Lewisburg's new Public Works facility: bigger, better, and under budget

The Weekend Newspaper for the Greenbrier Valley - Lewisburg, West Virginia

With the relocation of the Public Works Department, a dog park is planned to open at Dorie Miller Park early next year as part of Phase III renovation.

By Sarah Richardson

After over a year of construction, the City of Lewisburg's new Public Works building is approaching completion. On the agenda at next Tuesday's Lewisburg City Council meeting is Resolution 571, the final Public Works Building construction pay request. To celebrate this momentous event, Mayor Beverly White, City Manager Misty Hill, and Public Works Director Tony Legg gathered at the new facility for an informational tour with the Mountain Messenger and to discuss why this building is so much more for the city than it appears.

The new Public Works facility is nestled behind the municipal water plant located on Stone House Road, which is a bit outside of town compared to the currently-crowded location at Dorie Miller Park on Feamster Road. Presently, the Public Works office is located across the street from the park, while garages and storage sheds for large equipment are housed on park lands themselves, beside the ballfields. This arrangement was always intended to be temporary, however, as the years passed by it was unclear of when this move off of parks land could be a reality.

"As we continue to make this move, we can then give the land back to Dorie Miller Park and continue to develop Phase III,

The Greenbrier County Board of Education officially cut the ribbon on the "new" Alderson Elementary School Wednesday morning.

"I still remember us standing at the old Alderson Elementary," Superintendent Jeff Bryant remembers. "We knew we needed a new school and wondered what we were going to do."

"We looked up on the hill," toward the former Alderson High School, which had been closed for years as a school and was instead used as a community center. "We said, 'That's it."

Bryant and the elected members of the Greenbrier County Board of Education worked with the West Virginia School Building Association (WVSBA), DC Shires, and Thrasher Engineering to develop a plan to refurbish the former high school into a new elementary school.

"I heard a lot of naysayers say it couldn't happen," commented Board President Jeanie Wyatt. "But there was so much history here and so much love for this facility. Ev-

Alumni of the high school, town officials, and neighbors came out for the ribbon-cutting on Wednesday morning alongside the students and staff of Alderson Elementary School.

Greenbrier Valley Community Foundation: Third Quarter Philanthropy

It is with joy to report a 16.28 percent gain for the first nine months of 2024, bringing the Community Foundation to $21.9 million in total invested funds with GVCF. What a fantastic way to kick-off our 25th Anniversary celebrations!

In the third quarter, we focused on community engagement, scholarship management, and welcomed the Roy Dean Patterson Memorial Scholarship Fund. This scholarship will be awarded to assist high school seniors graduating from Greenbrier County who are continuing their education at a college or accredited vocational school. Like Roy Patterson, these students must exhibit integrity, patience, a strong work ethic, and love of family.

In 2024 to date, over $200,000 in scholarships funds were distributed from the application system we administer in partnership with our regional high schools. Of that amount, nearly $125,000 were funded by scholarships managed by GVCF. As always, it was a joy to attend our area high schools to present certificates to these hardworking students. So far this year, two new scholarship funds have been started with GVCF. Scholarships are a wonderful way to remember loved ones into perpetuity and we welcome the opportunity to discuss starting scholarship funds with individuals or organizations.

In July and August, we awarded $8,500 to following organizations in grants from the GVCF Community Fund and the Mary B. Nickell Fund for Arts Education:

- Greenbrier County 4-H Clubs
- · God's Way Home
- · Lindside United Methodist Food Pantry
- Greenbrier West High School
- Pocahontas County High School
- Frankford Elementary School

In August, in an effort to support several of our partner organizations, we continued our annual tradition and purchased two hogs from the Greenbrier Monroe Youth Livestock Association Auction at the State Fair of West Virginia, which we had locally processed and then donated to the Monroe County Coalition. Michelle and her wonderful team then distribute sausage to food banks serving residents throughout Monroe County. For questions, visit gvfoundation.org, or call or email Anne at 304-645-5620 or info@gvfoundation.org.

Correction

The Election Results included in the Nov. 9, 2024 Mountain Messenger inadvertently excluded the results from the Greenbrier County Commissioner race, which saw Richie Holliday (R) earn 9,546 votes against Brad Tuckwiller's (D) 4,864 votes. We apologize for any confusion this may have caused. Holliday will join sitting Commissioners Tammy Shifflett-Tincher, who ran unopposed to keep her seat, and Lowell Rose.

WVSOM will host reception for Tibetan Oracle

The West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine (WVSOM) is hosting The Nechung Oracle, Kuten-la, the official State Oracle of Tibet and spiritual advisor to the Dalai Lama, at a public reception from 5 to 7 p.m., Nov. 19.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime event. We hope everyone can join us," said Dawn Roberts, Ed.D., WSOM's associate dean of Multicultural and Student Affairs.

