THE OPENING KICKOFF

- Stanford football wraps up a three-game homestand on Saturday with a 3:30 p.m. kickoff against the No. 9 Oregon Ducks.
- The Cardinal defense had one of its best performances of the season on Saturday against Arizona. It held the Wildcats defense to season-lows with 21 points and 349 total yards on offense.
- Stanford found a bit more rhythm in the passing game against Arizona, finishing with 246 yards in the air, just two yards shy of Stanford's season-high in passing yards. The Cardinal also out-gained Arizona in the air, the first time this season that has happened in favor of the Cardinal.
- Freshmen helped lead the way for Stanford offensively on Saturday. Sedrick Irvin drew his first collegiate start and led the Cardinal with 66 rushing yards and his first career touchdown. Tiger Bachmeier was the team's leading receiver with four receptions for 93 yards.

- This weekend will be special on The Farm, as Andrew Luck will be inducted into the Stanford Athletics Hall of Fame. Luck will join nine others, including baseball/football student-athlete Joe Borchard, for the induction ceremony on Friday night. The entire Hall of Fame Class of 2023 will be honored at halftime of the Cardinal vs. Ducks game on Saturday.
- Stanford vs. Oregon has been one of the most steady Pac-12 rivalries over the years. Both have won seven times in the last 14 meetings, and since 2007, the series is split 4-4 inside Stanford Stadium.
- The Cardinal is looking to snap a streak of six straight Pac-12 losses dating back to last season. Stanford has also lost eight consecutive games against ranked teams. The most recent win for Stanford over a team inside the AP Top-25 came in the most recent matchup against the Ducks at Stanford Stadium, when the Cardinal upset a third-ranked Oregon squad 31-24 in overtime.

GAME NOTES

THE MATCHUP

- Stanford and Oregon meet for the 87th time on Saturday afternoon.
- Recent history between these two teams has been as even as can be, with both teams 7-7 over the last 14 games against one another.
- Stanford owns eight wins over Oregon while the Ducks are ranked (since 1989), including five of those wins while Oregon was ranked inside the top-10 in the AP polls.
- The most recent win for the Cardinal came in 2021, when Stanford upset third-ranked Oregon 31-24 in overtime. John Humphreys caught the game-winning touchdown from Tanner McKee in overtime.

THIS DATE IN STANFORD HISTORY...

...Bryce Love had the best rushing game in program history as the Cardinal beat Arizona State 34-24 in 2017. Love was the straw that stirred the drink for Stanford, running for a program-best 301 yards in the win. One week prior against UCLA, he ran for 263 yards.

Love had three touchdown runs of over 40 yards in the victory, and the record-shattering performance put him over 1,000 yards just five games into the season. Beating Arizona State was no small feat either, after the Sun Devils had beaten a ranked Oregon squad the week prior.

HEAD COACH TROY TAYLOR

Troy Taylor enters his first season as the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football, Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach in 2023.

Taylor, the 35th head coach in program history, was hired on Dec. 10, 2022, by Jaquish & Kenninger Director of Athletics Bernard Muir. At Sacramento State, Taylor guided the Hornets to a 30-8 mark in four seasons and a berth in the FCS quarterfinals for the first time in school history. Prior to the 2022 season, Sacramento State had never won an FCS Playoff game in its program history.

Taylor led a high-powered Sacramento State team to a 12-1 record in 2022, with the Hornets ranking fourth nationally in scoring offense (42.9 ppg), fourth in total offense (499.8 ypg) and seventh in rushing offense (243.3 ypg). Sacramento State is the only FCS program that averaged at least 240 yards passing and 240 yards rushing per game, averaging 256.5 yards per game through the air and 243.3 on the ground.

Taylor took over a Stanford program that has won 108 games since the start of the 2010 season - a total that ranks among the nation's top-20 - with 31 of those wins coming against top-25 opponents, tied for the eighth-best mark in the country in that span.

Taylor was hired as head coach at Sacramento State on Dec. 17, 2018, inheriting a program that had compiled three two-win seasons in the prior four-year stretch. Taylor immediately turned the Hornets into nine-game winners in his first season, guiding the program to its first three Big Sky championships (the program opted out of the 2021 spring season) and its first FCS Playoff appearances in school history, despite competing at the FCS level since 1994 and in the Big Sky Conference since 1996.

