coordinator roles and it is important to note that and duties that would have been carried out previously weren't fulfilled. This resulted in staff feeling that the target wasn't fully met. The focus was mental maths and the school was provided with training.

This year, we are now settled on our new site, ASOS has ended and we have new management in place. As a staff, we decided to start afresh and conducted consultation with all stakeholders regarding whole school development.

I sent questionnaires to teachers and pupils regarding numeracy, specifically in Oct. Most teachers stated that facts and procedures was an area for improvement. Pupils stated that they were unsure of times tables and division facts and as this is such an important area of numeracy, we have decided to improve this as a school.

Where are we now? (With reference to areas for improvement noted above)Whole School Analysis

Results show an increase in pupils working within stanines 1-3 in comparison with previous years. The Rang 4/5 class had a particularly tough year as they lost their teacher at Halloween, and had various substitutes until Christmas, with another teacher from January on. This possibly had an impact on the results. From the tables below you can see that Rang 4(PIM 8) is -1.7% below the national average standardised score in 'Measure' and -1.6 below in 'Facts and Procedures'. Rang 5(PIM9) is -0.5 in 'Data Handling'. The Rang 6 and Rang 7 class from last year showed no areas in which the class was below the average standardised %. On a whole results are good but as always there is room for improvements. Results shown do prove that Facts and Procedures is an area for improvement.