The school's Office of Multicultural and Student Affairs will host the reception in the Conference Center of the WVSOM's Student Center. The reception is open to the public in addition to WVSOM students, staff and faculty. Refreshments will be provided.

The current Nechung Oracle is the Venerable Thupten Ngodup, who has been in the role since 1988. The Nechung Kuten-la will be accompanied by Lama Tenzin Choegyal and three monks from the Nechung Monastery.

Kuten-la is on a tour of the U.S. His stop in Lewisburg is the result of a visit earlier this year to India by Katherine Calloway, D.O., regional assistant dean for the South Central region of WVSOM's Statewide Campus. Dr. Calloway is working with Dr. Roberts in coordinating the reception.

In April, Calloway and four others - Megan Kelley and Sarah McQueen, WVSOM Class of 2025 medical students, Caroline LaFleur, M.D., of Medical Diplomats International; and Calloway's 15-year-old daughter, Grace - visited Dehradun, Uttarakhand and Dharamshala, India, and met with the Dalai Lama.

During the trip to India, Calloway also spoke with Deputy Speaker of Tibetan Parliament Dolma Tsering, Kashag History Documentation Secretary Ngawang Namgyal and Tibetan Department of Health Secretary Jampa Phuntsok.

Calloway said the group also visited a hospital, a center for education, a women's center and the location of the Tibetan government in exile, including the Dalai Lama's residence and Tibetan Parliament.

which has plans for a short pump track and community center in the future," explained City Manager

In 2017, Phase I of the Dorie Miller Park renovation was executed, shelters installed. Phase II included an additional restroom facility, upgraded parking lots, and new playground equipment.

In May of 2021, the City purchased a large plot of land located just adjacent to the current water plant for several reasons, one being so the water plant could be extensively upgraded and have the room required for those improvements, but to also gain the space to move the Public Works headquarters and shop to a new location. With architectural and engineering services provided by the Chapman Technical Group, the financing for the $5 million dollar project was organized in early 2022, and has come in under budget.

It's anticipated that the Public Works employees will officially begin utilizing the building shortly, as the final details continue to come together.

Currently, the Public Works department is spaced out between two locations on Feamster Road and the water treatment plant. With the new facility, it will have the space for both the water department crews and the parks department crews to gather and be organized out of the same building.

"I'm just so excited that we can finally bring all of our departments together under one roof," said an emotional Mayor White. "I'm excited for the space here, so our employees can really perform their jobs in the best way possible. I am overwhelmed by the magnitude of this project and how it's all come together, and I'm thankful for everyone who made it happen. I'm so excited that our employees will get to utilize this new space. I'm just very thankful that we've been able to do this, not just for the employees, but for the city."

The massive building boasts a seven-bay garage with two vehicle lifts inside, one of which is big enough for a dump truck or fire truck, as well as a welding station, washer and dryer for uniforms, and an equally-expansive lean-to on the back side of the building for storing water pipes to prevent sun damage. Garages for salt and cinders are already stocked and ready for the winter season. A large parking lot will provide adequate parking space for employee's personal vehicles, and a new break room and conference room inside will be where everyone can gather for morning meetings before the start of each work day. New restroom facilities for employees includes a shower, which is a much-needed feature for crewmembers who are called out at all times of the day or night to dig out and replace busted water lines in all seasons of weather, a muddy and wet job.

"After nineteen and a half years with the City, I'm very excited to finally house all the crews under one building and come together as a family," said Director Legg.

New offices for the Public Works Director, Water Distribution Foreman, GIS Technician, and mechanic will be located at the new facility. While the garages and storage currently situated at Dorie Miller will be removed, the public will still be able to visit the Public Works office located across the street from the park at 531 Feamster Road. This site will also continue to house the street sweeper, mowers, and other parks maintenance equipment. "I'd like to thank City Council for being forward-thinking about what we need to do as a city. This project really shows the city's progress," said Mayor White.

A ribbon cutting ceremony is planned for the spring, and details will be announced at a later date.

This Week in WV History

The following events happened on these dates in West Virginia history. To read more, go to e-WV: The West Virginia Encyclopedia at www.wvencyclopedia.org.

Nov. 17, 1927: Composer and performer Robert Drasnin was born in Charleston. He performed with classic combos and big bands such as Tommy Dorsey and Les Brown, and scored music for movies and television.

Nov. 18, 2007: Country singer Chickie Williams died. As wife of musician Doc Williams, she performed with his Border Riders band and appeared on the Wheeling Jamboree radio show.

Nov. 19, 1854: Poet Danske Dandridge was born in Copenhagen. The daughter of an American ambassador, she lived in Shepherdstown from age 19, where her work was published in Harper's and The Century. Both of her homes, The Bower and Rosebrake, are Jefferson County landmarks.

