Radford City Public Schools Superintendent Robert Graham has been chosen as the Region VII Superintendent of the year.

The Region VII Superintendents made the announcement on Friday. Graham, who has served as Radford's superintendent for eight years, will now compete with seven school division leaders for the Virginia Superintendent of the Year recognition.

"During his leadership, he has served the children and staff honorably with his vision of "Excellence in Education, Every Student, Every Day," the announcement reads. "Radford City Schools has been recognized as an Excellence in Workforce Readiness school division, the only division with an enrollment of 5,000 or less to receive this accolade. Other recognitions include being named a School Division of Innovation, Project Lead the Way Distinguished Schools, and VHSL National Guard Cup recipient in Academics (first place), and Athletics (third place) for the 2021-2022 school year. Mr. Graham has been instrumental in establishing the Region

VII Virtual Academy and, as a result, has ensured millions of state dollars to remain in Region VII."

Graham said he was shocked on Friday when he got the news.

"I was shocked to learn I had been selected to represent Region VII as the superintendent of the year, but also deeply grateful," said Graham on Monday. "The Region VII superintendent group is comprised of 19 fantastic school leaders who are not only knowledgeable about their profession, but they are passionate about doing right by children and ensuring they have all they need to achieve at high levels."

"I also feel very lucky to work in a school community with such talented students, staff and school community members and with a city that truly values education and provides

RADFORD – Professional Rehab Associates, Inc. is hosting an American Red Cross Blood Drive on Saturday, March 11 from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

"Celebrate life and make a difference by giving blood," the announcement reads. "Blood is needed for many different kinds of patients. It could be a young child with a rare blood disorder, a family member fighting cancer, or a friend involved in a car accident. Please donate at this special blood drive. You'll feel good knowing you've helped change the lives of patients in need."

The blood drive is being held in memory of Mark Stewart, the late founder of Professional Rehab Associates in Radford.

radiation, and stem cell transplantation," explains the Professional Rehab Associates website. "During his care at Blue Ridge Cancer Center, Montgomery Regional Hospital, Roanoke Memorial, and Duke University Medical Center Mark received countless units of blood, plasma, and platelets. He was always appreciative of the donors who gave. Before his passing, Mark urged his family to attempt to "pay back" all of the donations he had received."

"This year will be the Third Annual Blood Drive to honor Mark Stewart," it continues. "Mark was a son, brother, cousin, husband, father, uncle, grandfather, and friend who cared greatly for those in his life. He was a teammate and friend on the Cal State Long Beach crew team, he was a coach for numerous youth sports teams supporting local children, he was a builder and he was a manager. Mark and his wife, Kathy, founded Professional Rehab Associates with the mission of improving the health and lives of those in their community."

Each participant will receive a $10 Visa prepaid card by email as well as the chance to win a $3,000 Visa prepaid card to help with gas or grocery expenses. You could be one of five lucky winners.

Deadline extended for NRV Leading Lights Volunteer Award nominations

CHRISTIANSBURG – Actively seeking volunteer award nomination, NRV Leading Lights has extended the deadline until March 3, 2023

Leading Lights awards are focused on the impact of a volunteer's work and leadership.

Those who have been nominated before but not selected as a Distinguished Recipient may be nominated again. Individuals and organizations are highly encouraged to submit nominations for outstanding New River Valley volunteers they know or volunteer with.

Administrators, teachers, guidance counselors, club sponsors, and youth mentors are asked to nominate young people for the high school and college awards. Groups and organizations cannot be nominated for awards.

Awardees are engaged in diverse volunteer activities across the NRV. Collectively they spend thousands of hours over their lifetimes volunteering with clothing banks, rescue and disaster relief teams, as youth mentors, managing holiday programs, overseeing weekend food backpack programs, helping at local food kitchens, serving with civic groups, community building, and volunteering with many other local charitable activities and programs.

Awards are given in three categories: community (seven awards), high school (two awards), and college (two awards).

In the community award category, an award is reserved for a volunteer in each county/city of the New River Valley (Floyd County, Giles County, Pulaski County, Radford City), two in Montgomery County (due to population size), and one across the entire NRV to recognize Lifetime Volunteer Achievement.

