

America's ZERO CARBON ACTION PLAN

Save the Date:
October 27, 2020

Dear Colleague,

Join SDSN USA for the official launch of America's Zero Carbon Action Plan (ZCAP) on October 27, 2020!

Project chairs will present the key recommendations and pathways from the Plan, which was developed through a consortium of over 50 experts who have developed a policy toolkit linked to a comprehensive, quantitatively-based strategy to achieve zero-carbon emissions in the United States by 2050 in line with the IPCC recommendations, the Paris Climate Agreement, and the Sustainable Development Goals. The plan is unlike any other in that it is based on both an energy and infrastructure model, and an economic model to project the job implications of the transition. The document aligns the technology transformation with economic levers, and provides a cadre of policy recommendations to get America to net zero emissions by 2050. The plan will be delivered to Congress and the Executive Administration in November.

This launch will cover an overview of the plan and will be complemented by a series of related sector specific webinars that will dive deeper into the specific recommendations in the transport, materials, and land sectors, along with others to be announced.
