Greenbrier Valley Shriners Annual Street Day in Lewisburg

By Debra Smith
The Greenbrier Valley Shriner's Street Day in Lewisburg gives local residents an opportunity to support children and families receiving specialized care through the Shriners Children's Hospital.
On Saturday, Sept. 26, Shriners, along with student volunteers from the West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine will be accepting donations at the major intersections of Lewisburg. Funds raised help support the Shriners' ongoing mission of providing hope and healing to children in need.
The Shriners Children's Hospital is a nonprofit pediatric healthcare system that provides specialized care for children with conditions including orthopedic problems, burns, craniofacial conditions and spinal cord injuries. The organization provides care regardless of a families ability to pay or insurance status, while also offering family-centered support and resources.
The Greenbrier Valley Shriners thank the Lewisburg community for its generosity and continued support of their efforts to help children and families.

Mullican Hardwood Flooring Plant in Ronceverte scheduled to close November 2026

By Debra Smith
The Mountain Messenger has obtained the official statement of closure of the Mullican Hardwood Flooring Plant in Ronceverte, from the office of Pat Oakley, President of the Mullican Hardwood Flooring Plant's corporate office in Johnson City, TN, which reads as follows:
"Mullican Flooring has announced to our Ronceverte, West Virginia, plant employees that we will cease operations there, effective November 20, 2026.
We recognize the significant impact this announcement will have on our employees, their families and the broader community. The dedication, hard work and commitment demonstrated by the employees at this facility over the years have been instrumental to our success, and we are deeply grateful for their contributions.

The decision to close the Ronceverte plant follows a series of significant capital investments in technology and automation at our Norton, Virginia, plant to increase production and improve productivity.
We remain focused on serving our customers, supporting our employees, and maintaining the highest standards of safety and operational excellence across our facilities in Johnson City, Tennessee; Norton, Virginia; and Holland, New York."
Per employee statement, on Monday, Sept. 21, 2026 employees of the Mullican Hardwood Flooring plant in Ronceverte, were given notice that the plant is scheduled to close November 20, 2026, just days prior to the Thanksgiving holiday. This closure marks a significant change for employees, their families and the local community.

West Virginia hospitals deliver more than $1B in community benefits, generate $19.1B in economic impact

West Virginia hospitals provided more than $1 billion in community benefits while generating $19.1 billion in economic activity statewide, according to a newly released report from the West Virginia Hospital Association (WVHA).
Community benefits are health-focused programs, services and investments that address local needs, expand access to care, promote wellness, and improve the overall health of communities.
"The blue hospital signs we see throughout West Virginia represent much more than a place to receive medical care," said WVHA Interim President and CEO Tony Gregory. "Our hospitals are deeply connected to the communities they serve. They provide care, expand access to services, support families, educate future healthcare professionals and address challenges that affect people's health and quality of life. This report gives us an opportunity to highlight the tremendous commitment our hospitals make every day to the health and well-being of West Virginians."

The report demonstrates how West Virginia hospitals serve as community health leaders, extending essential services into neighborhoods and communities while also serving as major employers and economic drivers across the state.
Among the report's key findings:
• $113 million in community programs and education - investments in community health initiatives such as diabetes education and health fairs, as well as health professions education, training, and certification programs;
• $182 million in uncompensated care - services provided to patients for which hospitals receive no payment;
• $79 million in charity care - Care for which a hospital does not expect payment because the patient meets the hospital's financial assistance criteria.

Ronceverte Council approves urban archery hunting season

By D.L. Bowles
At their regular meeting on Monday, Sept. 14, the Ronceverte City Council approved a measure to allow an Urban Archery Hunting Season. The dates for the season will be from October 1st thru December 31st, 2026.
To participate, hunters must obtain a permit from the city. To be eligible, a hunter must have their WVDNR hunting license, present a property tax ticket to prove ownership of the property to be hunted and/or a signed permission document from the property owner and pay a permit fee of $50. With the safety of residents being paramount, the city must review the hunting location prior to approval of a permit.
The WVDNR legalized urban archery hunts in 1996. According to wvdnr.gov, urban deer archery hunts provide additional hunting opportunities and help control deer populations.
In a WVDNR press release from 2020 a WVDNR wildlife biologist said "As deer populations grew, we saw an increase in vehicle collisions and got complaints from homeowners. By allowing hunters to come in and harvest deer in these areas, they can help alleviate the problem in their community."