Nominees must be current residents of the NRV or, if being nominated for a student category, they must be currently enrolled in a school/college in the NRV. Distinguished Recipients in each category will be selected on the following criteria:

Strong community involvement

Demonstrated lifestyle of dedicated, continuous, long-term involvement in the community

Proven leadership Creativity in initiating and implementing projects that lead to a better quality of life

The NRV Leading Lights organization recognizes volunteers in the New River Valley each year who are making community-changing impacts culminating in an annual celebratory event scheduled for April 13, 2023.

The organization honors Distinguished Recipients by making a monetary donation to the non-profit of their choice.

During WWII his parents worked in Baltimore, and he spent much of his childhood with his grandparents: Wyatt and Louise Tolbert in Gether, Va., and Gold and Blanche Peterman in Floyd. Both Gether and Floyd were special places for him. His parents moved to Turman Hill just outside of Christiansburg when he started the second grade. He graduated from Auburn High School in 1958. He is also survived by his long-time friend, Frank Bobbitt of Fancy Gap, whom Bill considered a brother. Finally, his friendship with Josh Altizer and Jeff Sheppard, both of Riner, kept him busy with fun projects. The family received friends on Tuesday, Feb. 21, 2023, at the Mullins Funeral Home in Radford, and a graveside service followed at the Teany Family Cemetery, Currin Lane, Christiansburg. In lieu of flowers, please consider donations to Old Brick Presbyterian Church, PO Box 3238 Radford, VA 24143. Bill was a man of few words, humble in nature, but kind to all. The Peterman family is in the care of Mullins Funeral Home and Crematory in Radford.

Tara Grant, principal of Radford High School, said Graham’s commitment to Radford’s schools is unwavering.

“There’s no one that loves his community more than Rob Graham,” she said. “It’s an honor to work with him. He’s involved with many committees and organizations throughout the state to try to bring Radford the resources and opportunities.”

In the Region VII announcement, an unnamed fellow Region VII superintendent says, “Mr. Graham is extremely deserving of this recognition as his vision of Excellence in Education, Every student, Every Day is on display daily not only in Radford City Schools, but also in Region VII.”

Graham holds bachelor’s degree in Education from Emory and Henry College, a master’s degree in Exercise Science and Health Promotion from George Mason University, and an education specialist degree from the University of Virginia in Education Administration and Supervision.

Home Country by Slim Randles

The night the wind stole a tent

Back before the earth cooled completely, I was a reporter for the newspaper in Victorville, California. Victorville is a high desert town between L.A. and Las Vegas and is celebrated in folklore as “where the car broke down as I was trying to get to Barstow.”

And every spring about this time, that ol’ desert country tries to outdo itself in setting new records in how hard the wind blows. It’s not always the same, of course. Sometimes there’s a bunch of sand and dust in the wind, and sometimes it’s clear skies and there’s just a mountain or two in the wind. But it blows.

If there was anything or anyone out in that desert that was unusual or off the beaten path, I covered it. You know, Iron Water Alice who soaked in iron water (of course) to increase her psychic potency, “Guv” Reeve who lived with a harem of well-wishing church ladies and ran for governor every four years. The beat goes on.

Polite people who answered the phone at the paper referred unusual phone calls to “the color story reporter named Slim.” Sounded better than weirdo writer, didn’t it?

And one March, two young boys called in from Apple Valley, about five miles to the east, and reported that someone had stolen their tent. They had set the tent up in the back yard because they wanted to be tough outdoorsmen, of course, and this was a good way to start. The tent had a floor and walls and a roof, of course, was pegged solidly to the desert, but when they went out the next morning, somebody had stolen it!

The sheriff’s office wouldn’t even take a report on it, but the Victor Valley Daily Press would, by golly. So the word went out to every windblown acre of the high desert, and the crime was solved. Yes, it seemed an 80-year-old man who had a little cement-block shack in Lucerne Valley, about 20 miles east of the launch pad back yard, found a full-grown tent in one of his elm trees about 10 feet off the ground.

One little rip, but some tape took care of that. Thank the Lord for freedom of the press. And spring zephyrs that make a reporter’s job fun.

Virginia gas prices decline once again

Average gasoline prices in Virginia fell 3.3 cents per gallon in the last week, averaging $3.21 per gallon on Monday, Feb. 20, according to GasBuddy’s survey of 4,081 stations in Virginia.

Prices in Virginia are 11.2 cents per gallon lower than a month ago and 18.5 cents per gallon lower than a year ago.