In 2022, Taylor's Hornets set the school record for victories in a season. Running back Cameron Skattebo was named Big Sky Offensive MVP, nickelback Marte Mapu was the Defensive MVP and Taylor was Co-Coach of the Year. Overall, 17 players were honored by the Big Sky, as Taylor was also named AFCA Regional Coach of the Year. Sacramento State's season came to a close with a 66-63 defeat in the FCS Quarterfinals.

As a player, Taylor guided Cordova High School to a 14-0 record and a section championship while being named the Northern California Player of the Year in 1985. Taylor continued his career at Cal, where he was the starting quarterback for the Golden Bears from 1986-89. Taylor led the Pac-10 in total offense as a senior and left Cal as the all-time leading passer with 8,126 yards. He was drafted by the New York Jets in the fourth round of the 1990 NFL Draft.

END OF AN ERA

David Shaw announced his resignation from the program the morning after the 2022 season finale against BYU. The winningest coach in program history, Shaw finished his 12 seasons with a 96-54 record. Shaw was honored with the 2017 Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year award and led Stanford to three Pac-12 titles and two Rose Bowl victories during his tenure.

In addition to guiding Stanford to three Rose Bowl Game appearances, Shaw is the only four-time Pac-12 Coach of the Year, having led the Cardinal to three conference titles. Shaw's 96 overall wins rank ninth in Pac-12 history while his 65 conference victories rank fifth. Stanford achieved 29 wins against top-25 opponents (ranking eighth nationally since 2011), 11 against top-10 programs and five against top-5 foes. Additionally, the Cardinal had 43 players drafted, a total ranking tied for 13th nationally and tied for the most in the Pac-12.

The Cardinal was equally accomplished in the classroom during Shaw's tenure, boasting a nation-leading 15 Academic All-Americans since 2010, five more than any other program and 10 more than any Pac-12 school in that span, including Andrew Luck (2011) and Christian McCaffrey (2015) as Academic All-Americans of the Year.

RECENT DRAFT SUCCESS

The Cardinal has had 55 draft picks since 2010, second-most in the Pac-12 behind only USC. Stanford is tied for eighth nationally with 11 consensus All-Americans since 2010, and its 19 Academic All-Americans in that span is eight more than any other school nationally.

Since 2012, the number of draft picks to come out of Stanford is tops in the Pac-12 with 48, one more than USC (47). In the 2023 NFL Draft, the Cardinal had five players taken: Michael Wilson (3rd round, AZ), Kyu Blu Kelly (6th round, BAL), Tanner McKee (6th round, PHI), Elijah Higgins (6th round, MIA), and Kendall Williamson (7th round, CHI).

Since 2010, Stanford has appeared in nine bowl games, including three Rose Bowl Games, an Orange Bowl and a Fiesta Bowl.

TRENCH WARFARE

Winning the battle in the trenches is something Stanford did in the season opener against Hawai'i, but has struggled to do since.

Stanford's defense came out of the gates hot with its pass rush, recording six sacks in the season opener at Hawai'i. That six-sack game by the Cardinal defense was its most in a single game since a Nov. 24, 2018 tilt against UCLA, when the unit also recorded six. It was the most sacks the defense has had in a non-conference road game since Sept. 16, 2017 at San Diego State, a game in which the Cardinal also piled up six sacks.

Since that game, Stanford has recorded just two sacks in the last three games, with both coming against Arizona on Saturday. Conversely, the Cardinal has allowed 13 sacks in the last three games.

Stanford is still trying to find consistency in the play of both the offensive and defensive lines. Through four games, the Card has employed four different starting offensive line combinations and three different starting defensive line combinations.

THIRD DOWN TROUBLES

Offensively, Stanford has not had a lot of trouble converting on third downs. The Cardinal ranks 46th in the NCAA in third down conversion percentage at 44.6%, and that has helped its defense win the time of possession battle in three of its first four games this season.

