FACT BOOK

2016-2017

Preface

The 2016-2017 Fact Book documents the academic, financial, and institutional characteristics of Messiah College for the academic year and through time. The Fact Book largely captures the state of the campus during the “Fall Snapshot,” which occurs after the 10th day of classes. The Fall 2016 Snapshot was taken on September 13, 2016. It is a snapshot of a dynamic Messiah College that describes the characteristics or changes of the campus through time. The Fact Book also collects the information needed for federal and state reporting, as well as publishing-house surveys. The Institutional Research Office has annually collected this information and presented tabular and graphic summaries on the characteristics of Messiah’s students, the faculty and staff, finances, facilities, development, and alumni. Although the Fact Book was compiled by the Institutional Research Office, it draws upon and reflects the contributions of academic and administrative units across campus. We would like to thank each and every individual and office that assisted in the preparation of this publication.

The Fact Book is intended to be a consistent reference for describing Messiah College’s institutional characteristics, the campus context, and trends. In addition, the Fact Book can be used as an official source of basic historical data. It serves as an aid for internal projects and strategic planning, and it should be considered a source for responding to requests from external agencies. More detailed information is often available by contacting the Institutional Research Office.

The Fact Book will also be available, for internal use only, on the Institutional Research web page (<http://www.messiah.edu/offices/research/>) located on Messiah’s web site. Please contact us at any time with questions, clarifications, or suggestions for future editions.

Departmental Student-Faculty Ratio ³	12.52:1	12:44:1	12.02:1	12.00:1	10.92:1

Student FTE = the number of full-time undergraduate students, plus one-third of the part-time undergraduate students.

Faculty FTE = the number of full-time faculty contracted to provide instruction plus one-third of the part-time faculty.

Purpose: This ratio is defined by external reporting agencies (e.g., IPEDS, Common Data Set, US News & World Report).

² Defined as Instructional Student FTE/Instructional Faculty FTE.

Instructional Student FTE = load units taught by full-time and part-time faculty divided by the average number of hours attempted by full-time students during the academic year.

Instructional Faculty FTE is load units taught by full-time and part-time faculty divided by 24.

Purpose: This ratio provides a relatively accurate count of the faculty instructional cost to deliver the curriculum to our undergraduate students. The assumption is that the lower the instructional student-faculty ratio the higher the quality of instruction due to the fact that the College is applying more instructional faculty FTE to delivering the curriculum.

³ Defined as Student FTE/Departmental Faculty FTE.

Student FTE = the number of full-time undergraduate students, plus one-third of the part-time undergraduate students.

Departmental Faculty FTE = all departmentally related load units assigned to full-time and part-time faculty during the academic year divided by 24.

Purpose: This ratio provides a relatively accurate count of the departmental personnel cost (beyond the direct faculty costs) to deliver the curriculum to our undergraduate students.