The national average price of diesel has fallen 6.9 cents in the last week and stands at $4.45 per gallon.

According to GasBuddy price reports, the cheapest station in Virginia was priced at $2.85 per gallon Monday while the most expensive was $4.05 per gallon, a difference of $1.20/g.

The national average price of gasoline was unchanged in the last week, averaging $3.37 per gallon Monday. The national average is down 2.7 cents per gallon from a month ago and stands 14.5 cents per gallon lower than a year ago, according to GasBuddy data compiled from more than 11 million weekly price reports covering over 150,000 gas stations across the country.

“Motorists across many areas of the country have seen gas prices inching down for another week, while some states have moved higher. We’ve seen some refinery challenges in pockets of the country, while others are starting the transition to summer gasoline, weighing on prices. For diesel, the outlook remains bright with prices continuing to fall,” said Patrick De Haan, head of petroleum analysis at GasBuddy. “Oil prices have softened over the last week, helping to limit any upside at the pump, with strong economic data leading to concern that the Fed will continue to use interest rates to slow the economy. This could weaken demand as we head into the peak summer driving season. For diesel, the great news is that the most common price in the U.S. for diesel is now $3.99 per gallon, with average prices continuing to drop. In the next couple of weeks, diesel will finally flip to deflationary compared to a year ago, which is excellent news for the economy.”

Juno

Juno (black and white fur) and Mercy (brown fur) are a bonded pair of older BFFs (Best Furry Friends) who will need to be adopted together. They love hanging around each other and people of all ages, too. Juno enjoys squeaky toys. Mercy is friendly but may be a little shy at first. They will do best in a home where they are the only pets. Both dogs’ adoptions are sponsored by Montgomery County Friends of Animal Care and Control.

Financial Focus: Take advantage of higher IRA limits

Over the past year, the rising cost of living has certainly been challenging. But for investors, there's at least one silver lining to inflation — a higher IRA contribution limit.

IRAs have been around for nearly half a century, but they've only been pegged to inflation since 2001. Since then, the contribution limit has risen every few years, with the last increase coming in 2019. Now, in 2023, the annual IRA contribution limit has moved to $6,500, up from $6,000 last year. If you're 50 or older, you can put in up to $7,500 a year, up from $6,500 in 2022.

If you've already established an automatic investment plan for your IRA, you could consider bumping up your payments to accommodate the new, higher limits. However, if you can afford it, you may want to fully fund your IRA as soon as possible, so the money can potentially be growing throughout the year. But you can contribute to your 2023 IRA any time from now until April 15, 2024. (And it's also not too late to contribute to your 2022 IRA — you've got until April 18 of this year.)

If you haven't yet opened an IRA, you might want to do so now to take advantage of the higher contribution limits. Depending on your situation, you could contribute either to a Roth or traditional IRA. Here are the basics for each one:

Roth IRA — When you invest in a Roth IRA, your earnings and withdrawals are free from federal taxes, provided you've had your account at least five years and you don't start taking money out until you're 59-and-a-half or older. In 2023, you can contribute the full amount to a Roth IRA if you are single and your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) is less than $138,000; above that amount, your contributions will be reduced until they are phased out completely at $153,000. If you're married and file jointly, this "phase-out range" is $218,000 – $228,000.

Traditional IRA — Generally, you can invest in a traditional IRA regardless of your income level. If you and your spouse don't have a 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan, your contributions are typically tax deductible; if you or your spouse do have such a plan, the tax deductibility will depend on your income level. But regardless of whether your contributions are deductible, your earnings can grow on a tax-deferred basis.

If you have a choice, which IRA should you pick? The decision largely revolves around this question: Would you benefit more from the traditional IRA tax deduction (assuming you qualify for it) or the tax-free withdrawals of a Roth IRA? And the answer mostly depends on whether your tax rate will be higher or lower during your retirement. If you are confident you'll be in a higher tax bracket when you retire, the Roth IRA, with its tax-free withdrawals, might be the better choice. But if you think you'll be in a lower tax bracket, you might benefit by taking the upfront tax breaks of a traditional IRA.

Of course, if you're still many years away from retirement, it can be difficult to estimate your future tax bracket. Your tax advisor may be able to provide some guidance.

An IRA is one of the most popular retirement savings vehicles around — and for good reason. Consider putting one to work for you in 2023.

