

Once upon a time
there was the Princess and the Pea

Prince

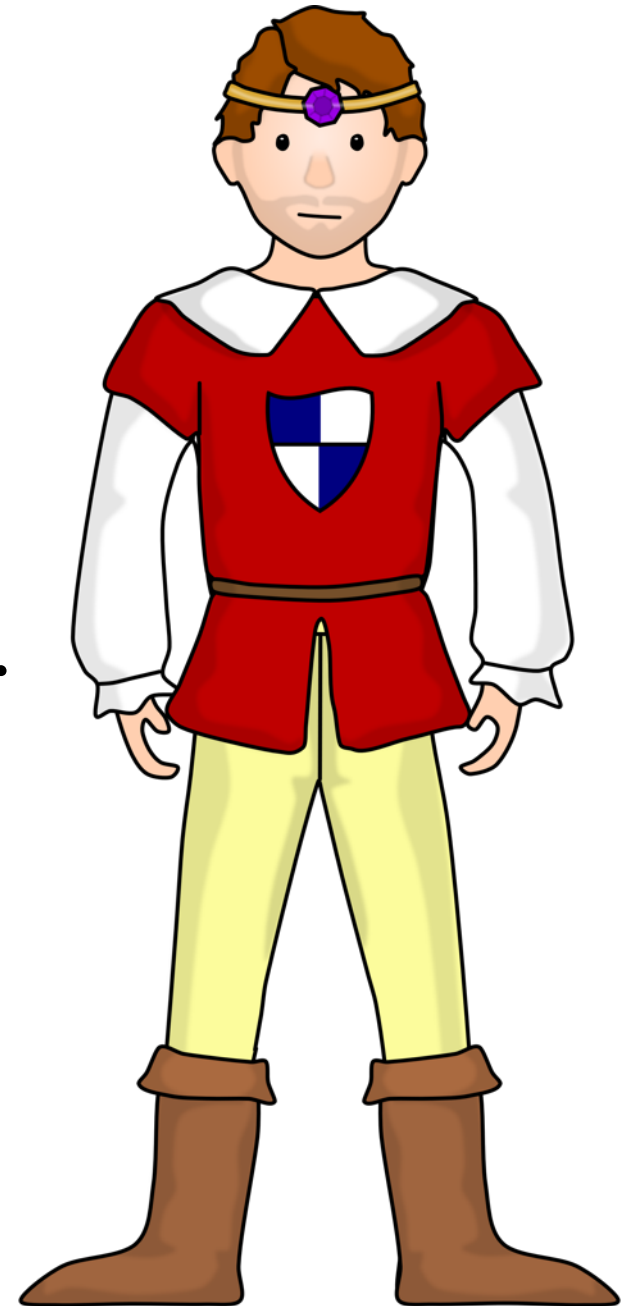

Princess

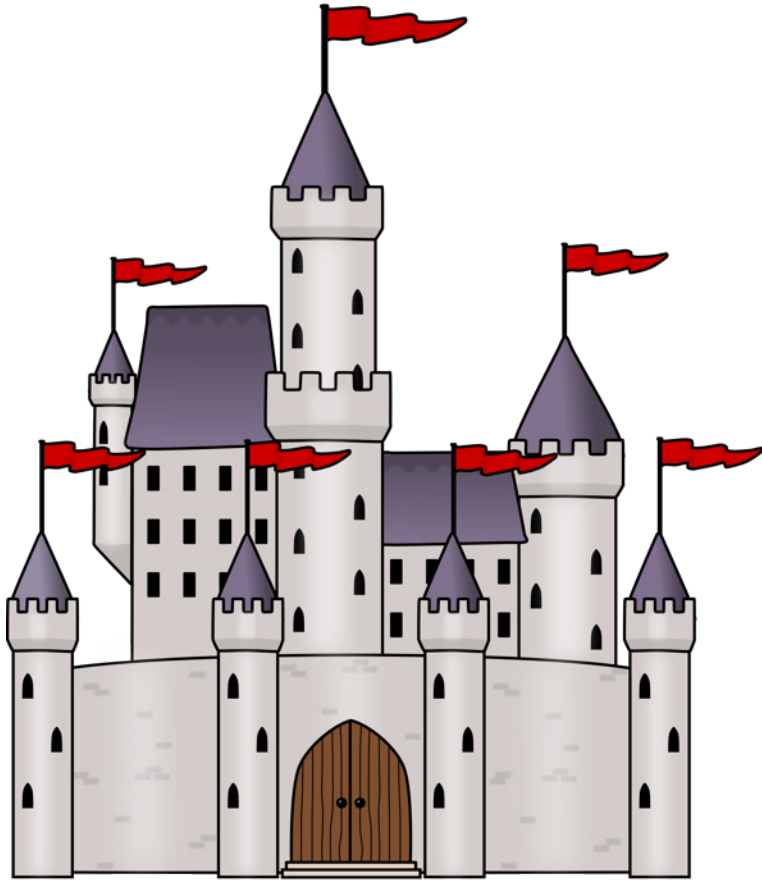

