THE OPENING KICKOFF

• Stanford football emerges from its final bye week of the season with a road contest against Virginia Tech on Saturday night. The game is televised on ACC Network at 4:30 p.m. PT.

• Stanford has lost 15 consecutive road games, the longest streak in program history and the longest active road losing streak in FBS. Stanford's last road win came in its first-ever ACC game, a 26-24 win at Syracuse on Sept. 20, 2024.

• In its four wins this year, Stanford is averaging 34 points per game and 485.5 yards of offense, compared to just 9.4 points per game and 257.2 yards of offense in its four losses.

• The Cardinal can secure bowl eligibility for the first time since 2018 by winning two of its final three games.

• Davis Warren leads the ACC and is fifth in the country in pass attempts (308) and has thrown just three interceptions. Including Warren, there are just 13 FBS quarterbacks with at least 200 passing attempts and three or fewer interceptions. Warren also ranks fifth in the ACC in passing yards (2,203) and is one of seven Power 4 quarterbacks with at least 2,000 passing yards and three or fewer interceptions.

• The Cardinal has 10 passing plays of at least 40 yards this season, one shy of the most in the ACC. That is the most over an entire season by Stanford since at least 2020, still with three games remaining.

• Micah Ford is one of four Power Four running backs to have at least 750 rushing yards and 200 receiving yards this year. The last Cardinal running back to have at least 750 rushing yards and 200 receiving yards was Christian McCaffrey in 2016. Between Weeks 7-9, Ford was the only FBS running back with at least 400 rushing yards and 150 receiving yards.

• A Stanford running back has caught a touchdown pass in three consecutive games, a first for the program since the final three games of the 2015 season (including the 2016 Rose Bowl Game).

• Against Louisville, Stanford went 4-for-8 on fourth-down attempts, setting program records in both attempts and conversions. Stanford is tied for seventh in FBS with 26 fourth-down attempts, which ranks third in the ACC. The Cardinal is tied for 25th nationally in fourth-down conversions (12) and is the only team with three touchdowns on fourth-down attempts.

GAME NOTES

PREPARE FOR WAR

• In the spirit of Stanford's first trip to Lane Stadium, all headers within the "Game Notes" section of the notes will feature titles of Metallica song titles or lyrics.
• Stanford and Virginia Tech meet for the third time, the first time at Lane Stadium.
• In their first meeting as ACC opponents, Virginia Tech went to The Farm and beat Stanford 31-7 in 2024, with temperatures at game time over 100 degrees.
• The first time these teams played came in the 2011 Orange Bowl, where the Cardinal won 40-12.
• Andrew Luck was named the game's Most Outstanding Player after tossing four touchdown passes, including three to tight end Coby Fleener. Luck went 18-23 for 287 yards, with 201 of those yards coming in the second half.
• Stanford outscored Virginia Tech 27-0 in the second half, with Fleener scoring all three of touchdowns.
• The 2011 Orange Bowl marked the final game with Jim Harbaugh as head coach of the Cardinal. It was also the 12th win of the season for Stanford, capping off an incredible turnaround from four years ago. Stanford became the first FBS program to win 12 games four years after losing 11.
• On Sept. 8, it was announced that Luck would be inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Fame, along with Sonny Brown and Kenny Calhoun. Luck was honored during Stanford's home win against Georgia Tech with an on-field recognition from the Orange Bowl and will again be honored during the 2027 Orange Bowl on Jan. 14.

THE MEMORY REMAINS

On this day in Stanford history, No. 25 Stanford went on the road and upset No. 11 USC 55-21 in 2009. The Cardinal's 55 points are the most ever surrendered by USC at the Coliseum, and it got there thanks in part to 325 rushing yards, including 178 and three touchdowns from Toby Gerhart. Three Cardinal intercepted USC quarterback Matt Barkley, including a pick-six by Richard Sherman, part of a strong defensive performance. The game lives on as a memorable moment in the classic West Coast rivalry as then-head coach Pete Carroll confronted Stanford head coach Jim Harbaugh after the game, saying in their postgame exchange, "What's your deal?"

WELCOME HOME (TAVITA)

Tavita Pritchard was named the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football on Nov. 28, 2025. Pritchard is the 37th head coach in program history and a 2009 graduate of Stanford.

Pritchard most recently spent three seasons as quarterbacks coach of the Washington Commanders, having mentored Jayden Daniels, Jacoby Brissett, Sam Howell and Marcus Mariota. During his tenure with Washington, Pritchard played a major role in developing the Commanders' offense, highlighted by an appearance in the 2024 NFC Championship Game. Pritchard returns to The Farm in the spirit of Stanford's rich legacy of NFL coaching talent, including Bill Walsh, Denny Green, Jim Harbaugh, David Shaw and Vic Fangio.