Christiansburg's Brady Hand wins 120-weight Class 3 state title in Salem

Marty Gordon
NRVsports@ourvalley.org

Christiansburg freshman Brady Hand brought home a state championship from this weekend's Class 3 wrestling tournament in Salem. The 120-pound grappler was the school's only state winner.

Hand finished undefeated this season in Virginia matches and 37-4 overall in cross-state tournaments. His long-term goal is to be a four-time state champion and to wrestle at the Division I level in college.

His father, Matt, is originally from Iowa where he wrestled for the University of Iowa, one of the elite programs in the entire country.

The 3C regional champ, Staunton River, took the Class 3 top honors. New Kent finished second. Christiansburg, as a team, was ninth.

Other Christiansburg wrestlers:

Jake Robie fell 8-5 in his finals match to take the runner-up spot in the Class 3 150-pound weight class.

Evan Mefford got a reversal with 45 seconds left to take third place.

As a team, Radford finished sixth in the Class 2 tournament. Taven Williams was third at 150; Cole Martin fourth at 157, Lance Duncan third at 175, Dawson Martin second at 190, and Charlie Davis was second at 215.

CAC hosts Class 1, 2 state championship meet

Radford's Trent Holloway set a new VHSL Class 2 record in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 58.43 in the finals Saturday evening. Holloway also took wins in the 200-yard Individual Medley and helped the Bobcat 200-yard medley relay and 200-yard freestyle relay teams to state championship wins.

Youngster takes court with Hokies basketball team

Marty Gordon
NRVsports@ourvalley.org

Chase O'Brien is a typical seven-year-old. He loves basketball and is a big fan of the Virginia Tech Hokies. He is also a pediatric cancer patient.

Saturday night at Virginia Tech's basketball game he was introduced during pregame warmups as an honorary starter for Mike Young's Hokies. He was given a jersey signed by the team and met his favorite player, Justin Mutts.

The Virginia Tech basketball program has teamed up with Carilion Children's Hospital to fight pediatric cancer. Players and coaches from the men's and women's teams are partnering with Carilion Pediatric Hematology-Oncology patients, getting creative to raise pediatric cancer awareness.

More than 25 participating children and teens had the chance to paint custom shoes for the coaches and basketball staff to wear later this season. Players and coaches from both Virginia Tech men's and women's basketball joined the kids and their families on-site at the Carilion Children's Tanglewood Center in December.

The specially-designed sneakers were worn by the women's basketball coaches and staff at the January 12 game against Louisville, and the men's basketball coaches and staff wore the special shoes on Jan. 28 when the team hosted Syracuse. O'Brien was undergoing chemo treatment at the Roanoke hospital and was unable to attend.

Tech basketball coach Mike Young invited the O'Brien family to be at this weekend's game against Pitt. "Toughest guy in the building, man," said Young. "Toughest guy in the building. [Seven] years old and dealing with that. And his mom, Jessica, and his dad, Eric, to have them here and to be able to recognize him and bring him into the locker room after a big win and present him the game ball, call his number and his name to the starting lineups: pretty awesome day."

This event was part of an ongoing NCAA initiative called "Coaches vs. Cancer," in which collegiate basketball coaches and staff nationwide wear sneakers at designated games to raise awareness for the cause.

O'Brien's appearance was one step in his ongoing battle against the cancer that is disrupting his childhood. His mother, Jessica, met with the media shortly before this weekend's game. She said that unfortunately, his tumor started to grow back in May after his first surgery, so he has been going through chemotherapy treatments ever since.

He was first diagnosed with juvenile pilocytic astrocytoma, a rare childhood brain tumor, when he was five.

In most cases, the tumor is benign, grows slowly, and does not spread to surrounding brain tissue. Symptoms of JPA will vary depending upon the size and location of the tumor. Doctors typically treat the cancer by surgery followed by chemo.

Saturday, O'Brien got to be a little boy with no worries as he watched the Hokies defeat the Pitt Panthers from his sideline seat. He cheered and watched his favorite player, Justin Mutts, dunk one for him during the contest.

The rest of the sneakers colored during the program raised $13,780 to benefit Carilion Children's Hematology and Oncology through the Shoes 4 Hope auctions.

The 49-year-old coached the Jamaican women's national basketball team to the 2014 Caribbean Women's basketball championship title.

She was hired as an assistant coach at Radford University in 2007 and also served as an assistant at George Mason University from 2008 to 2011.

