SHERRY POSTHUMUS CLUB SPORTS TEAM OF THE YEAR AWARD

Presented to the club sports team that attains the highest standard of athletic performance or that demonstrated a special commitment to participation in local community outreach programs.

TENNIS

Club tennis values not only the achievements on the courts, but the relationships built off them. In 2021-22, Stanford placed second in NorCal Sectionals and 18th at nationals. The team won the annual Cow Town Showdown to close out the year. More importantly, the squad worked on building community both inside and outside the club. Unlike many other club sports teams, members were committed to spending time with each other outside practice times. The team spearheaded programs to engage the tennis-loving community at Stanford by opening practices to friends of the club and promoting the IM tennis programs. The team is notoriously known for its passion for cheering each other on within the USTA Tennis on campus program, which has been translated into our vigor when cheering on the women's varsity tennis team. Club tennis is excited for what the team has in store next year with such an enthusiastic and talented young group.

SHIRLEY SCHOOF CLUB SPORTS ATHLETE OF THE YEAR AWARD

Presented to the student-athlete on a club team who demonstrates outstanding leadership, exemplifies fair play/sportsmanship, achieves excellence within the sport and is committed to community service.

MAYA MADERE

CLIMBING – COMPUTER SCIENCE

Runner-up at USA Climbing Collegiate National Championships in bouldering ... finished third in sport climbing ... qualified for the 2022 USA Climbing National Team in bouldering with a second-place standing at USA Climbing National Team Trials ... competes in the World Cup circuit, representing the United States ... contributes so much to making the Stanford Climbing Team a welcoming yet motivating environment for all levels of climbers and inspires members to train hard.

ANDY WANG

SWIMMING – COMPUTER SCIENCE

One of the most accomplished club swimming athletes at Stanford ... regularly won every race he swam, always with a smile on his face ... teams from around the area know Andy and love seeing him at competitions ... always a class act who loves swimming for the sake of swimming ... pushes everyone around him to be faster ... placed second, second, third and fourth in individual races at College Club Swimming National Championships ... second and third-place finishes were only beaten by former varsity swimmers from a Power 5 Division I program whose varsity team was cut last year ... the fifth highest point scorer of any individual swimmer at a meet of over 2,000 athletes ... led two relays to top-5 finishes and helped the men's team place 11th overall.

ARTHUR F. DAUER MEMORIAL SPORTS PERFORMANCE AWARD

Administered by the Director of Sports Performance, this award honors the student-athlete who not only displays maximum effort on and off the field of competition, but also brings out the best in his/her teammates through positive attitude, relentless work ethic and consistent commitment to performance enhancement. The award is given in memory of Arthur F. Dauer '59.

KEYSHAWN KING

TRACK AND FIELD – PSYCHOLOGY/SOCIOLOGY
The Buck/Cardinal Club

“Keyshawn’s character, leadership, discipline, and work ethic have been a joy to watch. He directly has a positive impact on those around him, bringing energy to practice and weight room sessions and encouraging others to be the best version of themselves. His commitment to self-improvement has been evident and allowed his physical, technical, and mental development to improve each year.”

- Thomas Gesser, Sports Performance Coach

JORDAN MCKINNEY

BEACH VOLLEYBALL – BIOLOGY
The John Arrillaga Family Scholarship II

“For four years, Jordan has been one of the most consistent athletes in the weight room. Her consistency is only matched by her love of training and her dedication to pushing herself. She has always desired to put in the extra work, and along the way, she has motivated teammates to do the same. She has been integral in the positive weight room culture of the beach volleyball team. With aspirations to pursue a dual doctorate (PhD and MD), Jordan exemplifies giving maximum effort and embodies the meaning of this award.”

- Tyler Friedrich, Sports Performance Coach

BOB MURPHY AWARD

Presented to the student-athlete whose unforgettable performance in an athletic contest will secure a place in Stanford Athletics history.

FRANCESCA BELIBI

BASKETBALL – HUMAN BIOLOGY

The Jesse and Mindy Rogers Family Athletic Scholarship
The Allan A. and Betsy Ann Harris Athletic Scholarship for Women

Francesca Belibi continued to etch her name in the history of not just Stanford Athletics, but the sport of basketball. After blocking a shot on the perimeter in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, the first postseason basketball game with fans for Stanford in three years, Belibi ran the length of the floor and dunked, becoming the first woman to ever dunk in a game at Maples Pavilion. She is the third woman to ever dunk in an NCAA Tournament game, and first since 2013, while she is one of just eight women to dunk in a college game all-time.

ALSO CONSIDERED:

Curran Phillips, gymnastics: With the pressure on, Curran Phillips was slated to compete the most difficult routine in the entire meet and most difficult routine currently being done in the world. Curran nailed it. He not only posted the highest score on parallel bars, but the highest score at the NCAA Championships. It was a moment when all the other teams had to resign themselves that no one was going to catch Stanford for the national title.

Cara Sambeth, field hockey: Sidelined due to a thumb injury, Cara Sambeth volunteered to play goalkeeper because the team did not have one during the 2021 season. With two practice sessions and a game under her belt, she saved a penalty stroke versus UMass Lowell to send Stanford to the America East Conference tournament. Saving a penalty stroke is an elite skill for the most decorated goalkeepers in the country. Cara saved one in her second Division I game.