Pritchard guided Daniels, the second overall pick in the 2024 NFL Draft, through one of the most impressive rookie seasons in NFL history in 2024, as Daniels was named AP Offensive Rookie of the Year, qualified for the Pro Bowl, and established multiple records in his debut. Daniels, who totaled 3,568 yards, 25 passing touchdowns, and a 69.0 percent completion rate, finished the season with a combined 31 touchdowns, which ranks third all-time for a rookie quarterback in NFL history.

A four-year letterwinner for the Cardinal from 2006-09, Pritchard appeared in 31 career games and made 20 starts, throwing for 2,865 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Pritchard made his first career start against USC on Oct. 6, 2007, and engineered an epic 24-23 upset of the second-ranked Trojans in the Los Angeles Coliseum when the Cardinal was a 41-point underdog. His 10-yard game-winning touchdown pass to Mark Bradford on fourth down with 0:49 left in the game secured his spot in Stanford football lore.

Pritchard started all 12 games as a junior in 2008 and threw for 1,633 yards and 10 touchdowns, helping Stanford to a 5-7 record. He relinquished his starting duties to Andrew Luck in 2009. Pritchard saw action in five games that season, capped off by a start in the Sun Bowl for an injured Luck.

Following his graduation, Pritchard began a lengthy coaching career with the Cardinal, serving in a variety of roles during a stretch that featured 10 consecutive bowl games, nine straight Big Game victories, and appearances in three Rose Bowls (2013-14, 2016), Fiesta Bowl (2012), and Orange Bowl (2011). After joining the staff as a graduate assistant in 2010, Pritchard served as defensive assistant (2011-12) and running backs coach (2013).

Pritchard was promoted to the role of quarterbacks/wide receivers coach in 2014-17, coaching quarterback Kevin Hogan as the Cardinal ended the season with dominant victories over USC in the Pac-12 Championship Game and Iowa in the Rose Bowl. From 2018-22, Pritchard was elevated to serve as the Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach.

A native of Tacoma, Washington, Pritchard earned a communication degree from Stanford. He and his wife, Caroline, met as undergraduates and have four children, three of whom were born at Stanford Hospital. Pritchard is also the only Power Four head coach of Samoan descent and one of just four with Pacific Islander heritage.

WELCOME, WON'T YOU COME INSIDE?

One point of emphasis for Tavita Pritchard and Andrew Luck in the offseason was building a coaching staff with deep NFL ties. Heading into Coach Pritchard's first season, the Cardinal has done just that.

On defense, Stanford brought in two coaches with previous stops in the NFL, most notably Kris Richard. One of the architects of the "Legion of Boom" in Seattle with former Cardinal Richard Sherman, Richard is Stanford's Willie Shaw Director of Defense and Defensive Backs coach. Richard spent 13 seasons coaching in the NFL, including three seasons as a defensive coordinator. Additionally, Cory Robinson was added as the team's cornerbacks coach and defensive passing game coordinator. He coached with Richard in both New Orleans and Jacksonville.

On offense, three new hires had previous stops in the NFL. The Andrew Luck Director of Offense, Terry Heffernan, spent five seasons in the NFL with the Detroit Lions and Buffalo Bills before his first stint on the Farm (offensive line, 2021-22). Keli'i Kekuewa, Stanford's offensive line coach, came directly from the Jacksonville Jaguars, part of a six-year run in the NFL. Brian Bratton was brought on board as The Krishnamurthi Wide Receivers Coach and spent the last four seasons with the Indianapolis Colts.

SO WHAT?!

A Stanford win on Saturday would...

- Snap Stanford's program-record 15-game road losing streak.
- Give Stanford five wins for the first time since 2018.
- Put Stanford in position to secure bowl eligibility during the 129th Big Game.

THE FUTURE SUPREME

Stanford's football is entering the month of November with a 4-5 record, the team's best record at this stage of a season since 2019.

The next Stanford win will be the team's fifth of the year, which would be the team's most in a season since 2018. If Stanford can get two wins, it would snap a seven-year bowl game drought, the longest among Power Four programs.

HERO OF THE DAY

Stanford announced Davis Warren as the team's starting quarterback prior to its Week 0 matchup against Hawai'i. The sixth-year signal caller from Manhattan Beach, Calif., returns to his home state for his final season of college football.

Warren's journey is remarkable. As a junior at Loyola High School in Los Angeles, Warren was diagnosed with acute myeloid leukemia (AML). Warren underwent four rounds of chemotherapy, and his body responded positively, ruling out the need for a bone marrow transplant. He reclassified to the Class of 2021, playing his final season of high school football at the Peddie School in New Jersey.

His return to football caught the eye of former Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football Jim Harbaugh, who was the head coach at Michigan. He offered Warren a spot on the roster as a walk-on, one that Warren accepted rather than playing at a smaller institution. He made his collegiate debut as a sophomore in 2022 and played in eight total games from 2022-23.

