RE: Ball State University Submission
Sustainability Tracking Assessment Rating System (STARS)

Dear Colleagues,

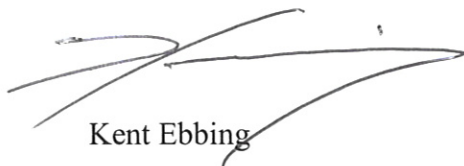

This letter is to affirm that Ball State University (BSU) students and faculty mentors have been responsible for helping to communicate the numerous sustainability-based activities of the Indianapolis Airport Authority (IAA).

These academic teams have produced multiple videos and an interactive web app for use by our patrons during their on-site wait times and for those scanning the web sites of the IAA – and our many sustainability partners.

This work has been enriching to all parties involved and we look forward to this ongoing collaboration with BSU as our Education Partner – so that we can continue to expand the means by which to share the stories of our commitment to being exemplars of sustainability performance.

If you have questions or need additional information, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Kent Ebbing