The council discussed the possibility of selling the former True Value Hardware property. While indicating there has been some interest in purchasing the property, the council agreed the stated purpose of use for the property would have to be considered by the council before proceeding with a sale.
In the business of water projects, the stormwater project is continuing to progress, but the water and sewer projects are on hold at the moment pending a potential deal with West Virginia American Water.
In other business, the city's pickleball court is essentially complete and should be open in the coming weeks.
The next Ronceverte City Council meeting is scheduled for Oct. 5 at 7 p.m.

Burning Season Guidelines

The 2026 fall burning season runs from October 1 through December 31, with outdoor burning strictly restricted to the hours between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. Any fire started after 5 p.m. must be completely put out by 7 a.m.
Only vegetative materials such as leaves, brush, and yard clippings may be burned. Fires must be watched by an adult at all times until completely extinguished. Clear at least a 10-foot area of all burnable material around the fire.
Small campfires or fires used strictly for food preparation, light or warmth are exempt from the 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. time rule (though general safety precautions still apply).
Commercial burning during restricted hours requires a specialized permit issued by the West Virginia Division of Forestry. Violating state burning laws is punishable by fines up to $1,000. If an escaped fire causes a wildfire due to negligence, you can be held legally and financially liable for the total cost of fire suppression and property damage.
For burning questions, local permits and fire control inquiries for Greenbrier, Fayette, and surrounding counties, you can reach the West Virginia Division of Forestry through the Beckley Office, Region 4 Headquarters, 330 Harper Park Drive, Suite J., Beckley, WV 25801. Or by calling 304-256-6775.

Red Cross Blood Drive at WSS Library

The White Sulphur Springs Public Library will be holding a blood drive on Wednesday, October, 7 from 1 pm to 6 pm. You can make an appointment to give the gift of life by visiting RedCrossBlood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) to schedule your blood or platelet donation appointment. You can also call the library at 304-536-1171 on weekdays between 10 and 6 to make an appointment. The library is located at 344 Main St W in White Sulphur Springs. This drive is made possible in part through the support of the White Sulphur Springs Lions Club.

Treasurer Pack announces nearly $2.5M in ‘West Virginia Cash Now’ checks mailed to recipients

State Treasurer Larry Pack today announced checks totaling nearly $2.5 million have been sent to more than 2,000 recipients as part of the fifth year of the “West Virginia Cash Now” unclaimed property program, which automatically reunites certain individuals with their lost or unclaimed funds. “Unclaimed property belongs back in the hands of West Virginians, and our Cash Now program allows us to return that money quickly and efficiently,” Treasurer Pack said. “This year alone, more than 2,000 people will receive nearly $2.5 million without having to go through the traditional claims process. That’s money going directly back to families, individuals, and businesses across our state. We’re proud to make the process as simple as possible.” A total of 2,081 individuals will receive checks as part of this year’s distribution, representing a total of $2,448,080.27 returned to rightful owners. West Virginia Cash Now launched in 2022 as a new, automated system for sending unclaimed property to its rightful owners - without the need for those individuals to file paperwork with the State Treasurer’s Office. The program allows the Unclaimed Property Division to quickly issue checks to residents who have addresses and contact information that are readily verifiable in legal databases. Since the program began, there have been 18,264 checks issued for $16,253,752.80. The State Treasurer’s Office currently has about $527 million worth of listings in its database. The West Virginia Cash Now program applies to one of the most common types of claims: Individual property owners with claim amounts ranging from $500 to less than $5,000 will be receiving checks this year through the program. Businesses, government entities, estate claims and securities are not covered by the program because additional documentation is required to verify the owner. Individuals with claims of $5,000 or more will also still have to file paperwork with the Office to receive their claim. To learn more about the unclaimed property program and to search its database, visit www.WVUnclaimedProperty.gov.

anytime they need assistance or when they have concerns or information they believe the police need to know. Hersman added “My goal is pretty simple - take care of our people, hold ourselves to a high standard, and provide the kind of service the citizens of our communities expect and deserve.” Mann, who has nearly 15 years with the WVSP, began his career as a trooper in 2012 at the Welch Detachment in McDowell County. He later transferred to the Lewisburg Detachment serving as a trooper before being promoted to Sergeant/Assistant Detachment Commander at the Beckley Detachment. Mann, a Mercer County native, has called Greenbrier County home for the past decade and says he is fully invested in Greenbrier County: “My family and I are here and part of this community, we’ve developed many friends and acquaintances throughout the community. I want to do my part to help this community, build relationships, and be trusted and counted on to help with their problems.”

