To date there has been nothing but delays and excuses by State Parks.

Why? Because the Stipulated Order of Abatement really didn't have any teeth in it. Obviously, trusting State Parks to take the issue seriously is a waste of time. In the mean time, full time residents and workers on the Nipomo Mesa continue to suffer with health issues and compromised living standards such as not being able to enjoy an out door life style. We simply cannot recreate safely during many weeks of the year. Not to mention the dangers to children and people who have jobs outside.

What a shame, all this money and time spent on continual time wastes with meetings on public work plans, meetings for so many agencies and very little movement or results. A bit of an embarrassment for a state that prides itself on supposedly being a consumer protection state.

Here's the deal, scrap the SOA and any cut and paste changes with the revised SOA. State Parks has proven itself unreliable and an uncaring organization that will "glad hand" other agencies, make nice nice and do nothing and always ask for extensions when they don't make a few arbitrary time frames. They have out the clock. No more chances.

Discontinue motor vehicle activity on the La Grande Tract, the source of most of the dangerous pollution until the mitigation has occurred.

Also, keeping the seasonal enclosure closed all year round.
State Parks doesn't deserve a seat at the table. No more negotiations until this problem is fixed...and soon.

In the mean time, residents like me have to keep the ugly, expensive filter going and never leave a window open accidentally. Not to mention altering my life considerably. Can you say being held hostage by state agencies?
