Dear STARS administrators:

Oregon State University is pleased to submit our Fiscal Year 2020 Sustainability Tracking, Assessment and Rating System (STARS) data. While I am new to the OSU family, it is clear the legacy of commitment to sustainability runs deep here, and builds from Oregon State's land grant background and expertise in natural resources stewardship.

This is our tenth STARS submission, demonstrating the value we place in STARS, both as a sustainability management tool and a teaching tool. We pride ourselves in being among a small number of institutions that complete a full STARS assessment each year. We routinely use STARS as an experiential learning tool and make sure data are accessible for our broad and diverse stakeholders. With this, STARS plays a role in fulfilling OSU's land grant mission.

I believe this data submission is an accurate reflection of Oregon State University's activities, to the greatest extent an assessment system can capture the efforts of a large and complex institution. I look forward to our continued participation as a Charter Participant.

Sincerely,

F. King Alexander
President
