NEW! CHIPPED TREASURES: A WRITING WORKSHOP

What makes something a treasure? Does it have to be perfect in order to be treasured? Often, imperfections in our beloved belongings actually add to rather than detract from their charm. (Consider that beloved chipped china platter from Grandma's house or a child's teddy bear with the missing button eye. What keeps us from just throwing these things away?) In this workshop, explore the world of chipped treasures. Ask what, exactly, gives such items their value. Read stories about chipped treasures and analyze what in the brokenness adds to their significance. Bring in samples of your own chipped treasures, share the "back stories" and try your hand at writing about your own experiences in cherishing chipped treasures. Through sharing these stories, explore the notion that your treasures can remain treasures, even, or especially, when chipped.

Discovery: PROGRAMS FOR ADULTS 50+

Short-term classes, field trips and tours are offered in a variety of topics in a relaxed atmosphere with other interested adults presented by knowledgeable instructors and guides.

This program is specially designed to fit your schedule and lifestyle!

Discovery: Judaic Studies

ZIONISM, ANTI-ZIONISM AND ANTISEMITISM

Antisemitism and Israel have been intertwined since Theodor Herzl witnessed the Dreyfus Trial in 1894, sparking his book “The Jewish State” and modern Zionism. Today’s conflicts in Europe, the Middle East and on college campuses are a bewildering, even disturbing, combination of legitimate criticism and irrational hatred. The more we understand about each of these phenomena, the better we can choose what to do in response.

THE PEOPLE OF THE BOOK: ONE GOD, THREE VISIONS

Judaism, Christianity and Islam can be thought of as related religions complete with all the problems relatives experience: closeness, yes—but also misunderstandings, competition, spats, feuds and mending fences. This presentation offers a primer on these three religions, showing how they interrelate in important basics, but also how they offer separate, distinctive and sometimes opposing ways of approaching the divine.

The Election. Looking Back, Going Forward / June 19-22

MONDAY

Morning Session

AMERICA'S FOREIGN POLICY: 2017-2021

Instructor: Gary Midkiff

Our basic foreign policy objectives have remained the same since the end of World War II. Various administrations have seen challenges somewhat differently. President Dwight Eisenhower saw the greatest threat based in the Soviet Union, President George W. Bush saw the greatest threat based in the Middle East. The new administration has outlined a set of objectives that seem to veer from accepted orthodoxy. Is this a dangerous tangent or an overdue strategic reassessment?

Afternoon Session

JOURNALISM IN A TIME OF PRESIDENT TRUMP

Instructor: John Kupetz

George Orwell said, "The further society drifts from the truth, the more it will hate those that speak it." Proving Orwell's point, the president of the United States has called the news media "the enemy of the American people." This session is moderated by a journalism teacher who believes press has never been more important than it is now. Participants should come ready to discuss their view of the press.

TUESDAY

Morning Session

AMERICA'S ECONOMY AND TRADE POLICY: 2017-2021

Instructor: Gary Midkiff

The new administration inherited an expanding economy, steady job growth and robust levels of international trade. Yet in part, the 2016 campaign was based on assertions that we were being taken advantage of in trade and we needed an America-first policy to bring back lost jobs. This session will delve into this topic and attempt to uncover reality.

Afternoon Session

TELLING JOKES TO POWER – AMERICA'S GREAT POLITICAL SATIRISTS

Instructor: Barry Bradford

"I don't make jokes. I just watch the government and report the facts," said Will Rogers. From Mark Twain to Bill Maher, from Will Rogers to Jon Stewart, America has a hilarious history of political satire. In this unique, funny and thought-provoking multimedia presentation, cultural historian, former stand-up comic and political enthusiast Barry Bradford offers an insightful look into the lives and times of the men and women who help us laugh at our government.

