Pac-12 Play

- The Cardinal is opening conference play at Oregon this week.
- Stanford was voted to finish second in the conference in the preseason coaches poll, the highest in program history.
- The Ducks won the series 2-1 last year, with the Cardinal taking game one 3-0.

Shut Them Out

- Stanford has recorded eight straight shutouts and 15 total on the season, which is tied for first nationally.
- Oklahoma and Tennessee are the only two other teams with 15 shutouts, with Tennessee reaching a nine game shutout streak that ended when they loss to Ole Miss. Oklahoma has not had a shutout streak longer than four games.
- Freshman NiJaree Canady has thrown six solo shutouts, while Alana Vawter and Regan Krause have each picked up three
- Stanford has shut out teams such as Liberty (8-0, 5 Inn.) and then No. 13 Georgia (3-0).

Aces in the Circle

- Stanford's pitching staff is dominant in the circle and is led by NiJaree Canady and Alana Vawter. The Cardinal has a team ERA of 1.11 which is fourth in the nation, having allowed only 25 runs across 24 games.
- A freshman, Canady holds an ERA of 0.00 and is one of two pitchers with 40.0+ IP who has not allowed a run, earned or not (Nicole May, Oklahoma). She broke her career record with a 18 strikeout no-hitter against Villanova, one short of the program record set by Missy Penna in 2009
- Vawter is the top in the nation in Walks allowed per 7 innings at .21, allowing only two walks thus far.
- Regan Krause threw a career high 9 strikeouts in her nearly perfect game against Nevada, where she allowed no hits and walked none.

This Defense is Legit

- The Cardinal has built itself this season off of its defense and pitching.
- Stanford has a .986 fielding percentage which is second in the nation behind Oklahoma.
- Having only allowed 25 runs this season or 1.04 per game.
- With one of the lowest ERAs in the nation at 1.11, Stanford is a forc to be reconed with in the circle as well.

Preseason Honors

- Ahead of the start of the season, the Cardinal have picked up numerous awards and preseason rankings.
- Stanford has been ranked in every major preseason poll, with D1Softball ranking the Cardinal the highest at 11. The NFCA maintained the Card's 18 ranking from the end of the 2022 season and USA Softball put Stanford at 14th.
- Alana Vawter picked up multiple preseason recognitions, including USA Softball's Player of the Year Watchlist. She was also selected to D1Softball's Top 100 players to watch, coming in at 24, and 9th on their pitcher list. Vawter was also named to the Preseason All-Pac-12 team.
- The Cardinal was tabbed to finish second in the Pac-12, as voted on in the conference's preseason coaches poll. This is the highest ranking the team has recieved with Coach Allister at the helm.

A Super Season

- Stanford ended it's 2022 season with 39 wins, it's most since 2013. Additionally, the Cardinal made it's first Super Regional's appearance since 2011.
- The Cardinal held sixth-seeded Alabama in the Tuscaloosa Regional, preventing the Crimson Tide from advancing to the Supers for the first time in program history.
- In Pac-12 play, Stanford finished the season fourth in the conference, the highest since 2013

NOTABLES

The Stanford Super Regional

- Stanford hosted Oregon State in a NCAA Super Regional. This was the Cardinal's sixth appearance in the Super Regional and first time hosting since 2009.
- The last time Stanford had hosted postseason softball was the 2011 season for the regional round – also Stanford's most-recent postseason appearance.
- The Stanford Super Regional was one of two unseeded super regionals last season as Stanford-Oregon State is joined by Arizona-Mississippi State
- The Cardinal fell to Oregon in two tight games, losing 3-1 in game one and 2-0 in game two.
- Stanford has made two appearances to the Women's College World Series in program history – 2001 and 2004. Both WCWS appearances came during Jessica Allister's playing career.

Fun in Tuscaloosa

- Stanford won the Tuscaloosa Regional in convincing fashion, going 3-1 – with two victories coming against host and sixth-seeded Alabama.
- The Cardinal outscored opponents 15-5 on the weekend and shutout the Crimson Tide twice – the first time Alabama has been shutout in the regional round since 2004, and the first time the team has been shut out all season.
- Saturday's victory against Alabama snapped a 44-game win streak in the regional round for the host team, and was the first time Alabama had failed to qualify for the Super Regional round.
- The last time Stanford advanced out of the regional round as an unseeded team was 2008 at the Amherst Regional.

