To whom it may concern:

Program Pathways is an initiative between Anne Arundel County Public Schools (AACPS) and Anne Arundel Community College (AACC) to support secondary to post-secondary student transition. Program Pathways are organized under learning clusters and demonstrate how students can move high school programs into college degrees and certificates. Program Pathways offer opportunities for students to earn college credit for successfully completing specific high school programs.

This letter affirms the Program Pathways information being proposed for submission is accurate to the best of my knowledge. For more information on Program Pathways, visit www.aacc.edu/programpathways.

Sincerely,

Mary Garner