Following Michigan's 2023 National Championship, Warren beat Alex Orji for the starting quarterback job in 2024 and started nine games, throwing for 1,199 yards with seven touchdowns. He tore his ACL in the team's 2024 ReliaQuest Bowl win over Alabama and missed the 2025 season. Warren transferred to Stanford in the winter.

As a sign of his immediate impact as a leader in the locker room, he was Stanford's nominee for the Jason Witten Collegiate Man of the Year award and the Burlsworth Trophy.

TAKE A LOOK TO THE SKY

Davis Warren might not receive the national attention of other quarterbacks in the ACC, but he has been one of the best in the league when it comes to taking care of the ball.

Most notably, Warren began the season with 167 pass attempts before throwing his first interception. That was the longest streak in FBS, and it tied a Stanford record for the most pass attempts without an interception to begin a season, joining Davis Mills, who did so in 2020.

Warren leads the ACC and is fifth in the country in pass attempts (308) and has thrown just three interceptions. Including Warren, there are just 13 FBS quarterbacks with at least 200 passing attempts and three or fewer interceptions. Warren also ranks fifth in the ACC in passing yards (2,203) and is one of seven Power 4 quarterbacks with at least 2,000 passing yards and three or fewer interceptions.

Of the six other quarterbacks, Stanford has faced four of them: Darian Mensah (Miami), Gio Lopez (Wake Forest), CJ Carr (Notre Dame), and Lincoln Kienholz (Louisville). That leaves Ethan Grunkemeyer (Virginia Tech), who Stanford plays this year, and Austin Simmons (Missouri).

ATTACK! FOOTBALLS ARE FLYING!

In its first year with Tavita Pritchard as head coach, Stanford has shown a propensity to push the football downfield. The Cardinal has 10 passing plays of at least 40 yards this season, one shy of the most in the ACC. That is the most over an entire season by Stanford since at least 2020, still with three games remaining.

GIVE ME FORD, GIVE ME FIRE

Micah Ford is a true bell cow running back and has delivered all season long to pace Stanford's rushing attack.

Against Elon and NC State, Micah Ford ran for at least 150 yards and had over 200 scrimmage yards in both games. The last Stanford running back to do that in consecutive games was Bryce Love in 2017. He's already set career highs in rushing yards (751) and receiving yards (224). Ford is averaging the eighth-most rushing yards per game in the country since Week 7 (133.7).

Ford is one of four Power Four running backs to have at least 750 rushing yards and 200 receiving yards this year. The last Cardinal running back to have at least 750 rushing yards and 200 receiving yards was Christian McCaffrey in 2016. Between Weeks 7-9, Ford was the only FBS running back with at least 400 rushing yards and 150 receiving yards.

With his four-touchdown game against Elon, Ford was the first Stanford running back with multiple games of 3+ rushing touchdowns in a season since Love and Brennan Scarlett both did so during the 2017 season. Ford is one of two ACC running backs with multiple games of 3+ rushing touchdowns this season, and one of eight running backs in FBS to do so.

Through Week 10, Ford is fourth in the ACC in rushing yards and is tied for fourth among ACC running backs in touchdowns with eight. He has the most rushing touchdowns by a Cardinal since Austin Jones ran for nine scores in 2020.

BETTER THAN YOU

Micah Ford delivered one of the best games by a Stanford running back in program history during Stanford's 34-7 win over Elon on Reunion Homecoming Weekend.

Ford carried the ball 19 times for 179 rushing yards, adding five receptions for 52 yards. His 231 scrimmage yards are the most in his career and the most by a Stanford running back since Bryce Love's 301 against Arizona State in 2017.

The eye-popping stat came in the touchdown column, where Ford scored four rushing touchdowns, including an 81-yard scamper on his only touch in the fourth quarter. Ford tied the Stanford single-game record for rushing touchdowns, a mark most recently set by Christian McCaffrey in 2015 against UCLA. It was the tenth four-rushing-touchdown game in Stanford history, and Ford became the eighth different Cardinal to do so.

Ford was the first ACC running back to rush for four touchdowns in a game since Omarion Hampton did so for North Carolina on Nov. 2, 2024, against Florida State. He earned ACC Running Back of the Week honors for Week 7 following his performance.

OFF THROUGH THE NEW DAY'S MIST I RUN

While beating Elon 34-7 in Week 7, Stanford running backs scored all five of the team's touchdowns. It is the first time Stanford has scored at least five touchdowns in a game, and every touchdown came from a running back since the 118th Big Game against California in 2015. In that game, Remound Wright ran for two touchdowns, Bryce Love ran for one, and Christian McCaffrey caught a touchdown and returned a kickoff for a touchdown.

A Stanford running back has caught a touchdown pass in three consecutive games, a first for the program since the final three games of the 2015 season (including the 2016 Rose Bowl Game).

LIFE IS OURS, WE LIVE IT OUR WAY

Under Tavita Pritchard, Stanford has not been shy about being aggressive on fourth down. Against Louisville, Stanford went 4-for-8 on fourth-down attempts, setting program records in both attempts and conversions. With three games remaining, Stanford is tied for seventh in FBS with 26 fourth-down attempts, which ranks third in the ACC.