Defensively, it has been more of a struggle for the Cardinal. Sacramento State converted 11 third downs in Week 3, and the Hornets' 68.8% conversion percentage was the highest against Stanford since 2020. For the season, Stanford is allowing opposing offenses to convert on 53.7% of its third downs, the fifth-highest rate in the NCAA.

BRING IT, BAILEY!

On the strength of his three-sack performance against Hawai'i, David Bailey was named the first Pac-12 defensive lineman of the week. It was the first time in his career that Bailey has earned a weekly award from the Pac-12.

The three-sack performance from Bailey is one of just eight in the NCAA this season. Bailey was the first player in the NCAA to record a three-sack game this season.

Bailey's award from the Pac-12 is the first weekly defensive award winner for the Cardinal in nearly two years.

Kyu Blu Kelly was the most recent winner, taking home Defensive Player of the Week after the second week of the 2021 season.

TIGHT END U IN FULL SWING

Stanford has long been considered "Tight End University" after producing many productive NFL tight ends over the years. Benjamin Yurosek could be next in line after a monster start to the 2023 season.

Yurosek has been more than just a security blanket for first-time starting quarterback Ashton Daniels; he has been the primary weapon. Yurosek was targeted 10 times and hauled in nine passes for a career-best 138 receiving yards and a 32-yard touchdown in the season-opening win at Hawai'i. For comparison, no other Stanford receiver had more than three catches against the Rainbow Warriors.

Through four games, Yurosek leads the Cardinal with 15 receptions and 227 receiving yards. His 227 receiving yards are the eighth-most in the NCAA by a tight end.

Prior to the start of the season, Yurosek was named Preseason First Team All-Pac-12 (Steele), Preseason Second Team All-Pac-12 (Media), and was named to the John Mackey Award and 2024 Senior Bowl watch lists.

ROTATING RUSHERS

Troy Taylor likes to create havoc for opposing defenses, and one of the ways he has done so through four games is rotating running backs and ball carriers fervently. It was on display once again in Week 4, with another new leader in the backfield.

Sedrick Irvin, a true freshman, was the leading rusher for the Cardinal against Arizona, carrying the ball 10 times for 66 yards, including a 45-yard on the third play from scrimmage. For the second time this season, quarterback Justin Lamson had the most carries, with 13.

Eight different Cardinal players have at least six rushing attempts on the season, and in four games, Stanford has had three different players pace the team in carries. Justin Lamson and his 16 carries against USC are the most on the season for the Cardinal.

Coach Taylor has kept to his strategy of rotating backs in and out to keep them fresh for a 12-game season. Of the four running backs Stanford has employed this season, none have been on the field for more than 91 snaps through four games.

NEW FACES

With a brand new coaching staff intact, the 2023 Stanford roster looks drastically different than it has in the past. Of the 106 players, 35 are brand new to the program this year, including 28 freshmen.

An additional 29 Cardinal are sophomores, resulting in 57 underclassmen on the 2023 roster. In comparison to last year's team, there were 27 freshmen and 25 sophomores for a total of 52 underclassmen.

Through four games, 13 Cardinal players made their collegiate debuts, and 11 made their first career starts.

KARTY PARTY

Joshua Karty earned a host of awards during the 2022 season, becoming one of the best placekickers in the NCAA. He was named First Team All-America by the Associated Press, Second Team All-America by The Sporting News and Third Team All-America by the Football Writers Association of America.

Karty is just the second placekicker in school history to earn First Team All-America honors (Rod Garcia, 1973). He is the first Cardinal since 2018 to earn All-America honors (Paulson Adebo, FWAA Second Team) and the first Stanford football player to earn First Team All-America honors since 2017 (Bryce Love, Associated Press).

Karty set a school record with a 61-yard field goal as time expired at Cal in 2022. The previous long was 59 yards (Rod Garcia at USC, 1973; Mark Harmon at Purdue (1981). The 61-yard field goal was the longest in the country by an FBS kicker (by two yards) and the second-longest in Pac-12 history (62 yards). It was tied for the sixth-longest field goal in the FBS dating back to 1996.

Karty missed two field goals against Arizona, both from 51 yards, snapping his consecutive field goals made streak of 26 (previous miss came vs. Notre Dame on Nov. 27, 2021).

