To the Association of the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education,

Madisonville Community College is committed to building resilient, sustainable communities. Sustainability is included in our overall strategic plan and it is our goal to focus on the environmental, economic, and social impact of the college's decisions. Madisonville Community College became a member of the Association of the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education in September 2014. Since then, AASHE and the STARS rating system have provided us with learning tools and a strong baseline for sustainable measures.

In preparing our STARS report, we learned of various areas and initiatives we can partake in to advance sustainable behaviors on campus and within the community. Like our colleagues, we strive to implement a more sustainable environment through recycling, institutional initiatives, and energy reduction efforts, all through the help of our students, faculty, and staff.

Being a part of Kentucky Community and Technical College System, a higher education system, allows Madisonville Community College the opportunity to work with groups of like-minded individuals and share ideas and initiatives to support sustainability efforts. We look forward to being leaders and advancing sustainability in our community.

It is with pleasure that I affirm the accuracy, to the best of our knowledge, of Madisonville Community College's Sustainability Tracking, Assessment, and Rating System Report. Information was gathered and compiled by Madisonville Community College's Sustainability Coordinator, Sustainability Committee, faculty and staff from all divisions of the institution.

Sincerely,

Dr. Judith L. Rhoads
President