Stanford has also enjoyed a lot of success on fourth down. The Cardinal is tied for 25th nationally in fourth-down conversions (12) and is the only team with three touchdowns on fourth-down attempts. Against Louisville, Micah Ford caught a 40-yard touchdown for a fourth-down conversion.

THE UNFORGIVEN TRILOGY

Davis Warren threw for 303 yards, Micah Ford ran for 150 yards, and Caden High added 103 receiving yards as Stanford beat NC State in Week 8. The last time Stanford had a 300-yard passer, 100-yard rusher, and 100-yard receiver in the same game was Nov. 14, 2015, against Oregon (Hogan passing, McCaffrey rushing, Rector receiving).

CHASING LIGHT

With three weeks left in the regular season, Stanford has a top-five passer in the ACC and a top-five rusher. The last time Stanford finished a season with an individual ranking in the top five of a conference in passing yards while having a top-five running back in rushing yards was 2011 with Andrew Luck and Stepfán Taylor.

FADE TO BLACK

In the second quarter of Stanford's Halloween contest at Louisville, Aiden Black got turned loose for a 75-yard touchdown reception, the first catch of his collegiate career. He is the first Cardinal since at least 1996 to score a touchdown of at least 75 yards on his first collegiate reception. It was also the longest passing play of the season for Stanford.

HALLS OF JUSTICE PAINTED GREEN

One of the leaders of Stanford's defense is fifth-year safety Jay Green, who has been one of Stanford's starting safeties during every game this year. A one-time transfer from Washington, Green has played every position in the secondary before spending his final collegiate season playing primarily safety.

Heading into Week 11, Green ranks third among ACC safeties and is tied for seventh among ACC defensive backs with 57 total tackles. On the season, he ranks 16th in the conference in tackles.

Green recorded 11 tackles against Wake Forest in Week 5, setting a new career high. He is one of four different Cardinal defenders with at least 10 tackles in a game this season (Matt Rose, Jahsiah Galvan, Sam Mattingly).

LASHING OUT THE ACTION

There hasn't been one player who has been the go-to target for Davis Warren this season. Stanford is one of six teams in the ACC to have multiple wide receivers, tight ends, and running backs to catch a touchdown pass this year.

SAD BUT TRUE

The Cardinal has lost 15 consecutive road games, the longest streak in program history. Stanford's last road win came on Sept. 20, 2024, in its first-ever ACC game, a 26-24 win at Syracuse. It is the longest active road losing streak in FBS.

Going back to 2024, Stanford is 9-3 over its last 12 home games. All four of Stanford's wins in both of the last two seasons have come at home, giving Stanford consecutive 4-win seasons at home for the first time since 2008-18. In the 13 home games prior to the current streak (2022-24), Stanford was just 1-12 at home.

Statistically speaking, the Cardinal has fared much better at home than on the road. The Cardinal has scored 142 points in its five home games (28.4 points per game) and just 41 points in its four road games (10.3 points per game). Stanford is averaging 448.2 yards per game at home and just 246.8 on the road, a difference of over 200 yards per game.

WHAT DON'T KILL YOU MAKE YOU MORE STRONG

In the first season with Tavita Pritchard at the helm, Stanford plays a challenging schedule, with several opportunities for statement wins.

The biggest note on Stanford's 2026 schedule is that nine of its 12 opponents won at least eight games from one season ago, making it one of the toughest schedules in the country. Based on 2025 winning percentage, Stanford has the third-toughest schedule in the country, with an opponents' winning percentage of 0.643. Only North Carolina and Ohio State project to face more difficult schedules.

Per ESPN's Strength of Schedule index, Stanford has the seventh most difficult schedule in college football. All six teams above Stanford are in the SEC.

No team in the country has played more than five teams currently ranked or receiving votes in the latest AP Poll. Stanford is one of 10 teams to say that, and all five of those games are the games Stanford has lost. Stanford's opponents have won 51 games this season, trailing only North Carolina (53) for the most opponents' wins faced through Week 10.

Stanford is one of nine FBS programs playing a participant from the previous College Football Playoff Championship game in consecutive seasons (Notre Dame '25 and Miami '26).

REDEFINE ANYWHERE

Starting with its Week 9 tilt at Louisville, Stanford will play three consecutive games on the road and spend four straight weeks without a home game. The last time Stanford's schedule featured three consecutive road games in a non-COVID season was 2003. That was also the last time Stanford had four straight weeks in the regular season without a home game.

EXIT LIGHT, ENTER NIGHT

Teams cannot control what time their games kick off at, but Stanford has been on both sides of the advantage since joining the ACC.

Since 2024, Stanford is 4-0 when hosting an ACC opponent that plays in the Eastern Time Zone for a 7:30 p.m. PT kickoff, including its 31-28 win over NC State in Week 8.