He finished last season 24-for-25 on PATs and 18-for-18 on FG attempts. For his career, he is 60-for-61 on PATs and 37-for-44 on field goals. His seven misses have all come from at least 49 yards, with six of them from 50+.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Stanford faces another very tough schedule during the 2023 season, thanks in large part to the strength of the Pac-12. The Cardinal will face five of the six ranked teams in the Pac-12 this year, and will see six ranked teams overall.

There is no better example of the strength of the Pac-12 than by looking at how the conference started the season. After Week 1, the Pac-12 was a combined 13-0, the best start for the conference since 1938.

Of the ranked Pac-12 teams that Stanford faces, four of those teams were inside the Preseason AP Top-25, with its toughest opponent scheduled as No. 6 USC on September 9 in Los Angeles.

Three of the Cardinal's ranked matchups take place at home this year: Sept. 30 vs. No. 9 Oregon, Oct. 28 vs. No. 7 Washington, and Nov. 25 vs. No. 11 Notre Dame.

Many pundits believe that Stanford's schedule is one of the hardest in the country. According to 247Sports.

com, Stanford has the 17th-most difficult schedule. This is based in part thanks to Stanford having the 15th-most difficult schedule based on last year's win-percentage totals.

The most difficult outlook for the Stanford strength of schedule comes from College Football News, which ranks Stanford's schedule as the fourth toughest in the NCAA, behind only Purdue, Colorado and Iowa State.

WHERE THEY'RE FROM

Stanford student-athletes on this year's roster hail from 30 states plus Canada.

There are a total of 15 student-athletes from Texas, the largest representation of student-athletes from outside of California (31) on the team. Behind Texas is Georgia (9), Florida (6), and New Jersey (5).

Three student-athletes are from Canada (Aaron Armitage, Elic Ayomanor, Brendon Barrow). 14 states are represented by one student-athlete.

Total: California (31), Texas (15), Georgia (9), Florida (6), New Jersey (5), Massachusetts (4), Tennessee (3), Alabama (2), Arizona (2), Colorado (2), Hawaii (2), Nevada (2), Oregon (2), Utah (2), Virginia (2), Arkansas, Connecticut, Idaho, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Washington.

NFL'S LEADING RUSHER - A CARD

In the NFL, the running back position has become devalued in recent seasons with running back by committees and injuries at the position. Christian McCaffrey is trying to change that in San Francisco. The former Stanford great is leading the NFL in rushing yards through the first three weeks of the season as he continues to shine since his trade to San Francisco.

McCaffrey was drafted in eighth overall 2017 by the Carolina Panthers and quickly became a star, recording over 1,900 yards from scrimmage in 2018 and 2019. Injuries slowed him down in 2020 and 2021, but he was traded to San Francisco midway through the 2022 campaign and took off once again. In 14 regular season games since the trade, McCaffrey has compiled 1,633 scrimmage yards with 13 total touchdowns.

In the 49ers Week 3 win over the New York Giants, McCaffrey eclipsed 5,000 rushing yards for his career and became just the fourth player in NFL history with over 5,000 rushing yards and 450 receptions in his first seven seasons. The other three are LaDainian Tomlinson, Marshall Faulk, and Roger Craig.

HONORING ANDREW LUCK

On August 17, Stanford Athletics announced its 2023 Hall of Fame class, with 10 former student-athletes being inducted. Andrew Luck was honored as one of this year's inductees.

A native of Houston, Texas, Luck is also the 19th

Cardinal player to join the College Football Hall of Fame, which happened last season. Luck guided Stanford to 23 victories over his final two seasons, including appearances in the 2011 Orange Bowl and 2012 Fiesta Bowl.

He won the 2011 Maxwell, Walter Camp and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm awards and was a two-time runner-up (2010, 2011) for the Heisman Trophy. A 2011 First Team All-American and two-time conference Offensive Player of the Year, Luck rewrote the Stanford and conference record books. Luck went 31-8 as a starter, resurrecting a Stanford program that had suffered seven straight losing seasons before he became the starter in 2009. He passed for 9,430 yards and 82 touchdowns during his Cardinal career, adding 957 yards and seven more touchdowns on the ground.

