

COLORADO COLLEGE

To Whom It May Concern:

The work of the Office of Sustainability touches every aspect of the Colorado College campus and innovatively engages the local community. Office of Sustainability (OoS) interns work closely with many academic departments on- and off-campus in initiatives that broadly address sustainability. The OoS also focuses on wide-ranging curricular and co-curricular projects, and is deeply involved with getting CC faculty members and students connected with local green projects. The Office of Sustainability instantiates the inventive and adventurous spirit of Colorado College and is a force for environmental innovation and action on campus and in the wider community.