On the flip side, Stanford is 0-3 since transitioning to the ACC when playing at 9 a.m. PT, with road losses in each of the last three seasons.

The last time Stanford won a game when the kickoff time was before 12 p.m. PT was the 2018 Sun Bowl vs. Pitt (11 a.m. PT kickoff). Stanford's last regular season win with that early of a kickoff came in Week 2 at Army (9 a.m. PT kickoff).

SECURE PEACE

One year after taking in the most transfers in program history, Stanford was not in a position to need significant additions in the transfer portal in 2026.

The Cardinal welcomed 17 transfers for the 2025 season, more than all previous transfers in program history combined (14). Heading into 2026, Stanford added just six from the transfer portal during its most recent cycle.

While that number seems low, Stanford did not lose much in the transfer portal, either. Only five players who played at least 150 snaps a season ago left via the transfer portal, a number that ranks in the top 20 among other FBS programs. Duke (3) and Clemson (4) are the only ACC programs to lose fewer in the portal.

WHERE TIME STANDS STILL

On the note of retaining players year over year, Stanford ranks in the upper half of the ACC.

The Cardinal brings back 32,410 career snaps this season, according to ESPN's Bill Connelly. That ranks seventh in the ACC. When looking at snaps returning from the 2025 season, Stanford brings back 60% of its scrimmage snaps from one year ago, ranking fourth in the ACC.

THE EARTH BECOMES MY THRONE

Stanford student-athletes on this year's roster hail from 29 states, plus Canada.

There are a total of 14 student-athletes from Texas, the largest representation of student-athletes from outside of California (27) on the team. Behind Texas is Georgia (7), while New Jersey and Pennsylvania have six. Two student-athletes are from Canada (Brendan Delaney and Benedict Umeh).

Total: California (27), Texas (14), Georgia (7), New Jersey (6), Pennsylvania (6), Florida (4), North Carolina (4), Tennessee (4), Arizona (3), Colorado (2), Hawaii (2), Idaho (2), Indiana (2), Iowa (2), Louisiana (2), Massachusetts (2), Mississippi (2), Nevada (2), New York (2), Utah (2), Washington (2), Wisconsin (2), Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Virginia.

WHEREVER THEY MAY ROAM

After a unique 2025 schedule that saw Stanford as the only FBS program to play in five time zones, 2026 is shaping up in a similar way when it comes to travel.

Excluding Hawai'i, Stanford is the only FBS program in 2026 scheduled to play five games at least three time zones away from their home location. For the Cardinal, that means five games in the Eastern Time Zone, with all five of those games taking place between Sept. 19 and Nov. 14 (nine-week span).

Taking into consideration every road game this season, Stanford will travel 21,755 miles for road games, the most of any program in the country, excluding Hawai'i. California ranks second in the ACC at 18,101, but aside from the two West Coast schools in the ACC, Boston College is closest in terms of expected miles traveled at 11,646. For comparison, Duke will travel the fewest miles this season at just 3,714.

Stanford will cross 15 time zones for games this season, which trails only Hawai'i (20). Arizona State will also cross 15 time zones for its travel this year, with the Sun Devils ranking fifth in terms of overall miles traveled.

WE'LL NEVER STOP, WE'LL NEVER QUIT

The Cardinal has had 59 draft picks since 2010, fourth among ACC schools, behind only Miami, Florida State, and Clemson. For the first time since 2023, the Cardinal had multiple draft picks in 2026.

Sam Roush was the first Cardinal off the board when he was chosen 69th overall (3rd Round) by the Chicago Bears. Roush had the sixth most career receiving yards by a Cardinal tight end since 1956 and became the 16th Stanford tight end selected in the draft since 1970. CJ Williams was taken 203rd overall (6th Round) by the Jacksonville Jaguars, making it the second year in a row a former Cardinal wideout was drafted to an AFC South team (Elic Ayomanor, Tennessee, 2025).

MASTER OF FOOTBALL

There is a rich tradition of Stanford success in the NFL, and that tradition is still alive in the 2026 NFL season. There are currently 28 former Cardinal on NFL rosters.

The NFL's AP Comeback Player of the Year is Christian McCaffrey, who began his tenth season in the league and his fourth full season with the San Francisco 49ers in Australia. Already in 2026, he has scored eight touchdowns, giving him 106 in his NFL career, becoming one of three players to score at least 50 touchdowns with two NFL franchises. After missing most of 2024 with injury, McCaffrey was a workhorse in 2025, leading the NFL in touches with 413, turning those into 2,126 scrimmage yards and 17 touchdowns. He caught 102 passes to lead all running backs, becoming the first running back in league history with at least 100 receptions in three seasons. McCaffrey is one of four former Cardinal to earn at least four Pro Bowl nods in his career.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the 2025 season was Michael Wilson, who burst onto the scene for the Arizona Cardinals. Wilson started 13 games in the desert and recorded 1,006 receiving yards with seven touchdowns. 775 of those receiving yards came over the final eight weeks of the season, which trailed only Puka Nacua of the Rams. The last Stanford receiver to eclipse 1,000 yards in a season was Doug Baldwin in 2016. He also recorded a 185-yard performance against San Francisco on Nov. 16, 2025, that finished as the second-most receiving yards in a game by a receiver. He is now WR1 in Arizona after the team traded Marvin Harrison Jr. to Houston.