The prince wanted to marry a real princess. He travelled and searched...

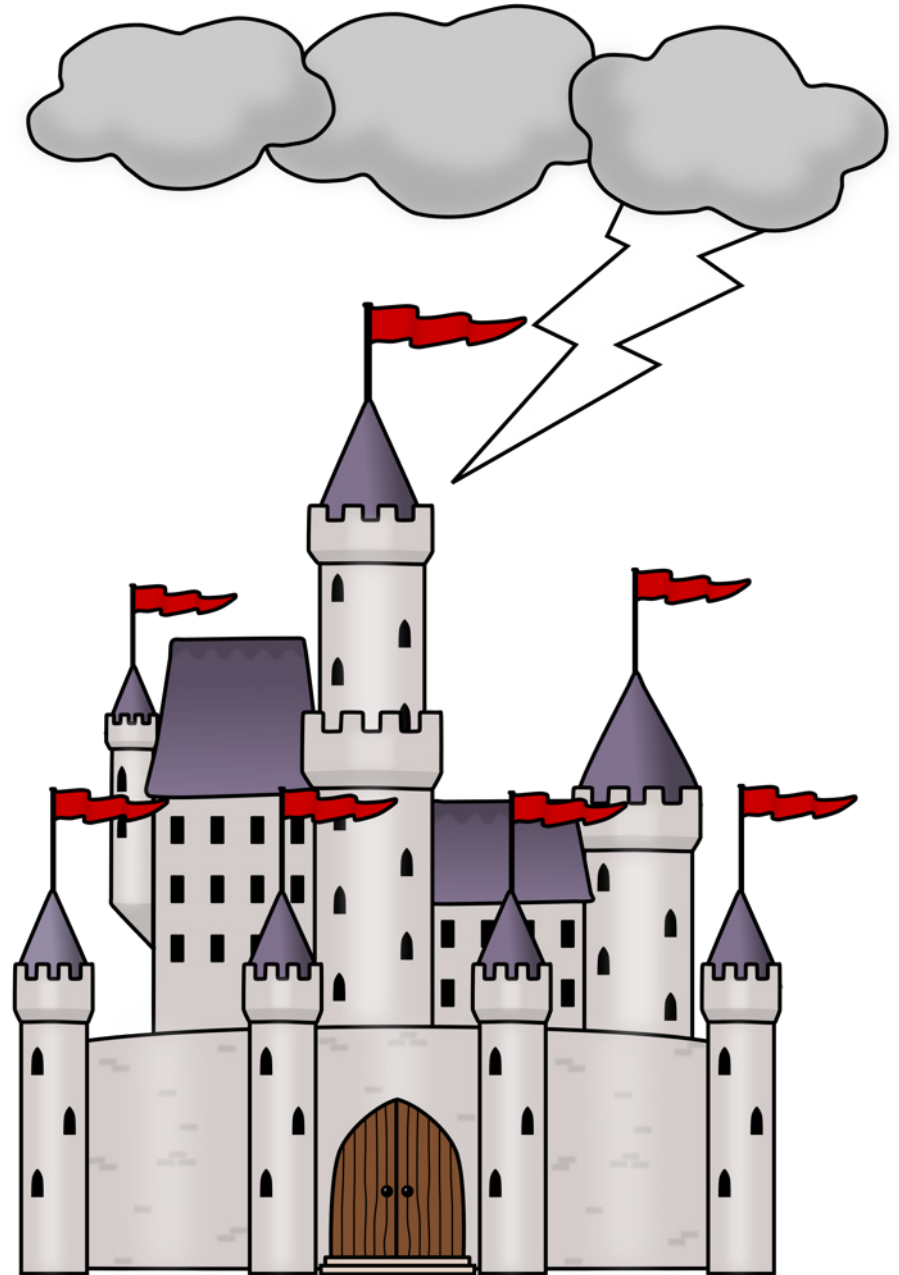

...but he never found her.