Nov. 19, 1899: Sculptor Gladys Tuke was born in Linwood, Pocahontas County. Tuke was a member of the original artist colony at The Greenbrier; during World War II, she taught at Ashford General Hospital, and later established a pottery and sculpture studio in White Sulphur Springs.

Nov. 19, 1900: William Page Pitt was born in New York City. In 1926, Pitt joined the faculty of what was then Marshall College. In his 45-year career at Marshall, he built its journalism program into one with dozens of classes and hundreds of students. Marshall University's W. Nov. 19, 1921: The USS West Virginia was christened. It was one of six battleships at Pearl Harbor on the morning of December 7, 1941, that suffered massive damage from torpedoes and bombs in the surprise attack. It was rebuilt and joined the Seventh Fleet for the invasion of the Philippines.

Nov. 20, 1894: Eight men were killed in a coal mine disaster near Colliers, Brooke County. They were using a dangerous method called "shooting from the solid," meaning that they blasted the coal loose without first undercutting it.

Leila Yvonne Camp Piercy

Our beloved Leila "Lee" "Sis" Yvonne Camp Piercy was a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend. She suddenly passed away on Friday, Nov. 8, 2024, at the age of 94, in her home

The Williamsburg CEOS Club restores and renews

Restore and renew what? Well that is what hostess Blanche Knicely shared with the members of the Williamsburg Community Educational Outreach Club (CEOS) at their November meeting with the WVU Extension Service lesson, "Restoring and Refinishing Furniture."

Members explored a few different levels of ease in restoring furniture. From a quick clean up to make it usable, but "antique;" to chalk paint; to full on restoration. Blanche had many pieces of furniture restored by her husband Casey and items that many had never heard of before like "a pie safe!" All were inspired to find ways to keep furniture rather than throwing them away.

Those participating include Cassandria Perkins,

Loretta Shirley, Lyne Jones, Linda Spencer and LauraAnn Tiller. The club

is also excited and proud to acknowledge members

Linda Spencer (left), Blanche Knicely, Lyne Jones, Cassandria Perkins, and Loretta Shirley with items collected for the Greenbrier Valley Children's Home. For more information about the CEOS and a review of the CEOS lessons please check the WVU Extension Family and Community Development website or call the WVU Greenbrier County Extension Office at 304-647-7408.

The club will meet at the Dutch Haus on Dec. 10 for Linda Spencer as the 2025 Greenbrier County CEOS their next meeting. Christmas gifts for the Greenbrier President and LauraAnn Tiller as the County CEOS Valley Children's Home will be collected.

The $11 million project was funded with $3 million in county school dol-

Dear Recycle Lady,

Why must recyclables such as plastic bottles, steel cans, aluminum cans, and cardboard be clean and dry when they are recycled? Isn't there equipment that cleans everything before baling?

> To Wash or Not To Wash

Dear To Wash or Not To Wash.

There is one BIG reason for putting only clean and dry items in the recycling bins: contamination. It only takes one dirty item to contaminate an entire load of acceptable recyclables. The Recycling Center does not have the equipment to clean recyclables, so they must depend on the recyclers to bring items clean and dry. Companies that use recyclables to make new products have been known to toss an entire load of recycling into the trash when finding a single contaminated piece. A second type of contamination, called recycling contamination, occurs when a recyclable is tossed into the wrong bin. For example, a plastic bottle (even though clean and dry) thrown in with paper could contaminate the entire load of paper. In 2018, 800,000 tons of recyclables were rejected by the largest user of recyclables because they were contaminated. They all ended up in a landfill and were of no value to

When scientists with the U.S. Geological Society conducted a study of more than 130 U.S. waterways, prescription drugs such as antibiotics, pain killers, tranquilizers, cancer drugs, and birth control pills were found in 80 percent of the water. Drugs thrown in trash headed for a landfill can also find their way into the environment through the landfill liquid that is sent to a wastewater treatment plant. Dear Recycler, many new products now being made from recycled metal are household items, such as lamps, tables and sinks. Both bike and car parts have recycled metal in them. If possible, store your remaining trash cans in a dry secure area. Unsecured trash cans can become trash themselves. Had Monroe County spy Andrew Summers Rowan been born in the 20th century he may have been a character in a John Lecarre novel. From Gap Mills and the son of John M. Rowan and Virginia Summers, Andrew Rowan graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1881. While serving in the U.S. Army he developed an interest in topography and meteorology. In 1891-1892 he participated in a survey of the Inter-Continental Railway in Guatemala where he learned to speak Spanish fluently. By 1895, he was working in the Bureau of Military Intelligence of the War Department.