The Virginia Department of Wildlife Resources (DWR) is again offering a chance to hunt bull elk in the Elk Management Zone of Virginia for the upcoming hunting season. The application period is open until March 30, 2023.

The hunt for the 2023-2024 season will be held Saturday, October 14, 2023, through Friday, October 20, 2023. Five antlered elk licenses are available for this year's hunt via lottery.

Applications for a special elk hunting license can be obtained online, under elk hunting, or by calling the Department of Wildlife Resources Customer Service for assistance in applying via phone.

Applications require a non-refundable fee of $15 for Virginia residents and $20 for out-of-state residents. Winners of the elk hunting lottery will then need to purchase a special elk hunting license for $40 for in-state residents and $400 for out-of-state residents.

All elk hunt lottery applicants are assigned a random number between 1 and the total number of applicants using a random number generator.

Opportunities to purchase a special elk hunting license will be offered to the applicant randomly assigned number 1 and will proceed sequentially until all slots have been filled in accordance with the following requirements:

The 1 license must go to someone who lives within the elk management zone.

No more than one license can be purchased by an out-of-state hunter.

If the winner who resides in the elk management zone cannot purchase the license, the next consecutive resident elk management zone applicant will be offered the opportunity.

If any of the other four winners are unable to purchase the special elk license within 30 days, the opportunity to purchase a license will be offered to the next consecutive applicant meeting residency requirements.

The night started with a Senior Night ceremony honoring seniors Mekhi

Lewis, Hunter Bolen, Collin Gerardi, Jordan Florence, Brandon Wittenberg, and Drew Nicholson and athletic training students Caroline Johnson and Ella Anderson. The group was honored for their time, their accomplishments, and their embodiment of the Hokie spirit during their time in Blacksburg. Among the group, Lewis has a year of eligibility remaining.

Two assistant strength, conditioning coaches join VT football staff

Virginia Tech football head coach Brent Pry announced Thursday two new hires to the football strength and conditioning team with Brandon Dillard and Ryan Hardie joining the program as assistant strength and conditioning coaches under Senior Director of Strength and Conditioning Dwight Galt.

From Martinsville, Va., and Bassett High School, Dillard is no stranger to Blacksburg. A former student-athlete, he was a member of the Hokies' football team (2005-10), earning his bachelor's degree in residential property management in 2009. He played in 13 games in 2007 as a wide receiver and kick returner. He was a member of two ACC Championship teams (2007, 2008) and two Orange Bowl teams (2007, 2008) under Head Coach Frank Beamer.

Dillard began his career as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant at Tech in 2011 before being named the Associate Director of Strength and Conditioning for men's and women's basketball in 2012, a role he held until 2016. For the last seven years, he has served as the Associate Director of Strength and Conditioning for Olympic sports at Tech, designing strength and conditioning programs for track and field, men's and women's soccer, men's tennis, and women's golf.

Over these years, the Hokies were a fixture in the postseason. The teams earned a total of 17 NCAA Tournament berths and nine ACC championships.

Dillard is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

From Canton, Ohio, and GlenOak High School, Hardie comes to Blacksburg following four years as the Assistant Director of Sports Performance at Old Dominion. In that role, Hardie designed and executed strength and conditioning programs for the football, women's basketball, and women's rowing teams.

Hardie's résumé includes stops at his alma mater, Walsh University (2013-15), and Malone University (2016-19), where he served as the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach at both schools. Hardie also served separate internships in strength and conditioning at Ohio State University (2015-16) and the University of Georgia (2019).

He is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association, and holds a RSCC ranking through the NSCA. Hardie is also a certified Sports Performance Coach through USA-Weightlifting (USAW).

Hardie earned his bachelor's degree in multi-age physical education, along with a masters of business administration from Walsh University, where he played college football.

Dillard and Hardie join Tech football letterwinners Jarrett Ferguson and Greg Allen as football strength and conditioning assistants.

Radford University alumna announces campaign for Montgomery Clerk of Court

Tiffany Couch, the Master Deputy Clerk Supervisor for Montgomery County, has announced her campaign for Montgomery County Clerk of Court.

Joined by Montgomery County Clerk of Court Erica Conner and former Montgomery County sheriff Tommy Whitt, Couch announced her campaign Friday in front of the Montgomery County Courthouse.

