MEMORANDUM

DATE: February 7, 2011

TO: Dan Cornthwaite, AS Executive Director
AS Green Love Sustainability Advisory Board
AS Council

FROM: Grant Mack, AS President/CEO

SUBJECT: Associated Students Corporate Sustainability Goals

Associated Students Sustainability Vision Statement

The Associated Students of San Diego State University recognizes the fundamental principles that govern our way of life and seeks to ensure a sustainable society and environment by addressing the deficiencies of our systems through the creation and implementation of innovative technologies and practices, enhancing the social, cultural and recreational programs our organization offers to students, faculty, staff and the community at large.

Goals

1. All Associated Students managed facilities will achieve Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design Existing Building: Operations & Maintenance (LEED EB: O&M) silver certification or better by 2020.
2. All Associated Students managed facilities will become net-energy zero by 2020.
3. The Associated Students will encourage full-time and part-time employees to embrace sustainable lifestyles by implementing programs to incentivize socially and environmentally responsible behavior.

Procedural steps to accomplish these goals began with the formation of the Associated Students Green Love initiative in spring 2008. Under the direction of the AS Council, the Green Love Sustainability Advisory Board has implemented various projects that seek to make the AS managed facilities more sustainable in terms of energy and water efficiency, indoor environmental air quality, material use and reuse and waste management. With the completion of the LEED EB: O&M analysis conducted by Envision Reality Services in February 2011, the Associated Students is ready to solidify its long-term sustainability goals, which will be carried out in keeping with the Green Love initiative by the full-time staff of the Associated Students, San Diego State University. These goals, however, are subject to available funding and/or physical limitations within our managed facilities but I'm confident that with the dedication and passion of student leaders these goals are easily attainable.