Lewisburg City Council special meeting

By D.L. Bowles

There was a special meeting of the Lewisburg City Council on Sept. 23. The only item on the agenda was “next steps regarding the Ronceverte water system.”

In August, the Ronceverte City Council approved a $31 million deal to sell the city’s water and wastewater systems to West Virginia American Water Company. To complete the sale, the deal must undergo a comprehensive regulatory review by the West Virginia Public Service Commission. The County Commission has expressed some concern of how the deal may impact residents outside the Ronceverte city limits as well as future infrastructure related development.

After calling the meeting to order, the council moved to executive session to discuss the issue. After an hour-long executive session, the council announced their discussions did not result in any decisions or actions.

WV Hospitals

- $103 million in bad debt - Care provided where payment was expected but the payment was not received.
- $689 million in Medicare and Medicaid shortfalls - the difference between government reimbursement and the actual cost of providing care.

“These figures demonstrate the remarkable commitment West Virginia hospitals make to the people and communities they serve,” Gregory said. “Hospitals continue to invest in programs that improve health, expand access, and provide care to those who need it, even while facing significant financial pressures. At the same time, they remain among West Virginia’s largest employers and economic contributors. Their impact extends well beyond the walls of the hospital, touching families, businesses, and communities throughout the state.”

West Virginia hospitals directly employ nearly 57,000 people, providing $4.78 billion in wages and benefits, while indirectly supporting another 48,500 skilled jobs across the state.

That economic impact comes alongside the essential healthcare services hospitals provide every day. West Virginia hospitals annually account for more than 888,000 emergency department visits, more than 330,000 inpatient stays, 7.4 million outpatient visits and more than 15,000 births.

“An important strength of this report is that it puts real community impact behind these numbers,” Gregory said. “It shows the many ways hospitals are responding to local needs and making services available to people who might otherwise struggle to access them. “The 340B Drug Pricing Program, for example, is an important part of that effort, helping eligible hospitals direct resources toward expanding access to essential services for vulnerable patients and communities.”

The report includes examples from hospitals across West Virginia demonstrating how they are using their resources to meet specific community needs - from expanding access to care and supporting vulnerable populations to partnering with local organizations to address broader health and social needs.

“Our hospitals understand that improving the health of West Virginians requires more than treating patients when they are sick,” Gregory said. “It means working alongside community organizations, employers, policymakers, and other partners to address the factors that influence health every day - from access to food and medications to stable housing and other basic needs. This report tells the story of hospitals that are committed not only to providing exceptional care, but also to working with partners across the state to help build healthier, stronger communities throughout West Virginia.”

Louise Irene Gust Powers

Louise Irene Gust Powers was born in Oceanside, CA in August 1933, and died at home in Lewisburg WV on Sept. 19, 2026.

Louise was a creative, unique, loving woman who kept her sharp sense of humor up until the final days of her life. She is remembered for her generosity, unusual home remedies (mostly involving baking soda), a love for storytelling, and stubborn independence (despite not having driven a car since around 1960). Louise had a caring and nurturing spirit which she turned towards her family, pets, plants, and strong liberal political opinions.

Louise and her husband Gene moved with their two younger children from California to the U.S. Virgin Islands in 1968, where she worked as a nanny at a local hotel and collected various free-spirited folks from the beach near their house. One of these connections inspired Louise and Gene to move to Monroe Co. WV in the early ‘70s during the back-to-the-land movement, and establish a “hippie homestead”; it was there on “The Knobs” that they built a home, raised various crops, animals, and grandchildren, and created lifetime connections with other like-minded folks (cue the chorus of John Prine’s “Spanish Pipe-dream”, with less Jesus and more TV).

Louise lived to see her 93rd birthday, so there were many who moved on before her including her husband of almost 60 years Gene Powers; mother and step-dad Bernie and Bob Cowic, and sisters and brothers-in-law Barbara and Adrian Brown and Marilyn and Bill Lockett. She is survived by her children Mike (Linda) Powers, David Powers, and Cathy (Jim) Johans; grandchildren Mikey (Rosana), Jake, Eli, Nate, Jamie (Steve), Jason (Kelly), and Bryan (Kristen); great-grandchildren Carson, Caleb, Malachi, Joe, Sawyer, Ellie, Izzy, and Myla; daughters of the heart Michelle, Teri, Linda, and Vickie; and many longtime friends including David and Margaret Holz, Susie and Howdy Henritz, David and Sylvia Hawkes, and Ba Rea. Any omission here is the fault of the writer, and not of Louise’s broad capacity for love and care for those close to her.

