Get Peace of Mind against a silent killer. If you have a gas heater, gas logs, gas water heater, any gas appliances, or a garage attached to your home, You need a carbon monoxide detector.

Carbon Monoxide is an odorless, tasteless, invisible gas which can cause your blood to stop absorbing oxygen. Without a working carbon monoxide detector, it is impossible to detect it in your home.

With the a Carbon Monoxide Alarm, you can have peace of mind knowing your home is safe. With detection as low as 30 PPM (parts per million) you will receive an early alarm that the gas is in your home before its affects occur. The sensor checks levels every 15 seconds and provides an audible alarm to notify you when unsafe. The alarm plugs into any outlet and has a permanent rechargeable backup battery.