WEDNESDAY

Morning Session

"THE DEAD ZONE"

Instructor: John Kupetz

In 1979, Stephen King envisioned a populist, platitude-pronouncing candidate running for the U.S. Senate as the antagonist in a novel that David Cronenberg adapted into a 1983 supernatural thriller. "The Dead Zone" stars Christopher Walken as an English teacher who wakes from a coma and through touch can see the future. He shakes hands with the candidate, played by Martin Sheen, and sees he should not be president. Participants will screen and discuss the film in relation to the current political climate.

Afternoon Session

REFLECTIONS ON 250 YEARS OF GERMAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS

Instructor: Anette Isaacs

When the leaders of the world's principal industrial nations meet at the G20 summit in Hamburg this July, President Donald Trump will be introduced to the international political stage. This seminal event presents us with a perfect opportunity to take a closer look at the history of German-American relations. Join German historian Anette Isaacs, M.A., for a fascinating discussion of the achievements and challenges of this remarkable affiliation.

THURSDAY

Morning Session

VOTER FRAUD AND VOTER SUPPRESSION: THE FIGHT OVER VOTING RIGHTS

Instructor: Julie Strauss, Ph.D.

Voting laws are changing in many states. Many of these changes stem from the 2013 Supreme Court decision on the 1965 Voting Rights Act. Discover how this decision sparked voting law changes in several states and efforts by other states to expand and retract access to the polls. In the wake of the 2016 election, voting rights continue to be an issue. Don't miss this session about a crucial aspect of our electoral process.

Afternoon Session

DEMOCRAT RESPONSE TO THE 2016 ELECTION

Instructor: Julie Strauss, Ph.D.

We will cover the mechanics of how President Donald Trump won the presidency, including how he won the Electoral College. Then we will discuss the Democratic Party's response to Republican control of both Congress and the White House. We will examine the policies that both parties are able to support and those on which there is disagreement, how the filibuster is being used and how Congressional leaders are working with the current administration.

The '60s, '70s, '80s and '90s / July 17-20

Morning Session

CHICAGO '68

Instructor: Dave Groeninger

In 1968, the world seemed to turn upside down. Nowhere was this more manifest than in Chicago when the Democratic Party met to nominate its presidential candidate. Revisit the figures and forces that violently collided on the streets of the city that summer, creating shock waves that continue to reverberate today.

Afternoon Session

WHO KILLED JFK?

Instructor: Barry Bradford

The murder of John F. Kennedy has been one of the most debated, discussed, dissected and controversial events in history. Even before the Warren Commission issued its report finding that Lee Harvey Oswald was the only killer, the public was skeptical. How could a man like Oswald pull off such a dastardly crime? And what about all those secret files? And all the conspiracy theories? And the movies, books, articles and documentaries? In this fast-paced, highly informative multimedia presentation, historian Barry Bradford will answer as many of these questions as possible.

TUESDAY

Morning Session

WATERGATE

Instructor: Barry Bradford

Watergate was a major political scandal of the 1970s. In this fast-moving multimedia presentation, we will look at the roots of the crime and the desperate attempts of the Nixon Administration to cover it up, all of which were unraveled by journalists, a judge and Congress.

Afternoon Session

"ALL THE PRESIDENT'S MEN"

Instructor: John Kupetz

Participants will view and discuss one of the great films of the 1970s and journalism as it should be practiced as a check on the excesses of power. The film is based on the book by the reporters whose dogged journalism held the light of truth against the darkness of the Nixon Administration. The 1976 film, directed by Alan Pakula, shows that good journalism takes the "Wizard of Oz" virtues of courage, heart and brains – and the help of the most celebrated anonymous source in the history of journalism. The cinematography by the great Gordon Willis and a screenplay by William Goldman combine to remind us that speaking truth to power is always good for democracy.

WEDNESDAY

FIELD TRIP TO NAPERVILLE

9 a.m. to 3 p.m.:

Tour Leader: Dave Groeninger

Ranked today among the "best places to live" and "top-earning towns" in the nation, Naperville's origins (like its neighbor to the east, Chicago) date to the 1830s. Join us for a tour of Naperville's past and present, as we attempt to locate the keys to the city's remarkable recent growth and success in the context of its long association and competition with Chicago.

