

Purchase, Janet

From: Salim, Zia
Sent: Saturday, February 16, 2019 10:57 AM
To: Purchase, Janet
Subject: Re: Geography Club Question

Hello Janet,

Yes, they do - our event coordinators have tended to be people with good training and/or experience with respect to those types of guidelines.

Best,
Zia Salim

--
Zia Salim
Assistant Professor
Department of Geography & the Environment
California State University, Fullerton

From: Purchase, Janet
Sent: Thursday, February 14, 2019 11:59:42 AM
To: Salim, Zia
Subject: Geography Club Question

Hi Dr. Salim,

The campus is working on a sustainability assessment report called STARS.

I have a question about the Geography Club. Do they follow the "Leave No Trace" principles in their outings?

Thanks for your help—

Janet

Janet Purchase, M.P.A.
Utility & Energy Analyst
Facilities Management | Physical Plant
California State University, Fullerton
800 N. State College Blvd. T-2000
Fullerton, CA 92831-3599
Office: 657-278-8362

Purchase, Janet

From: Adventure Club CSUF <csufadventureclub@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, February 14, 2019 11:57 AM
To: Purchase, Janet
Subject: Re: Leave No Trace

Hello Janet and thanks for your inquiry,

Yes, we adhere strictly to the "Leave No Trace" principle, and we encourage all of our members to do the same. During all of our trips, we make sure that we take only pictures, and leave only footsteps. As an outdoor club, and one of the largest on campus, we feel its important to set the example for our members and for other outdoor clubs.

Let me know if you have any other questions.

Travis Osborn
President

On Thu, Feb 14, 2019 at 11:51 AM Purchase, Janet <jpurchase@fullerton.edu> wrote:

Hi,

I'm doing some research on various student clubs. Does the Adventure Club follow the "Leave No Trace Principle" in its outdoor activities?

Thanks,

Janet