To Whom it May Concern:

I am pleased to affirm that the programs, outreach and community engagement efforts of the Aboriginal Student Support & Community Relations Department at Red River College serve as an innovative model to respect and strengthen the diversity of our College.

Many prospective and current students require additional supports and resources to feel welcome and safe in a post-secondary setting. I am proud to work alongside a team of dedicated individuals who take a holistic approach to student learning and make the College experience a welcome place for Aboriginal students and their families.

Sincerely,

April Krahn

Director, Aboriginal Student Support & Community Relations Department
