

STETSON UNIVERSITY

Office of the President | Unit 8258

December 4, 2012

To members of the AASHE STARS Steering Committee:

Stetson University has long supported Environmental and Social Responsibility as core values. We are proud to be charter members of the American College and University Presidents' Climate Commitment and welcome the opportunity to build on this commitment through STARS participation.

The information contained in our submission is the most accurate we could provide for the STARS 1.1 tool. Through collaboration among student researchers, faculty, and university staff, we brought information together for the 2011 operational year. This baseline study will guide our future sustainability initiatives, and we hope it will offer inspiration to other universities to work with the principles of social, economic, and environmental equity.

Sincerely,

Wendy B. Libby, Ph.D.
