Pan European Region of the International Association for Dental Research Congress

10 -12 September 2020
Marseille, France - Palais du Pharo

CED-IADR members & research friends,

We live in an era where many aspects of our lives may overwhelm the efforts in multilateral excellence. Yet, we strongly believe that research is advancing when people with different backgrounds and perspectives exchange scientific ideas and outcomes with peers and colleagues.

The PAN EUROPEAN REGION of the International Association for Dental Research (PER-IADR) will connect the five European Divisions of IADR: BSODR (British), CED-IADR (Continental European Division), Irish Division, Israeli Division and NOF (Scandinavian Division) by organizing a PER-IADR congress in Marseille, France.

Save already the dates in your agenda: SEPTEMBER 10-12, 2020.

Our objective is to provide a larger platform for presentations, discussions & spreading of new scientific information and to improve the cooperation across country borders. We expect to have more than 1200 participants and be the largest dental multi-disciplinary scientific meeting in Europe organized by CED-IADR. We are putting all possible efforts to make your stay as enjoyable and as rich as possible.

Together with the Scientific Committee members, we will program two-and-half day parallel sessions with oral and poster presentations, keynote and symposium lectures.

2020 PER-IADR Congress venue 'Palais du Pharo' at the old harbour of Marseille, France.

The congress will take place at the very gorgeous place "Palais du Pharo", which is located in the old city quarter of Marseille and has an exceptional view both over the bay and the old harbour of Marseille. Besides, Marseille is a major French centre for trade and industry with excellent transportation infrastructure (roads, seaport, airport and the famous high speed trains "TGV"). Marseille is also France's second largest research centre, hosting the large and prestigious Aix Marseille University.

It will be easy to combine science with relaxation in Marseille, as it is also very famous for its gastronomy and relaxing activities. You can enjoy delicious typical food, such as "la Bouillabaisse", and, with the wonderful weather in September, you can practice sailing, swimming, hiking and climbing in the famous creeks ("Les Calanques")...

It is therefore with the utmost delight that I invite you to attend our PER-IADR congress in Marseille. Let us together boost Oral Health Research in Europe.

See you in Marseille!

Yours sincerely,

Imad About

CED-IADR President &
2020 PER-IADR Congress President

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND THE PAN EUROPEAN REGIONAL (PER-IADR) ORAL HEALTH RESEARCH CONGRESS IN MARSEILLE, FRANCE FROM SEPTEMBER 10-12, 2020

PER-IADR was founded to combine forces of the five European IADR Divisions involved, namely – BSODR, CED-IADR, Irish Division, Israeli Division and Scandinavian Division. Every second year, PER-IADR organizes its oral and dental health scientific meeting, which is then organized within one of the five European Divisions (over 2.100 members altogether).

MAJOR MEETING FACTS AND HIGHLIGHTS SUMMARIZED IN BRIEF:

- More than 1.200 attendees expected.
- Various scientific award competitions for young researchers.
- Special € 190,- reduced IADR student-registration fee.
- The conference venue Pharo Palace is located in the old city quarter of Marseille and at the waterfront.
- Opening ceremony (on Thursday evening) and PER-IADR Get-together (on Friday evening) will be held at the terrace of Pharo Palace with the exceptional view over the bay of Marseille.
- For more details, please visit our meeting website www.per-iadr2020.com

CALL FOR 'ABSTRACT REVIEWERS' AND 'COMPETITION JURY MEMBERS':

We are looking for volunteers to review abstracts for the upcoming PER-IADR Oral Health Research Congress in Marseille (September 10-12, 2020). The task of each member of the Scientific Committee is to review about 50 abstracts. The ABSTRACTS will need to be peer-reviewed from the end of April 2020 until mid-May 2020. The Scientific Committee will work only via email/online (no meetings are scheduled).

Moreover, we are looking for jury members for the CED-IADR Robert Frank Award Competition. In this function, you will be expected to serve as a jury member during the competition on Wednesday afternoon (a day before the CED/PER-IADR congress starts) and to score independently the competitors and their research using an individual competition score sheet.

To candidate, be welcome to send your half-page short CV and field of scientific interest to ced.iadr@uzleuven.be.