Tight End University continues to be on display with five on active rosters. Colby Parkinson had a breakout year in 2025, racking up eight touchdowns, tied for third among tight ends in the league. All eight of his scores came in the final nine regular season games for the Los Angeles Rams. Dalton Schultz has gotten off to hot start for the Houston Texans, including a 12-catch, 140-yard performance in Week 2 against Cincinnati. He is the fourth former Cardinal to put up that stat line in an NFL game. Austin Hooper reached the Super Bowl with the New England Patriots last year and signed a one-year contract with the Atlanta Falcons in the offseason, returning to the team that drafted him in 2016. Hooper scored a touchdown on Thursday Night Football for the Falcons in Week 3. Elijah Higgins scored a touchdown for the Cardinals in Week 4, his first touchdown of the season. Zach Ertz also re-signed with the Philadelphia Eagles, now in his 14th season in the league and second stint with Philadelphia.

One of the last to sign in preseason, Bobby Okereke signed a one-year contract with the Carolina Panthers and made a quick impact on the reigning NFC South champions. On the first drive of the Panthers' Week 1 game against Chicago, Okereke forced a fumble that Carolina recovered, and in Week 2, he intercepted Cooper Rush. Okereke has recorded over 100 tackles in four of the last five seasons.

ALL WITHIN THEIR HANDS

Stanford student-athletes go on to achieve great things at the professional level, both on the field and off. During the 2025 NFL season, Bobby Okereke (New York Giants), Curtis Robinson (San Francisco 49ers), and Solomon Thomas (Dallas Cowboys) were nominees for the Walter Payton Man of the Year award. Stanford was one of five universities to have multiple nominees for the award (Clemson, Mississippi State, Notre Dame, Utah State), but the only school with three nominees.

Widely regarded as the league's most prestigious honor, it was renamed in 1999 after the late Hall of Fame running back, Walter Payton. Each team nominates one player who has had a significant positive impact on their community.

Bobby Okereke took on a leadership position as the General Manager of Team Nigeria's men's and women's national flag football teams and created Nigerian American Football Outreach, Inc., to develop opportunities for youth in Nigeria through the sport. Curtis Robinson focuses on education in his community efforts, inspired by his mother's dedicated career as a college professor. He participates regularly with the 49ers' EDU stadium classroom and Social Justice Player Committees, as well as coaching over 400 youth in flag football events. Solomon Thomas continued to champion mental health awareness with impactful public appearances and community efforts, using each opportunity to empower others with tools to recognize signs of struggle and foster supportive environments.

LUX ÆTERNA

The Stanford Athletics Hall of Fame welcomed 10 former student-athletes on Sept. 25, including former football greats Kevin Hogan and Owen Marecic. They were honored at halftime during Stanford's win over Georgia Tech.

The Class of 2026 included Inky Ajanaku (women's volleyball), Kevin Hogan (football), Kristian Ipsen (men's swimming and diving), Onnie Killefer (field hockey), Owen Marecic (football), Ali Riley (women's soccer), Erika Roddy (women's rowing), Laura Shane (lacrosse), Erik Shoji (men's volleyball) and Kawika Shoji (men's volleyball).

Hogan is the winningest quarterback in Stanford history, amassing 36 wins across four seasons, including a 3-1 record in bowl games. He is one of three quarterbacks to start in three Rose Bowl Games (2012, 2013, 2015), leading the Cardinal to wins in "The Granddaddy of Them All" in 2012 and 2015. He holds the Stanford record for rushing yards by a quarterback (1,249) and rushing touchdowns by a quarterback (15). Hogan was drafted in the fifth round of the 2016 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs and appeared in nine NFL games.

Marecic is one of the most prolific two-way players in college football history, spending time at both fullback and linebacker during his career. He was the inaugural recipient of the Paul Hornung Award (2010), presented annually to the most versatile player in college football. A standout on the field (2010 AFCA First Team All-America) and in the classroom (2010 NFF Scholar-Athlete of the Year and CSC Academic All-America Second Team), Marecic was selected in the fourth round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns and played in 24 career games.

WINNING IS ALL

Stanford owns the greatest streak in college athletics, having won at least one NCAA team title in each of the past 50 years (dating back to the 1976-77 campaign), the longest streak in NCAA history. Stanford leads the NCAA with 139 team titles, including two NCAA team championships during the 2025-26 campaign - men's gymnastics and women's golf - increasing its overall total to 178. Stanford is one of six programs with at least one national championship in football, baseball, and men's basketball, and the only school with at least one in football, baseball, men's and women's basketball.