CONFERENCE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

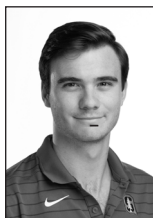

Presented to a student-athlete who distinguishes herself in conference competition.

After coaching him for one year, it was obvious he had an intangible coaches love to see. He was a gamer. He had the ability to step up and assure a successful routine no matter what the circumstance. You can follow the successes he has strung together and see this is no ordinary athlete. He is humble to the point of being annoying. He is the most competitive athlete we have and someone you can count on every time he is put in the spotlight. He is also someone that pushes those around him to new heights, always challenging the group to achieve at its highest level. His competitive nature and will to continue to push himself to be better no matter his level of success has also allowed him to be the only current collegian to be member of USA Olympic team."

AWARD NAMES DEFINED

Thomas W. Ford Community Service Award – Thomas Ford had a profound impact on the Stanford community. He worked at Stanford for 11 years beginning in 1955 as a legal counsel in the business office, then advanced to be the university's director of land development. He served on the Stanford Athletics Board and The Board of Trustees. In 1989, the Ford Center for Sports and Recreation was dedicated in his honor. Community service was important to him, and he funded many service initiatives in the athletics department. This award was established in memory of Tom in the late 1990s.

Sherry Posthumus Club Sports Team of the Year Award – Sherry Posthumus was an assistant athletics director at Stanford for nearly 25 years before her death in 2007. She was the manager of the men's and women's U.S. Olympic fencing teams in 1988, 1992, and 1996, and was instrumental in developing the Stanford fencing program. This award was established in her memory by her colleagues in the athletics department in 2008.

Shirley Schoof Club Sports Athlete of the Year Award – Shirley Schoof retired in 1999 after working for 35 years for the athletics department. She was a physical education instructor and coach, and served for 20 years as an assistant athletics director. This award was established in her name in 2004 to recognize the impact that Schoof made on the university in the areas of physical education, club sports, and wellness.

Arthur F. Dauer Memorial Sports Performance Award – Arthur Dauer, '59, was a dedicated volunteer who served on many local boards, including the Stanford Athletics Board. This award was established by the Dauer family in 2009.

Bob Murphy Award – Bob Murphy, '53, played baseball for Stanford and became the passionate voice of Cardinal sports from 1965 until his retirement in 2007. As an emcee, Murphy shared his "...unparalleled knowledge of Stanford sports history..." during Stanford competitions. This award was established in 2008 in honor of his service as a broadcaster for the Cardinal.

Jake Gimbel Award – Jacob "Jake" Gimbel was a well-known philanthropist in the 1930s who established this award to recognize a senior who, "Shall have shown the best mental attitude toward athletics."

Pam Strathairn Award – Pamela Strathairn, '45, MA '49, EDD '62, was the women's physical education director at Stanford during the enactment of Title IX. She worked, not only to comply with Title IX, but also to lay the foundation for women's athletics at Stanford. She was a leader in athletics administration when the men's and women's departments merged in 1975, creating a model program for universities across the nation. This award was established to honor and recognize Strathairn for her support of female student-athletes at Stanford.

Dick and Anne Gould Captain's Award – Dick Gould, '59, MA '60, played tennis for Stanford and was the Stanford head men's tennis coach for 38 years from 1966-2004. His Stanford teams won 17 NCAA Championships, and 50 of his players won All-America honors. He went on to serve as the John L. Hinds Director of Tennis until his retirement in 2018. Anne Gould, '72, MA '80, played tennis for Stanford and was the women's tennis coach for four years, coaching the Cardinal's first varsity national championship women's team before retiring as head coach to become a tennis instructor. This award was established by the Goulds in 2007.

Biff Hoffman Award – Clifford "Biff" Hoffman, '29, played football for Stanford. Under the legendary Coach Pop Warner, Hoffman helped Stanford secure its first Rose Bowl victory in 1928. As a track and field student-athlete, Hoffman set an NCAA discus record helping Stanford win the 1925 NCAA Track and Field Championship.

Spirit of Stanford Award – Frank "Frankie" Albert, '42, played quarterback for Stanford, where he led the 1940 team to an undefeated season and a win at the Rose Bowl. The Spirit of Stanford is a 1942 feature film about the 1940 Stanford "Wow Boys" football squad, featuring star quarterback Frankie Albert. This award was established in 2009.

Donald Kennedy Award – Dr. Donald Kennedy served as Stanford's eighth president from 1980-1992. This award was named in Kennedy's honor upon his retirement as president for his incredible support of Stanford's student-athletes.

Al Masters Award – Al Masters, '24, was the athletics director at Stanford from 1925-1963. He is remembered as one of the most distinguished sports administrators in college history. This award was first presented in 1963 by KCBS Radio in memory of Masters' passing.

Stanford Athletics Board

The mission of the Stanford Athletics Board is to enhance and protect the core values of the Stanford athletics department and Stanford University. To do so, the athletics board supports and nourishes athletic, physical education, and recreation programs at the university and works to ensure that all such programs operate under the highest standards of ethical conduct, sportsmanship, and integrity.

The Stanford Athletics Board was established in 1964 by the Stanford University Board of Trustees.