With the slogan, "Experience that Matters," Couch recounted her qualifications and her commitment to making Montgomery County a better place in which to live.

"I am a native of Christiansburg, and I graduated from Christiansburg High School," Couch said. "I received my bachelors of science degree in criminal justice from Radford University. Four years ago when I learned that there was an opening at the Circuit Court Clerk's office, I immediately applied for the position. Erica W. Conner, Clerk of Circuit Court, took a chance on me and hired me to work in an entry-level position at the front counter and in the records room. I eventually became the supervisor and earned my Master Deputy Clerk title through good old-fashioned hard work and dedication.

"I am so grateful she saw the potential I had and took the time to train me," Couch said. "Erica saw that I care what happens in my hometown and in Montgomery County. I live here with my husband John Couch, who is a retired United States Marine. Growing up, my parents, Judy and Stephen Todd, taught me that public service is important and necessary to be a productive citizen and part of our community."

"I have spent most of my life in public service, and most of my family have, too, in some form or another, whether it be in the military, public schools, being in local service organizations or being a constitutional officer," Couch said.

"The clerk's job is very important to me," Couch said in announcing her candidacy. "We are in charge of more than 800 statutory responsibilities. At some point in your life you will probably need the services of the clerk's office, and I will be there to serve you. Imagine that your father, mother, or even your child passes away and you are the executor of their estate. You come into our office during the most difficult time in your life, but you know that you will have me and my very knowledgeable staff there to guide you through this difficult process.

"I have great ideas to continue to improve the clerk's office and I need your vote on November 7, 2023, to make them become a reality," Couch said. "During my eight-year term I will provide online renewals for concealed handgun permits and quicker, more efficient jury service payments. I will also start making appointments in the clerk's office and local retirement homes to answer any questions a citizen may have about how to make the probate process easier on their loved ones."

Couch went on to say, "In addition, I will provide a service where citizens may fill out their probate paperwork online before their appointment. I will also prioritize accountability to ensure best value on spending of your tax dollars. To date, I have assisted in saving our citizens $107,590.00 in preservation grants."

"Our county deserves a Clerk who is experienced, competent, and dedicated to helping every citizen. I am humbly asking that you promote me to Clerk of Court at the next general election this November."

Luther Memorial Lutheran Church to host Mr. Jefferson's Bones trombone quintet

BLACKSBURG -- On March 12, 2023 at 4 p.m., Luther Memorial Lutheran Church will host a concert by Mr. Jefferson's Bones, a professional trombone quintet. The New River Valley community is invited to attend.

For the second time, Mr. Jefferson's Bones quintet is traveling to Puerto Rico to share their music, with a class for university students planned, and a free public concert on March 20. The quintet first visited Puerto Rico in 2018 as a Hurricane Maria relief effort: eight trombonists from the United States spent a week performing a number of free concerts for the public; they also offered music classes to students, distributed free music books and Bone instruments, and spent money with local businesses to help them recover and know they had not been forgotten by American citizens.

"Luther Memorial Lutheran Church is delighted to host this 'practice' concert; this event is made possible by an endowment from the Marilyn Norstedt Memorial Music Fund at Luther Memorial Lutheran Church," said church pastor the Rev. Monica Weber. A free-will offering will be taken at the Blacksburg concert for anyone wishing to help defray the artists' lodging and transportation costs.

"We invite everyone in the New River Valley to come enjoy a wonderful free brass concert on March 12 at 4 p.m. and thank this gifted group of musicians for offering their time and talent to help young music students," said Pastor Weber.

Robert Mott, a member of the quintet, says, "We made some great friends and contacts with music teachers and professors on our 2018 trip and as a result, we have been invited to perform this year for the Puertorrican Brass Fest held annually in Mayaguez on Tuesday, March 21. Trumpet, trombone, horn, and tuba students of all ages from across the island will gather for one day of classes and performances and we will be the closing concert for that one-day festival."

As they did in 2018, Mr. Jefferson's Bones is performing in Puerto Rico free of charge and is covering its own travel and lodging expenses for the trip. The group will also purchase musical instruments (e.g., pBones, pTrumpets, etc.) and music method books to donate to the music students of Puerto Rico, and is working with teachers in Puerto Rico to make sure that they are providing the most helpful resources.

"We have made a $1,000 contribution to the quintet to help purchase valuable resources for Puerto Rican students," said the Rev. Weber.