Men's gymnastics extended the streak on April 18, 2026, by winning its sixth NCAA championship in seven years, putting the Cardinal at the historic 50-year mark. The next longest active NCAA title streak is held by five schools at just six years.

From 1995-2019, Stanford won 25 straight Division I Learfield Sports Directors' Cups. The Cardinal enters the 2026-27 year with 26 of the 33 total Directors' Cups, most recently capturing the elusive award during the 2022-23 season.

NO LEAF CLOVER

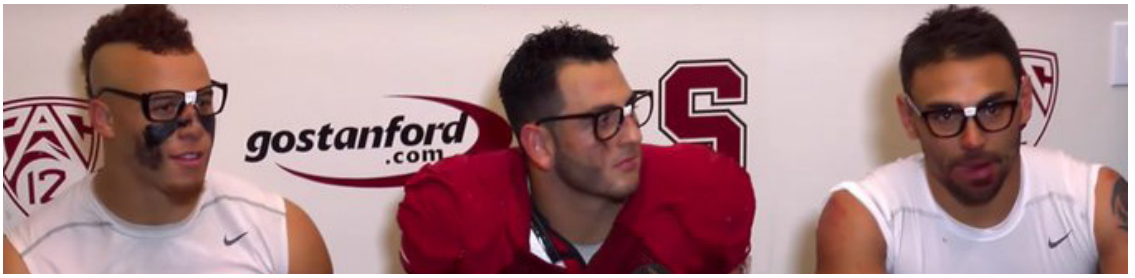

Scorigami is a concept developed by Jon Bois at SB Nation that has taken over social media in recent years. Scorigami tracks final scores that have never happened before, initially in the NFL, and now for Stanford football. Through Week 10 of the 2026 season, there have been 731 unique results in Stanford football history. The following are the Stanford Scorigami results for the 2026 season:

- Stanford 37, Hawai'i 27. That's a Scorigami! It is the 725th unique result in Stanford football history.
- No. 7 Miami 45, Stanford 6. That's a Scorigami! It is the 726th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Duke 35, Stanford 7. That's a Scorigami! It is the 727th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Stanford 34, Georgia Tech 27. That's a Scorigami! It is the 728th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Wake Forest 57, Stanford 3. That's a Scorigami! It is the 729th unique result in Stanford football history.
- No. 3 Notre Dame 58, Stanford 7. That's a Scorigami! It is the 730th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Stanford 34, Elon 7. That's not a Scorigami. Stanford most recently beat Rice by this score in 1964.
- Stanford 31, NC State 28. That's not a Scorigami. Stanford most recently beat Oregon State by this score in 2019.
- Louisville 52, Stanford 24. That's a Scorigami! It's the 731st unique result in Stanford football history.

LIFE'S FOR MY OWN TO LIVE MY OWN WAY

Stanford has long been regarded as one of the premier institutions in both athletics and academics, and the football team's tight end room exemplifies this on a yearly basis. Every tight end on the roster took his headshot with white tape in the middle of large, black-rimmed glasses to signify "Nerd Nation," a movement that was created over a decade ago in 2013.

Following a 2013 win at Oregon, Shayne Skov, Tyler Gaffney, and A.J. Tarpley showed up to the team's post-game press conference with those very same bulky glasses with tape over the bridge. Naturally, they were asked about it, and they described it as embracing what it means to be a Stanford student-athlete. Skov, now the Executive Associate AD for Strategy at Stanford, explained, "It's Nerd Nation. We take pride in what we do."

One of the most prominent women's basketball alumni, Chiney Ogwumike, helped start the movement during a basketball shoot-around. She heard the popular song Rack City, by Tyga, and thought, "What if we changed that to 'Nerd City'?" She wound up writing full lyrics for a Stanford version, and with the help of her sister Nneka, rapped it in front of her teammates in the locker room before a film session.

It caught on, and a music video was eventually created, which brought "Nerd Nation" into a brand-new light. According to Chiney, who now works at ESPN as a basketball analyst, the point of it all was "to show at Stanford you can be a student and an athlete and still be cool. You can redefine what 'nerd' means to you."

2026 COACHING STAFF

TAVITA PRITCHARD

BRADFORD M. FREEMAN DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL
1ST SEASON AS HEAD COACH AT STANFORD
14TH SEASON OVERALL AT STANFORD

Tavita Pritchard was named the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football on Nov. 28, 2025. Pritchard is the 37th head coach in program history and a 2009 graduate of Stanford.

"Winning in college football today requires a leader of men who can build and motivate teams, recruit future stars, and develop and connect with talent," said Stanford football general manager Andrew Luck. "Tavita Pritchard is exactly the right head coach at the right time to help us build on the foundation of this season and lead Stanford football to its next great era. Coach Pritchard is a culture builder, a teacher of football of the highest caliber, and a humble yet determined servant leader who is committed to the success of Stanford's student-athletes. I could not be more excited to welcome Tavita, Caroline and their family back to campus."

