Hi Michael,

Debbie Blackie asked me to respond to the follow-up questions you had related to equity in pay for the STARS sustainability survey.

The answer to question #1, if adjunct professors = Lecturers, is Yes.

The answer to question #2 is No

Unfortunately, because the nature of this information is confidential, I am unable to provide supporting documentation for these answers.

I hope this can still help and I apologize for not being able to provide back-up data.

Please let me know if I can assist further.

Thank you, Lexie
