

Summary of Faculty Conducting Sustainability Research - 2011-2012

Faculty Name	Department	Research Area*
Dan McNally	Science & Technology	Study of oil degradation in coastal environments
Julie Crowley-Parmentier	Science & Technology	Study of oil degradation in coastal environments
Hong Yang	Science & Technology	Use of isotope geochemistry to study climate change
Gaytha Langlois	Science & Technology	Protection of coral reefs; tracking oil pollution in intertidal communities
Qin Leng	Science & Technology	Protection of endangered species
Jane McKay Nesbitt	Marketing	Cross-disciplinary approaches to teaching sustainability
Carol DeMoranville	Marketing	Cross-disciplinary approaches to teaching sustainability
Sharmin Attaran	Marketing	Sustainability, corporate social responsibility
Stephanie Boyer	Marketing	Sustainability marketing
Michael Gravier	Marketing	Energy efficiency; supply chain analysis
Laurie Bates	Economics	Public demand for open spaces
Sam Mirmirani	Economics	Health care efficiency
Ramesh Mohan	Economics	Poverty studies
Sandra Enos	History & Social Sciences	Service learning and social activism
Judy McDonnell	History & Social Sciences	Racial, ethnic, and gender inequality

Based on Faculty Profiles posted on the Bryant University Website, including self-identified research interests or having at least one publication on the topic.