

James T. Spartz, PhD
Assistant Professor of Environmental Communication
Center for Environmental Arts & Humanities
215 Founders Hall South
90 Quaker Hill Road | Unity, ME 04988 USA
207.509.7187 | jspartz@unity.edu | www.unity.edu

---

23 March 2016

Dear Jennifer,

Please accept this letter as a symbol of my appreciation and affirmation for how we worked together with Unity College students, faculty, and staff to pull together the #EarthToParis video campaign in late 2015. This collaborative effort (thanks to you) lent a voice from America's Environmental College to the international awareness campaign leading up to the Paris Climate Talks in December. This unique and creative opportunity was a way to engage a true cross-section of the Unity community in a multimedia "shout out" to international leaders in Paris.

Not only was this a cross-campus effort and a way to represent Unity College, it gave a few of our Environmental Writing & Media Studies student a real-world and fast-paced project. The video project helped students develop skills – organizing, recording, editing, and finalizing – video productions for two short videos that eventually reached a truly global audience.

As you know, the efforts of a few can add up to changes for the many. This one project, done on short notice yet with an abundance of creativity, is a lasting testament to the wide-ranging efforts of the Unity College Office of Sustainability.

Sincerely,

James T. Spartz

James T. Spartz, PhD
Assistant Professor of Environmental Communication
Center for Environmental Arts & Humanities
Unity College, Maine, USA