He was selected with the No. 1 overall pick by the Indianapolis Colts in the 2012 NFL Draft and played seven seasons in the NFL before retiring prior to the 2019 campaign. He set the NFL record for most passing yards by a rookie quarterback (4,374) in 2012 and was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year in 2018.

REST OF THE CLASS

The other members of the Stanford Athletics Hall of Fame Class of 2023 include Joe Borchard (baseball/football), Kori Carter (women's track and field), Grace Fattal Luczak (women's rowing), Nicole Gibbs (women's tennis), Paul Goldstein (men's tennis), Lauren Lappin (softball), Arthur Lee (men's basketball), Melissa Seidemann (women's water polo) and Tom Wilkens (men's swimming and diving).

Joe Borchard stands out as one of the members of the Class of 2023 after shining as a two-sport athlete for the Cardinal. He was the No. 12 overall pick of the 2000 MLB Draft by the Chicago White Sox after helping lead Stanford to back-to-back College World Series appearances. He also was a backup quarterback for Stanford football and played in the 2000 Rose Bowl Game.

THE HOME OF CHAMPIONS

Stanford has won at least one NCAA team title in each of the past 47 academic years (dating back to the 1976-77 campaign), the longest streak in NCAA history. Stanford leads the NCAA with 134 team titles, including three national team championships during the 2022-23 campaign - men's gymnastics, women's water polo and women's rowing- increasing its overall total to 163.

Stanford is one of six programs with at least one national championship in football, baseball and men's basketball and the only school with at least one in football, baseball, men's and women's basketball.

Stanford won 25 straight (a streak which snapped in 2020-21) Division I Learfield Sports Directors' Cups. The Cardinal's 26th Directors' Cup came during the 2022-23 season.

COACHING STAFF

TROY TAYLOR

BRADFORD M. FREEMAN DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL
ANDREW LUCK DIRECTOR OF OFFENSE
KEVIN M. HOGAN QUARTERBACKS COACH
1ST SEASON AT STANFORD | 22ND SEASON OVERALL

Troy Taylor enters his first season as the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football, Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach in 2023.

Taylor, the 35th head coach in program history, was hired on Dec. 10, 2022, by Jaquish & Kenninger Director of Athletics Bernard Muir. At Sacramento State, Taylor guided the Hornets to a 30-8 mark in four seasons and a berth in the FCS quarterfinals for the first time in school history. Prior to the 2022 season, Sacramento State had never won an FCS Playoff game in its program history.

Taylor led a high-powered Sacramento State team to a 12-1 record in 2022, with the Hornets ranking fourth nationally in scoring offense (42.9 ppg), fourth in total offense (499.8 ypg) and seventh in rushing offense (243.3 ypg). Sacramento State is the only FCS program that averaged at least 240 yards passing and 240 yards rushing per game, averaging 256.5 yards per game through the air and 243.3 on the ground.

Taylor took over a Stanford program that has won 108 games since the start of the 2010 season - a total that ranks among the nation's top-20 - with 31 of those wins coming against top-25 opponents, tied for the eighth-best mark in the country in that span.

The Cardinal is 14th nationally with 50 draft picks since 2010, second-most in the Pac-12. Stanford is tied for eighth nationally with 10 consensus All-Americans since 2010, and its 15 Academic All-Americans in that span is five more than any other school nationally.

Since 2010, Stanford has appeared in nine bowl games, including three Rose Bowl Games, an Orange Bowl and a Fiesta Bowl.

Taylor was hired as head coach at Sacramento State on Dec. 17, 2018, inheriting a program that had compiled three two-win seasons in the prior four-year stretch. Taylor immediately turned the Hornets into nine-game winners in his first season, guiding the program to its first three Big Sky championships (the program opted out of the 2021 spring season) and its first FCS Playoff appearances in school history, despite competing at the FCS level since 1994 and in the Big Sky Conference since 1996.

In 2022, Taylor's Hornets set the school record for victories in a season. Running back Cameron Skattebo was named Big Sky Offensive MVP, nickelback Marte Mapu was the Defensive MVP and Taylor was Co-Coach of the Year. Overall, 17 players were honored by the Big Sky, as Taylor was also named AFCA Regional Coach of the Year. Sacramento State's season came to a close with a 66-63 defeat in the FCS Quarterfinals.