A celebration of Louise’s life will be held in Lewisburg in November, which will include a private family ceremony at the farm as well as a gathering with friends; details TBD. Donations in Louise’s name can be made to the Greenbrier Humane Society and Lewisburg Food Locker.

The family wishes to extend gratitude to Greenbrier Hospice Care, particularly Stephanie, Patchila, and Mickie, for their support and wisdom.

Margaret Emillie Jack

April 6, 1923 - September 22, 2026 Alderson, WV

Margaret Emillie Young Jack, 103, of Alderson, WV, passed away peacefully on Sept. 22, 2026, at the Peyton Hospice House.

Born in Richwood, WV, in 1923, Margaret was the eldest daughter of 13 children born to Charles and Lenora Persinger Young. After graduating from Richwood High School, she moved to Akron, Ohio. A year later, Charles joined her in Akron, and the two soon became engaged.

Margaret married the love of her life, Rev. Charles Jack, in 1943. In the early years of their marriage, she worked as a sales clerk to support Charles while he attended Alderson Broaddus College. Following his graduation, the couple moved to Kansas, where Margaret continued working at Montgomery Ward while Charles attended Central Baptist Seminary. Together, they began a lifetime of service to the American Baptist Convention.

The couple later returned to West Virginia to serve the Baptist Church in Peterstown. After 14 years, they made their home in Weston before eventually settling in Alderson, where Margaret became a beloved and familiar part of the community.

Throughout her life, Margaret wore many hats - preacher’s wife, restaurant owner, homemaker, biscuit maker at Ross’ Express Station, and Alderson’s beloved “Pie Lady.” She later served in the Foster Grandparent Program at Alderson Elementary School, continuing her work with children until the age of 89.

Margaret was a pillar of her community and will be remembered for her generosity, kindness, grace, and unwavering spirit. She never seemed to meet a person who could not use a little extra kindness. Whether preparing a warm meal for someone in need, making pies, sharing a homemade biscuit, or giving children at school a little money for ice cream, Margaret gave freely and expected nothing in return.

Her greatest legacy, however, was the love she gave to her family. She was the cherished matriarch of her family, a faithful friend, a compassionate neighbor, and a woman whose life reflected the faith she held so dearly. Her kindness touched generations, and the lessons she taught through the way she lived will continue through those who loved her.

Margaret was preceded in death by her parents, her beloved husband of 68 years, Rev. Charles Jack; an infant son, Charles; sons Malcolm and Wallace; brothers Virgil (Eula), John (Millie), Frank “Bob”, Charles (Peg), Ed, and Henry (Martha); sisters Lorena (Jack) Hedrick, Clara Edrington, Betty Young, Carol “Sue” (Jack) Lowe, Emily (Joe) Moore, and Annabelle (Kelly) Asbury; sister-in-law Annabelle Jack (Marvin) Waters; and grandson-in-law Butler Brown.

She is survived by her daughter, Merriam, and her husband, JJ Cole; beloved grandchildren JJ (Leann) Cole, Tish Brown, and Amanda (Charley) DePriest; great-grandchildren Aiden Cole, Kinsley Cole, Charley DePriest, John DePriest, and Griffin Brown; a special niece whom she raised, Kaye (Buddy) Miller; sister-in-law Bonnie Asbury; and numerous nieces, nephews, extended family members, and friends who were blessed to know her.

Margaret’s life was a testament to faith, family, and the simple power of kindness. She leaves behind a legacy that cannot be measured in years alone, but in the lives she touched, the love she gave, and the memories she leaves with those who will forever carry her in their hearts.

She lived faithfully. She loved generously. She served humbly. And she was ready to go home.

Graveside service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 2, at Old Greenbrier Cemetery, Monroe St., Alderson, WV.

Pallbearers will be family and friends.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Peyton Hospice House 1265 Maplewood Avenue Lewisburg, WV, 24901 or Alderson Elementary School PTO Ice Cream Friday, 135 Lee Street North Alderson, WV 24910.

