

February 24th, 2015
Greensboro, NC

To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to affirm the Peabody Park Soundscape Project at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for an innovation credit of the AASHE STARS assessment. Soundscape research is a new and burgeoning field of research, particularly as it relates to ecology on college campuses. This has been a deeply interdisciplinary effort, bringing together faculty and student resources from UNCG's School of Music, Department of Biology, Office of Sustainability, and Facilities Operations. In coordinating the flow of resources and ideas across departments, the university has been exceptionally flexible and supportive through the long process of conceptualization, design, approval, and installation. It gives me great pleasure to affirm my support of the university's STARS credit application.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "William Hueholt". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, prominent "W" and "H".

William Hueholt