After opting not to play in the spring of the 2020-21 season, Taylor guided the Hornets to their second Big Sky Conference title in as many seasons in the fall of 2021. That year, Sacramento State posted an undefeated record of 8-0 in league games and earned another trip to the FCS Playoffs. Taylor was named the Big Sky Coach of the Year and was one of 17 finalists for the Eddie Robinson Award. Sacramento State finished ninth in total offense (463.9 ypg) and 22nd in total defense (329.7), while its scoring offense was 33rd (30.3) and scoring defense 15th (19.1).

In his first season with the Hornets, Taylor guided the team to a 9-4 overall record and a 7-1 league mark, which gave Sacramento State a share of the Big Sky Conference title for the first time in school history, and its first NCAA FCS Playoff berth. For those efforts, he was named the conference Coach of the Year and was the recipient of the Eddie Robinson Award (FCS national coach of the year).

Taylor was Utah's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for two seasons (2017-18), helping the Utes to their first Pac-12 South Division title in program history in 2018. Taylor's Utah offenses featured a balanced attack both seasons, with running back Zack Moss eclipsing the 1,000-yard mark on the ground in back-to-back seasons. At least 16 different players caught passes in both seasons.

Prior to joining the FBS ranks, Taylor was the co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Eastern Washington in 2016. That season, he directed the top passing offense in the FCS and set numerous national and school records. The Eagles averaged an FCS-best 401.0 passing yards per game, ranked second nationally with 529.6 yards per game and were third in scoring offense (42.4 ppg). EWU posted a 12-2 overall record and advanced to the FCS semifinals.

Under Taylor, sophomore Gage Gubrud set an NCAA FCS single-season record by passing for 5,160 yards while throwing 48 touchdown passes. Gubrud, the 2016 FCS Player of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus, averaged 368.6 passing yards per game, which also led the nation. One of Gubrud's favorite targets was All-American Cooper Kupp, who caught 117 passes for 1,700 yards and 17 touchdowns before being selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the third round of the NFL Draft.

Taylor's success at Eastern Washington followed an illustrious run at Folsom High School, where he was co-head coach from 2012-15. The Bulldogs set numerous California state records, including the most points scored in a season. Folsom posted a 58-3 overall record, won the Sac-Joaquin Section title each season and claimed the 2014 CIF Division I championship with a 68-7 win over Oceanside. The team also set the California record for passing yards in four consecutive years.

Taylor was instrumental in the development of Jake Browning, who would become the 2016 Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year for Washington. Taylor coached Browning from fifth grade until he graduated as one of the most prolific passers in prep history. Browning set national records for touchdowns in a season (91 in 2014, tied) and career (229, in just three seasons), while establishing a number of California state high school records as well, including season (5,790) and career (16,775) passing yards.

As a player, Taylor guided Cordova High School to a 14-0 record and a section championship while being named the Northern California Player of the Year in 1985. Taylor continued his career at Cal, where he was the starting quarterback for the Golden Bears from 1986-89. Taylor led the Pac-10 in total offense as a senior and left Cal as the all-time leading passer with 8,126 yards. He was drafted by the New York Jets in the fourth round of the 1990 NFL Draft.

Taylor's first coaching job was at Casa Roble High School in Orangevale, Calif., in 1994. The following year, Taylor was a graduate assistant at Colorado, where he worked with the wide receivers. He returned to Cal in 1996 and remained at his alma mater through the 1999 season, where he had stints coaching receivers, quarterbacks and tight ends. Taylor also served as Cal's recruiting coordinator in 1999.

Taylor left Cal to become an assistant athletics director at Christian Brothers High School (2000-01) in Sacramento, where he also taught and was an assistant football coach for one season (2000). He spent 2003-04 at Folsom High School as the co-head coach. Taylor stepped away from coaching after the 2004 season but remained in football, serving as the radio analyst for Cal from 2005-11.

Taylor, 54, and his wife, Tracey, have three children: sons, Noah and Aaron, and daughter, Ella.