"Stanford is a place like no other and my family and I are full of gratitude to be returning home in every sense of the word," said Pritchard. "I have a clear vision of the hard work, brotherhood and tenacity it will take to build a championship Stanford football program. I cannot wait to partner with Andrew and begin working with the best student-athletes in the world to achieve excellence on and off the field."

Pritchard most recently spent three seasons as quarterbacks coach of the Washington Commanders, having mentored Jayden Daniels, Jacoby Brissett, Sam Howell and Marcus Mariota. During his tenure with Washington, Pritchard played a major role in developing the Commanders' offense, highlighted by an appearance in the 2024 NFC Championship Game. Pritchard returns to The Farm in the spirit of Stanford's rich legacy of NFL coaching talent, including Bill Walsh, Denny Green, Jim Harbaugh, David Shaw and Vic Fangio.

Pritchard guided Daniels, the second overall pick in the 2024 NFL Draft, through one of the most impressive rookie seasons in NFL history in 2024, as Daniels was named AP Offensive Rookie of the Year, qualified for the Pro Bowl and established multiple records in his debut. Daniels, who totaled 3,568 yards, 25 passing touchdowns and a 69.0 percent completion rate, finished the season with a combined 31 touchdowns, which ranks third all-time for a rookie quarterback in NFL history.

"Tavita will be a fantastic head coach, and I believe he will be especially effective at Stanford," said Commanders head coach Dan Quinn, who is in his second season with the organization. "Players gravitate to him, and he quickly earned their respect and mine. Tavita is smart, collaborative, diligent and he brings people together. He is the perfect coach to build a winning program in today's college football landscape."

"If I had a son playing college football, I'd want him to play for Tavita Pritchard," said Commanders offensive coordinator Kliff Kingsbury. "Tavita has a unique ability to build relationships, and I've never seen a quarterback room as tight and unified as the one he has molded."

"I'm playing the best football of my career, and Tavita is helping make that possible," said Washington quarterback Marcus Mariota. "His weekly process and preparation are elite. Tavita understands exactly what each team member needs, and he breathes confidence into us. Tavita's connection with players is second to none, and his demeanor sets the tone. He lets you play free and genuinely wants players to be the best versions of themselves."

A four-year letterwinner for the Cardinal from 2006-09, Pritchard appeared in 31 career games and made 20 starts, throwing for 2,865 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Pritchard made his first career start against USC on Oct. 6, 2007, and engineered an epic 24-23 upset of the second-ranked Trojans in the Los Angeles Coliseum when the Cardinal was a 41-point underdog. His 10-yard game-winning touchdown pass to Mark Bradford on fourth down with 0:49 left in the game secured his spot in Stanford football lore.

Pritchard started all 12 games as a junior in 2008 and threw for 1,633 yards and 10 touchdowns, helping Stanford to a 5-7 record. He relinquished his starting duties to Andrew Luck in 2009. Pritchard saw action in five games that season, capped off by a start in the Sun Bowl for an injured Luck.

Following his graduation, Pritchard began a lengthy coaching career with the Cardinal, serving in a variety of roles during a stretch that featured 10 consecutive bowl games, nine straight Big Game victories and appearances in three Rose Bowls (2013-14, 2016), Fiesta Bowl (2012) and Orange Bowl (2011). After joining the staff as a graduate assistant in 2010, Pritchard served as defensive assistant (2011-12) and running backs coach (2013).

Pritchard was promoted to the role of quarterbacks/wide receivers coach in 2014-17, coaching quarterback Kevin Hogan as the Cardinal ended the season with dominant victories over USC in the Pac-12 Championship Game and Iowa in the Rose Bowl. From 2018-22, Pritchard was elevated to serve as the Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach.

"Getting the chance to work with Tavita again in Washington has been one of the most enjoyable parts of my career," said Commanders' tight end and Stanford's 2012 unanimous first-team All-American Zach Ertz. "I've seen firsthand how much Tavita has grown since we were together at Stanford – as a coach, as a leader and as a person. He connects with players at every level and brings out the best in everyone around him. I have full confidence that he and Andrew will build a Stanford football program that every former player, every alum and the entire Stanford community will be incredibly proud of."

"Tavita Pritchard is the next important piece in our comprehensive effort to restore Stanford football to a winning tradition," said Stanford's Jaquish & Kenninger Director and Chair of Athletics John Donahoe, who began his tenure on Sept. 8, 2025, after serving as former CEO of NIKE, eBay and ServiceNow. "Tavita is an exceptional leader and his appointment, coupled with the strong fundraising success we are experiencing, will help build the foundation for our success and leadership in football."

A native of Tacoma, Washington, Pritchard earned a communication degree from Stanford. He and his wife, Caroline, met as undergraduates and have four children, three of whom were born at Stanford Hospital.
