SALIS @ Chania

THE BEST restaurant in Chania, at the old venetian port (reservation required). Pimped Greek traditional dishes and an extended wine list. All vegetables are grown in the owners garden.

Venizelos Grave

The first president of Greece after the era of the kings is buried in his home town Chania. For many Greeks a hero and attracts many visitors. From here one can overlook CHANIA city and the harbor.

Koukouvaya (Owl)

Near Venizelos grave, THE Place to be known for its greek sweets, coffees and cocktails. From this bar you can experience the most amazing sunsets with panoramic views over Chania City.

Carte postale

A panoramic restaurant in the proximity of Koukouvayia. Enjoy a cocktails and fancy food while overlooking CHANIA city and enjoy the amazing sunsets.

Daytrip " AKROTIRI "

Here is a daily excursions we recommend. Akrotiri is the peninsula north of Chania. From the terrace of "Villa Limani" you can overlook this part of Crete opposite of Souda bay.

Seitan Limania

Near the airport, a little difficult to find and after an adventurous descent you will enjoy one of the most impressive beaches ; the devils harbor, used by smugglers.

Arrive on the morning because at 15.00h there is only shade.

Beaches

Stavros beach - known for the scene in ZORBA the Greek - North West of Akrotiri, there are a number of beaches with beach bars and local tavernas, all are sandy beaches.

Fresh fish @ Marathi

Pantrelantonis (see photo) restaurant is well known for super fresh fish (we recommend the fried calamari). The weekend many Greek from Chania spent their afternoon eating and talking.

APTERA ancient ruins

From Villa Limani towards Chania, you will pass the ruins of Aptera. It is worth a short stop to have a look at the amphitheater and the nice view over Souda bay and the entire Apokoronas from the old castle.

Agia Triada Monasteri

Also near the airport is Agia Triada, not the most famous but certainly the most beautiful of the monasteries.

Don't forget you camera for the many photogenic greek cats !

Marathi beach & local fish taverna's

Heading from Venizelos Grave towards the airport, turn right at the roundabout at the military station near the airport. Marathi is a little port with a couple of sandy beaches, overlooking the white mountains opposite of Souda Bay.

Many Greek will spent their weekend in one of the famous fish restaurants in the afternoon. Beste place for eating fish is