In 1898, a revolution was underway in Cuba as Cubans sought to free themselves from Spanish rule. In an effort to evaluate the prospects of invading Cuba to assist the rebel insurgents, Lt. Rowan was selected by the U. S. Army to make contact with rebel leader, General Calixto Garcia. Rowan was described as having "all the coolness and courage necessary, is familiar with the Spanish character, full of resources and capable of meeting any emergency."

In April 1898, Rowan took a civilian ship to Jamaica where he found Cuban exiles who took him through the jungles to the northern coast. There he boarded an open fishing boat and sailed to Cuba, landing near Guantanamo. Disguised as a Cuban or Spaniard, Rowan made his way across Cuba to General Garcia's camp in the mountains.

In addition to giving Garcia a message from the U. S. Government, Rowan was tasked with determining the strength of the insurgent armies and seeking their cooperation should there be an invasion by the United States.

Having accomplished his mission, Rowan made his way back to the Cuban coast, sailed to Nassau and then to Key West. On his return to Washington, D.C., Rowan briefed the

Carnegie Hall to host annual 'Joy to Lewisburg' concert with Bob Thompson and special guests

"Joy To Lewisburg with Bob Thompson and Friends" returns to the Greenbrier Valley on Saturday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m. at Carnegie Hall. The annual concert will feature Christmas classics and holiday favorites performed by West Virginia Music Hall of Fame member Thompson and his band, the Bob Thompson Unit, with special guests Zara Bode.

Guests are invited to come early to Club Carnegie from 6 to 6:45 p.m. in the Board Room located adjacent to the Hamilton Auditorium. A cash bar and snacks are available.

West Virginia music hall of fame pianist Bob Thompson is perhaps the state's best-loved musician and ambassador of jazz. He has touched many people's lives both as an entertainer and a teacher.

Born in New York in 1942, he moved to West Virginia in the mid-'60s to attend West Virginia State College. Growing up in NY, he sang in street corner doo-wop bands and originally attended WVSC on a scholarship to study trumpet and music education. After switching to piano, he quickly became a staple on the local scene with bands like the Modern Jazz Interpreters and Joi.

After some independent releases, he signed to Capitol Records subsidiary Intima and later to the Ichiban label. Two of his albums climbed into the Top 25 in Billboard's contemporary jazz chart while four of his releases made their way into the Top 10 on the Radio and Records jazz chart. Those nationally released works furthered his reputation signifi-

In the meantime, he performed in Brazil, South Africa, and Scandinavia. Appearances on BET, as the house pianist on the NPR show Mountain Stage, and several tours abroad have made Thompson a visible presence in the jazz world for more than 40 years. In addition, for the past decade Thompson's annual holiday jazz show Joy to the World has become a regular feature of Public Radio International's holiday programming.

Thompson will be joined on the Hamilton Auditorium Stage by Zara Bode, a seasoned starlet whose work with the Sweetback Sisters has given her a knack for whipping up holiday magic. Renowned for her enchanting voice and influenced by the great crooners of the 20th Century, Zara takes her exceptional rhythm, tone, and vivacious delivery to set her apart from the rest. A brilliant musician, and undeniable talent, to see her perform is a rare treat, not to be missed.

Tickets for the performance are $25. Thanks to the Carnegie Cardinal Fund, Greenbrier County Students attend for free, but still must reserve a seat.

To purchase tickets, call Carnegie Hall Box Office at 304-645-7917, visit www. carnegiehallwv.org, or stop by at 611 Church Street, Lewisburg. Carnegie Hall Box Office is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Joy To Lewisburg with Bob Thompson and Friends is made possible with support from the Casasanta Foundation.

Christmas Tea at new location

Some goodies from a previous Christmas Tea.

For about ten years, it has become part of the holiday tradition for many to enjoy afternoon tea in Alderson. In recent years, the tea has been held at the Old Victorian Inn where host Doris Kasley and volunteer helpers from Alderson Main Street have made everyone feel so welcome. This year the tea will be held at the home of Sue Grizzard on Sunday, Dec. 8 with seatings at 1 and 3 p.m.

Sue is excited to welcome everyone into her newly renovated home at 1659 Riverview Avenue East. Beautifully decorated for the Christmas Season, the turreted Victorian home exudes charm and graciousness. Guests will be seated at tables throughout the house and Leah and Roger Trent will add their beautiful seasonal music to the occasion.

There are two seatings at 1 and 3 p.m., and tickets are limited. Guests must purchase tickets in advance for $25 each at the Alderson Artisan's Gallery (304-445-7952) by cash, check, or credit card. Proceeds support Alderson Main Street projects, particularly the "Gem of the Hills" Holiday celebration.

Alderson Main Street Treasurer Margaret Hambrick said, "This is a very special tradition in Alderson. Groups of friends plan on attending each year and generations of women and girls feel very special in their Sunday best as they sip their tea and eat the tiny sandwiches, scones, and sweets."

This is a private home, and it is not handicapped accessible.
