To whom it may concern;

I am writing in support of the reYUse site at York University. reYUse is an innovative and practical tool that allows students to share unwanted items for free. It also has a few advantages over other sites, namely:

- reYUse is a York website, is password protected, and can only be used by the York community, which adds an element of safety and protection against fraud for our student community
- since everything on the reYUse site is free, it's an affordable way for our students to find items they need

With students on strict budgets, finding free items and keeping unwanted items out of landfill is a win-win proposition. We are happy to endorse the reYUse site and look forward to promoting it to enhance both the student experience and sustainability at York University.

Sincerely,