Morgan Funeral Home is serving the family. Online guestbook may be signed at www.morganfh.net.

WVSOM receives ‘Great College to Work For’ recognition for 11th time

BThe West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine (WVSOM) was recognized for the 11th time as a Great College to Work For in The Chronicle of Higher Education’s annual report on academic workplaces.

The 2026 report recognizes WV-SOM in five categories: job satisfaction and support; compensation and benefits; professional and career development programs; mission and pride; and faculty experience.

WVSOM is also included on the publication’s Honor Roll for the ninth time, a distinction awarded to institutions that are cited most often across all categories.

Of the 171 institutions participating in the 2026 Great Colleges to Work For survey, 76 received recognition and 42 received Honor Roll distinction. The survey, administered by ModernThink, an organizational development and management consulting firm, asked faculty and staff of WVSOM and other higher education institutions to evaluate their workplace through a series of questions.

Results are reported for small, medium and large institutions, with WVSOM included among small institutions - those with 500 to 2,999 students. With its Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine and Master of Science in Biomedical Sciences programs combined, WVSOM enrolls more than 870 students each academic year.

James W. Nemitz, Ph.D., WVSOM’s president, is the school’s longest-serving employee, with 40 years of service. Nemitz said he is pleased that the school is known as an institution where people find their work to be satisfying.

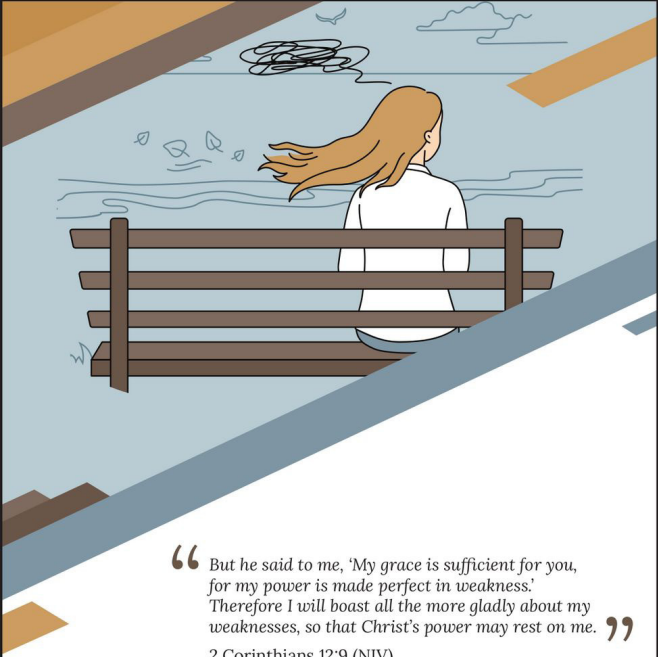

“What makes this recognition especially meaningful is that it comes from our employees,” he said. “When our people tell The Chronicle of Higher Education that WVSOM is a great place to work, it lets us know we’ve created an environment where they feel productive and have opportunities to grow. I believe that maintaining a workplace where talented people want to build careers is an essential part of educating tomorrow’s physicians.” WVSOM has a history of employee longevity. The school currently has 313 employees, with 137 (44%) having served the institution for at least 10 years, 37 (12%) for at least 20 years and 10 (3%) for at least 30 years.

Leslie Bicksler, the school’s chief human resources officer, said WVSOM has fostered a sense of connectedness and collaboration among those who work to make the school a leader in medical education.

“WVSOM has some of the best employees anywhere,” Bicksler said. “Our faculty and staff care deeply about our students, our mission and one another. They bring creativity, dedication and a willingness to work together that makes WVSOM a special place. Being recognized again as a Great College to Work For reflects the culture they have created and sustained. It is a place where people are valued, supported and empowered to make a difference every day.”

Beauty in Imperfection

One succinct way to characterize the fall season is “imperfect,” and this is actually a great thing. Whereas some may characterize the winter by the even sheets of snow that fall to the ground, or summer by the perfectly bright and clear weather days, fall is quite different. In the fall, you might see foggy or cloudy days and the imperfections of the leaves that fall from the trees. Sometimes they are piled up with many other leaves of differing shapes and sizes, all having marks that tell their story, whether it be a freshly fallen leaf or one that has been on the ground for some time. Despite these imperfections of the season, so many people appreciate these sights of fall. From the brisk, sometimes cloudy days to the piles of freshly fallen and old leaves, feelings of comfort and gratitude are often brought by the season. In this same way, we can find comfort in and gratitude for our abilities, and ultimately, imperfections, through this comparison. We sometimes feel that we are called to be perfect, but cannot forget that our imperfections are a part of all of us, and that beauty and goodness can still come from them, just as in the fall season.