Queens of Threes

- Known for its speed and aggressiveness, Stanford again hit a plethora of triples in 2022.
- Stanford's 24 triples last season led the Pac-12 and was nearly double the next-highest team's total (UCLA- 12).
- The 24 triples was third nationally, trailing Louisiana's (26) and Jackson State (26).
- The Cardinal was one triple shy of matching the school record of 25 triples, achieved by the 2019 squad.
- Sydnee Huff and Taylor Gindlesperger led the team with six triples hits last season. Ellee Eck and Kaitlyn Lim both had four, Emily Young had three and Chloe Doyle had one.
- The five with multiple triples all rank in the top six in the conference.
- Stanford's Boyd & Jill Smith Family Stadium is a park built for triples. With a high fence, 205 feet down the lines, a facility at sea level with high wind, not many home runs are hit at home. 11 of Stanford's 24 triples have been hit at home this season.

Year Six

- Stanford is led by six year head coach and program alum, Jessica Allister.
- She is joined by Jessica Mendoza Associate Head Softball Coach, Jessica Merchant, and pitching coach Tori

Nyberg – who have been with Allister since she returned to The Farm in 2019.

- Allister has led the Cardinal to postseason appearances in all but one season as the program's head coach.
- Allister owns an overall record of 455-208 (.6826) after spending seven years as the head coach at Minnesota, and a 165-99 record at Stanford.
- Since 2019, Allister's second season at Stanford, she has led the program to a 165-99 record.
- Allister has led Stanford to 10 postseason appearances as a player (2001-04), an assistant coach (2007-09) and as a head coach (2019, 2021-22).
- Stanford's coaching staff has made eight Women's College World Series appearances as players and coaches. Allister made two appearances as a player for Stanford (2001, 2004), Merchant made three appearances as a player at Michigan, including captaining the Wolverines to a national title in 2005. Nyberg made a WCWS appearance as a player at Stanford in 2001 and led Northwestern to back-to-back appearances in 2006 and 2007 as the pitching coach – highlighted by a runner-up finish in 2006.

All-Conference Cardinal

- Four players earned five All-Pac-12 honors for Stanford in 2022
- Alana Vawter earned first-team all-conference honors for the second straight season, while Taylor Gindlesperger landed on the second team – also for the second straight season.
- Sydnee Huff earned the first Pac-12 honors of her career, landing on the third team and the all-defensive team.
- Emily Young was named to the all-defensive team.

The Company You Keep

- The Pac-12 has continuously led the nation in the advancement of women's sports – and that success is evident in the league's softball coaches.
- All nine of the conference's softball-playing schools are led by a woman after Arizona hired Caitlin Lowe to replace the legendary Mike Candrea this past offseason.
- Six of the nine schools, including Stanford with Jessica Allister, are led by an alum of their program.
- Allister is the fourth-longest tenured alum at her school – ahead of Lowe and California's Chelsea Spencer.
- All nine of the league's programs were postseason eligible with a .500 or better record this season – the only conference in the country to achieve the feat.

Ranked Opponents Beware

- Stanford picked up six wins over national seeds, including five against Super Regional hosts.
- The Cardinal won nine games against teams which advanced to a Super Regional this season: Oklahoma State, Oregon State, UCLA, Arizona State, Arizona – winning multiple games against the last three schools.

- The Cardinal split two-game series against No. 7 seed Oklahoma State and No. 14 Mizzou
- Stanford also won Pac-12 series against No. 5 UCLA and No. 8 Arizona State, winning two games in each series.
- Overall, the Cardinal has won nine games against Top-25 teams and 12 games against postseason programs.

The Support Grows

- As head coach Jessica Allister returns the Cardinal to prominence, Stanford has seen increased support for the sport of softball.
- The program sold out four games last season – the first time its had a sellout since the 2019 season.
- Stanford had a total attendance of 14,548 for 25 home games this season – its fourth-highest total attendance dating back to 2008.
- The Cardinal averaged 581 fans a game – its highest average attendance since 2008.
- An anonymous donor also made a generous donation to endow a coaching position in honor of program great and trailblazer, Jessica Mendoza. Jessica Merchant serves as the inaugural Jessica Mendoza Associate Head Softball Coach.
- Since Allister's return, Smith Family Stadium has seen several improvements. A new clubhouse was built behind the outfield wall, new covered pitching lanes and hitting cages were built down the right and left field lines, a new state-of-the-art lighting system was installed, and branded turf was put behind home plate down the first and third base lines.