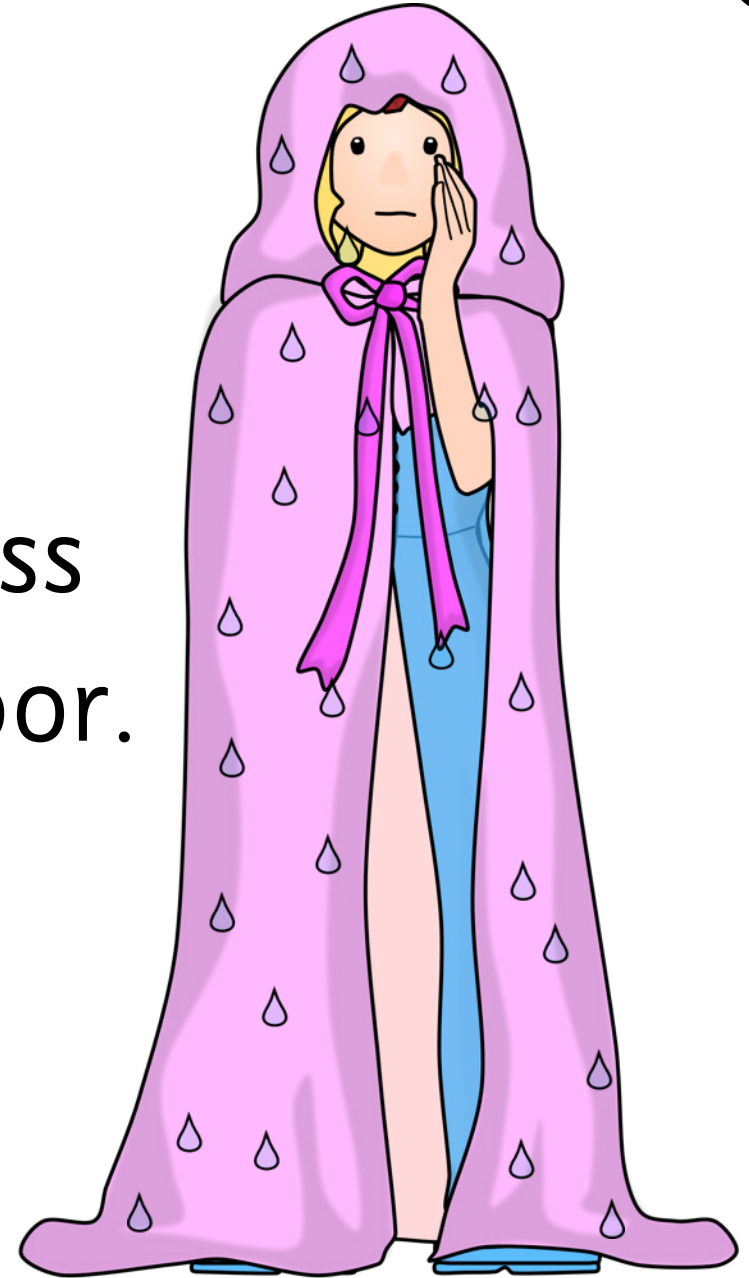

He returned to the castle feeling sad.

One night there was a big storm.

A ragged and wet princess knocked on the castle door.

I am a princess,
can I come into the warm?

We shall see if she is a real princess.

The queen put a pea on the bed...

...and piled twenty mattresses and twenty feather quilts above!

That night, the princess slept in the bed.

How did you sleep?

I slept awfully! What was in the bed to make it so uncomfortable?

Only a real princess would feel a tiny pea
through twenty mattresses and quilts!

The happy prince and princess got married.

The pea was put on exhibition at the royal museum.