–James Stone

Dear Recycle Lady,
What is recycled water? I can’t imagine reusing water!

Interested

Dear Interested,
Recycled water, also called reused or reclaimed water, is highly treated wastewater. The recycling process involves advanced treatment methods to remove harmful organisms and impurities in order to make it suitable for reuse. Water from sinks and showers, as well as industrial processes, domestic sewage and stormwater runoff can be treated and used for other purposes such as irrigation for agriculture, golf courses, landscapes, ground water replenishment, and even potable water supply. Recycled water that is to be used for drinking must meet all regulations required of water utilities. Water recycling is good for the natural environment as it reduces the demand for freshwater sources like rivers and lakes and can reduce water scarcity in drought-prone regions. According to <https://pollution.sustainability-directory.com>, it is a shift from a linear ‘take-use-dispose’ water model to a more circular and sustainable approach.

Dear Recycle Lady,
What exactly is a carbon footprint?

Need Information

Dear Need Information,
According to nature.org, a carbon footprint is the total amount of greenhouse gases (including carbon dioxide (CO2) and methane (CH4)) that are generated by our actions and activities. Sometimes called the greenhouse footprint, your carbon footprint can be measured with a carbon footprint calculator. They can be found on several sites, such www.nature.org/en-us/get-involved/how-to-help/carbon-footprint-calculator. The average carbon footprint for someone living in the U.S. is 16 tons a year, which is one of the highest rates in the world. We can all lower our carbon footprint by making small changes in our lifestyle: walking short distances instead of driving, eating locally grown produce instead of produce that uses fuel to be brought in, and taking shorter showers which uses less hot water, thus less energy to heat the water.

Dear Recycle Lady,
What is single stream recycling? Is it used at the Recycling Center in Ronceverte?

Puzzled Recycler

Dear Puzzled Recycler,
Single stream recycling was introduced in the mid-1990s as a way to put all recyclables in a single bag, with no sorting required. In other words, all paper, metals, plastics, aluminum, cardboard, junk mail, and any other recyclable items were all put in the same bag and taken to a recycling center. Large cities have dedicated equipment that sorts all these recyclables and places them in the proper bins. However, the Recycling Center doesn’t have this very expensive equipment or the number of employees necessary to sort mixed recyclables. Thus, any bags of mixed recyclables that are left at the Center are sent to the landfill.

Interesting Information – Ocean coral is not made up of rocks. It is made up of animals called coral polyps! These tiny animals make up the oceans coral reefs; a large underwater ecosystem. Often called “rainforests of the sea,” these reefs support a huge variety of marine life and help protect coastlines from waves and storms.

Have questions about recycling, or interesting information about recycling? Send questions or requests recycleladywv@gmail.com. Dear Recycle Lady is sponsored jointly by the Greenbrier Recycling Center and Greenworks Recycling

A Look Back

Sources: The Miami Herald, The Miami News, Time Magazine, Episcopal Archives, Detail and Punish = Haitian Refugees and the Rise of the World’s Largest Immigration System by Carl Lindskoog.

By William “Skip” Deegans
In 1981-82, the women’s federal prison in Alderson participated in a brief, but sad, chapter in the United States’ immigration history. Beginning in the 1970s, men and women began fleeing Haiti to escape the brutal dictatorship of Jean-Claude ‘Baby Doc’ Duvalier. Known as “boat people,” refugees left Haiti for the United States in overcrowded and rickety boats. Some boats capsized and bodies floated onto Florida beaches. Haitian refugees who reached the United States were allowed to apply for political asylum under the policies of President Jimmy Carter’s administration. However, after Ronald Reagan became president, policies changed and refugees were sent to detention camps in the Florida Everglades. Civil rights leader, Rev. Jesse Jackson, accused the Reagan Administration of being prejudiced toward Haitian refugees. In 1980, 1,800 Haitian Refugees were moved from Florida detention facilities to prisons, including Alderson’s federal prison for women. Following a yearlong legal battle by human rights activists, on July 23, 1982, a court ordered a controlled released of the refugees from federal prisons and naturalization sites. The Episcopal Church’s Bishop’s Fund for World Relief sent field staff to the Alderson prison. The staff along with local volunteers found sponsors would provide housing, food, clothing, and household expenses for each refugee. Each woman was assigned an attorney to help with an asylum application. All the women were released.

