To the STARS Committee:

As Georgia's Public Liberal Arts College, we at Georgia College & State University take great pride in engaging our student as leaders of tomorrow's world. Our participation in the Sustainability Tracking, Assessment, and Rating System will allow us to monitor our institutional goals for achieving a more sustainable campus, and at the same time provide our students with concrete evidence that we are helping improve our world at the local scale. We intend to use STARS for a wide variety of administrative and educational objectives, including many that will directly impact student life and undergraduate research.

I have reviewed the STARS data collection method, and have tasked our Office for Sustainability and the Georgia College Sustainability Council with reporting accurate, current, and relevant information to STARS. I am confident that our report is as up-to-date and precise. We look forward to learning from our efforts, and especially look forward to being able to compare the strength of our hard work to our institutional peers. Thank you for your service to our university.

Please feel free to contact me or our reporting team at any time with questions or advice.

Sincerely,

President Steve Dorman
