Sustainability-Focused Courses

Examine one or more topics applying all elements of sustainability (environmental, economic, and social) as a fundamental aspect of the course (i.e. most environmental/natural science courses explore all areas in depth in relation to at least one topic). Or covers a broad range of topics using sustainability lens (i.e. intro to sustainability or environmental planning).

Sustainability-Related Courses

Examine one or more topics as it relates to at least on element of sustainability (i.e. a course that discusses social implications of technology), or uses a course element to discuss environmental impacts, such as in a focused assignment.