CARNEGIE HALL ANNOUNCES

Fall Wheel Throwing Clay for Beginners Course

Carnegie Hall is delighted to open registration for its Fall 2026 Wheel Throwing Clay for Beginners class, a hands on introduction to wheel thrown ceramics led by regional artist and instructor Sean O’Connell. The seven session course meets on Tuesdays, Sept. 29; Oct. 6, 13, 20, 27; and Nov. 3 and 17, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. There will be no class on Nov. 10.

This engaging studio experience welcomes teens and adults age 16 and up. Participants will learn how to prepare clay for throwing, center clay on the potter’s wheel, and create foundational vessel forms including cylinders, bowls, and plates. The class also introduces glazing and finishing techniques, giving students a complete start to finish understanding of working with earth based clay. With a maximum class size of eight, each student receives individualized guidance in a supportive, creativity focused environment where having fun is part of the process.

Wheel Throwing Clay for Beginners is offered as part of Carnegie Hall’s ongoing Classes & Workshops program, which provides enriching learning opportunities each spring and fall. These small group experiences are designed to inspire learners of all ages, and early registration is encouraged due to limited space.Tuition for the course is $225 for Carnegie Hall members and $250 for nonmembers. Scholarships are available, and adults aged 50 and over may enroll for just $95. Students who already have a grasp of basic wheel techniques are invited to explore Wheel, Too!, the intermediate six week series offered separately.

Fall 2026 ‘Wheel, Too!’ Intermediate Throwing Clay Series

Carnegie Hall is pleased to announce its Fall 2026 Wheel, Too! Intermediate Throwing Clay course, an in depth ceramics series designed for students ready to expand their foundational wheel throwing skills. Led by regional ceramic artist Sean O’Connell, the seven session class meets on Thursdays, Oct. 1, 8, 15, 22, 29, and Nov. 5 and 19, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. There will be no class on Nov. 12.

Created in response to strong community interest, this intermediate level series builds directly on the techniques introduced in Carnegie Hall’s beginner course. Participants will explore more advanced methods, including throwing larger forms, collaring, creating closed form vessels, working with throwing ribs, constructing two part vessels, and throwing off the hump. The class offers a supportive studio environment where students can challenge themselves, refine their craft, and enjoy progressing into new creative territory with clay.

Students enrolling in Wheel, Too! should already have basic wheel experience, including the ability to center clay, throw simple cylinders and bowls, and trim their work. With a maximum class size of eight, participants benefit from individualized instruction and ample hands on time at the wheel.

Carnegie Hall’s Second Stage Series presents Appalachian Acoustic

Carnegie Hall’s Second Stage Series will present Appalachian Acoustic on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. in the Old Stone Room, offering an intimate, in the round evening with three acclaimed West Virginia songwriters - Mary Dailey, Ron Sowell, and Aristotle Jones. This special program invites audiences into a close up experience of original music and storytelling shaped by the hills, hollers, traditions, and lived histories of the Mountain State. The Old Stone Room’s warm, close knit atmosphere provides the ideal setting for a night where authenticity, artistry, and connection take center stage.

Appalachian Acoustic brings together three distinctive voices whose work reflects the breadth and richness of West Virginia’s musical landscape. Through songs rooted in personal experience, cultural heritage, and decades of creative exploration, Dailey, Sowell, and Jones offer audiences a heartfelt journey into the stories that define Appalachian life. Their combined perspectives - spanning folk traditions, soul infused mountain music, and the legacy of one of public radio’s most beloved programs - create a dynamic and deeply resonant evening.

Ron Sowell is best known as the longtime Music Director of NPR’s Mountain Stage, where his leadership and musicianship have shaped the sound of the internationally broadcast program for more than four decades. A multi-instrumentalist, producer, and celebrated singer songwriter, Sowell has toured extensively across the United States and abroad, sharing stages with artists from every genre. His songwriting blends warmth, insight, and finely honed craft, offering listeners a rich portrait of a life dedicated to music. Beyond his work on Mountain Stage, Sowell has released multiple albums, taught songwriting workshops, and contributed to countless collaborative projects that highlight his versatility and enduring influence.

