Thank you for your patience in becoming Food Recovery Verified. We are excited to be moving this processes forward and expect to have your stickers shipped by the end of the week. Please look out for an email confirming this and your official recognition as a Food Recovery Verified account.

You will also be added to our online map and given a social media plug. Please send any images, stories and facts you would like to be shared.

If you have questions or concerns please reach out to me via email.

Cheers,
Kirsty Hessing
