Join the Baldwin Wallace community for a celebration of Walden, Henry David Thoreau's exaltation of simple living and the self-determined life.

On Tuesday, October 17th, we will attempt to read this American classic in its entirety over the course of eight hours.

Readings will be from noon to 1:30 in Grindstone, Strosacker Hall, then from 2:00 to 8:00 in The Marting-Treuhft Lounge, Marting Hall.

Each attendee is encouraged to read for 5 to 10 minutes. There will be drawings for a prize every hour. Read a section and listen as your friends read, too!
