If you're seeking historic elegance look no further. As you cross the bridge named for A. E. Huddleston over Howards Creek, you see atop the hill directly behind it sits home of the prominent business man and the first mayor of White Sulphur Springs. The home formerly known as "Hillcrest" is the vantage point of striking views throughout the city in all directions. This stately 10 room home was built in 1905 per records. The home is adorned with ornate wood work, particularly the stairway and doors. Also revealing some stained glass windows. The home has 2 living floors with 6 bedrooms and 2 baths, along with many other details making it one of a kind! COLDWELL BANKER - (304) 645-1242

ANOTHER HAPPY CLIENT!

Our family went to Alisha at the beginning of the year feeling exhausted. We had been searching for years for our forever home and were coming up empty-handed. Alisha and her team worked around the clock searching for homes that would suit our needs. They never gave up! Alisha and Summer served us the same 6 months as they did on day one! In due time we were taken to Mountain Sanctuary. We knew this was it. Alisha was quick on her end and sealed the deal!