Mary Dailey is a performer, songwriter, and teaching artist whose work is deeply rooted in Appalachian tradition. Drawing inspiration from folk ballads, Celtic melodies, and the storytelling heritage passed down through generations, Dailey’s music carries a timeless quality that resonates across audiences. As half of the duo Lark in the Holler, she has performed throughout West Virginia and beyond, weaving songs that honor the land, its people, and the cultural threads that bind them. Dailey is also a dedicated educator, sharing her love of traditional music with students of all ages and helping preserve the region’s artistic legacy through workshops, performances, and community engagement.

Aristotle Jones, widely known as the “Appalachian Soul Man,” brings a powerful blend of soul, folk, blues, and mountain roots to the stage. His work shines a light on the often overlooked stories of Black Appalachian musicians, celebrating resilience, groove, and cultural pride. Jones has become a leading voice in the movement to broaden and reclaim the narrative of Appalachian identity, using music as a bridge between generations and communities. His dynamic performances, rich vocals, and commitment to cultural storytelling have earned him recognition across the region, including multiple awards and appearances at festivals, concert halls, and heritage events. Jones’s artistry uplifts the diverse voices that have shaped Appalachian music for centuries.
Tickets for Appalachian Acoustic are $20 for adults and $10 for students, with general admission seating. Guests are encouraged to arrive early for Club Carnegie, sponsored by Smooth Ambler, open from 6 to 6:45 p.m. and offering a cash bar and light snacks. Carnegie Hall also provides discounts for members, seniors, military, and students. Thanks to the Carnegie Cardinal Fund, Greenbrier County students in grades K-12 receive free entry while funds last.
Carnegie Hall WV is a nonprofit organization supported by individual contributions, grants, and fundraising efforts such as TOOT and The Carnegie Hall Gala.

Carnegie Hall’s Museum Gallery showcases artist Melanie Myhre

“The Meadow Of Remembered Light” by Melanie Myhre

Carnegie Hall is pleased to present multidisciplinary artist Melanie Myhre as one of the featured September/October Artwalk artists. The Museum Gallery exhibition is free and open to the public, running through Oct. 30, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Visitors are encouraged to explore all four galleries as part of the Carnegie Hall ArtWalk.

Myhre works in both photography and painting, creating evocative, dream infused imagery shaped by intuition, emotion, and a deep reverence for the natural world. Her exhibition invites viewers into a world where memory, imagination, and experiences converge.

Her photographic work is known for its immersive, in camera approach. Rather than relying on composites, she uses thoughtful post processing to craft scenes that feel both dreamlike and true to life. Often portraying women in nature, her photographs explore themes of femininity, strength, and the landscapes that shaped her own childhood - prairies, forests, and quiet wild spaces that continue to inform her creative voice.

In contrast, Myhre’s paintings emerge entirely from memory and imagination. She intentionally avoids reference photos, allowing her painting practice to remain distinct from her photography. Entering a flow state, she lets imagery surface organically, resulting in deeply personal works rooted in archetypal stories, recurring dreams, and the emotional textures of inner life. Together, her two mediums reveal the extraordinary within the ordinary, offering viewers a layered, symbolic, and quietly alive experience.

Myhre’s work has been featured in numerous publications and industry platforms, including Sony Alpha Universe and Sigma Corporation. She has contributed to books available through Amazon and Barnes & Noble and is a recipient of the Sony Alpha Female Micro Grant, recognizing her artistic excellence and creative innovation.

Outside the studio, Myhre enjoys reading, gardening, hiking, traveling with her husband, watching sci fi and fantasy films, playing pickleball, and learning Japanese - pursuits that echo the curiosity and wonder present throughout her work.

Carnegie Hall programs are presented with financial assistance through a grant from the West Virginia Department of Tourism and the National Endowment for the Arts, with approval from the West Virginia Commission on the Arts.

COGNITIVE DECLINE RISK AWARENESS & HEARING HEALTH DECISIONS

A 25-year study shows hearing aid use can reduce the progression of cognitive decline in older adults.

Using your hearing, just like exercising a muscle, makes it stronger and more effective. Reduced hearing stimulation due to untreated hearing loss can lead to atrophy of functional brain pathways. This can negatively impact hearing ability and speech comprehension and may increase the risk of dementia.