THURSDAY

Morning Session

THE PENDULUM SWINGS TO THE LEFT

Instructor: Gary Midkiff

The political mainstream changed course many times over the past 40 years with President Ronald Reagan's two administrations, the main example of the political right trying to create a new path for the country to follow. But as we identify the most important legislation of this period, we find President Lyndon Johnson's "Great Society" and NAFTA (initiated by President George H.W. Bush and signed by President Clinton) liberal additions to our nation's fabric that still have impact on us today.

Afternoon Session

AMY TAN

Instructor: Sara Stephens

One of the most popular writers of the 1980s was Amy Tan and that standing still holds today. In the early 1980s, she wrote "The Kitchen God's Wife." Prior to that was her first novel, "The Joy Luck Club," which became an instant bestseller and feature film. She has continued a steady stream of celebrated tales, despite some major life setbacks. Find out what they were and be inspired.

THE PRESIDENCY OF BILL CLINTON

It has been over 16 years since Bill Clinton left the White House. When we think of him, we often confront images of Monica Lewinsky and his impeachment trial. But his presidency was much more than that – it was attempted health care reform, NAFTA, steady economic expansion, welfare reform, military intervention in southeast Europe and the last budget surplus our country has enjoyed. Professor Gary Midkiff will examine his two terms as president – the good, the bad and the ugly.

THE BATTLE OF THE CRATER: POLITICS AND RACISM IN THE CIVIL WAR

With the bloodiness of war, it is easy to lose sight of the fact that armies are the physical extension of political intent. Nowhere is this more clearly exhibited than in The Battle of the Crater. Learn why lives were savagely lost when generals focused too closely on political outcome.

Each of the shows Bradford highlights will be playing in the Chicago area this year! So before you head to Broadway in Chicago or the Marriott Theatre in Lincolnshire, come to CLC first. You'll gain insight, appreciation and insider knowledge about some of Broadway's best. Featured shows may include "Beautiful – The Carole King Musical," "She Loves Me," "The King and I," "Something Rotten," "An American in Paris" and "Newsies."

THE PRESIDENCY OF DWIGHT EISENHOWER

He promised to go to Korea – and he did. But his partial success there became a predictor of his foreign policy – some successes balanced by some failures, good intentions and often poor results, in part because of his reliance on the Dulles brothers. Domestically he was more effective, with the glaring exception of Senator Joseph McCarthy. Much admired and often questioned, Gary Midkiff will examine his two terms as president, including the creation of NASA and the embarrassment of the U2 incident.

GERMANY, ANGELA MERKEL AND THE IMPENDING ELECTION

Germany is preparing for an important election in September that will not only decide the chancellor's fate, but that of the entire European Union. Will Angela Merkel and her Christian Democratic party be able to stay at the helm of Europe's most populous nation and its economic powerhouse? Or will her adversaries, the Social Democratic party, perhaps in a coalition with the environment-friendly Green party, secure a win? What would be the ramifications of such a victory? Would a new chancellor be as interested in and dedicated to solving the current refugee crisis? Join German historian and political scientist Anette Isaacs for a fascinating discussion of these pressing and critical issues.

Discovery: Literature

LIFE INTO LITERATURE

Many authors will say their work is not autobiographical, and strictly speaking this is true. However, there are cases where things in their lives have leaked into their writing. They are somewhat fictionalized perhaps, but it's easy to see that certain events and emotions have been grist for the writing mill. Among those we will discuss are Sylvia Plath's poem "Daddy" and novel "The Bell Jar," as well as Hemingway's "Hills Like White Elephants."

"I just missed being killed by about three seconds."

– Christine Burke praising CLC's defensive driving course.

Christine Burke of Lake Barrington enrolled in our Defensive Driving Course. While driving less than a week later, she used a lesson from the course to narrowly avoid getting smashed broadside by a car that ran a red light.

Burke said that she hesitated at the intersection, recalling a tip she learned in the defensive driving course called "delayed acceleration" waiting two or three seconds before entering an intersection if yours is the first car there. She credits this decision with saving her life.
